ROOSEVELT TO ASK RE-ELECTION ON WET PLANK

Al Smith Slated to Nominate Him.

Southampton, L. I., Aug. 4.—[Special]—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt will stand on a "dripping wet" plank in the Democratic state platform in his campaign for reëlection and will seek to make a leading issue of electric and other public utility rates.

This much seemed to have been determined today by the governor at a conference with former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, John J. Raskob, and other party chiefs here.

Rôle Al Smith Will Play.

The governor is understood to have informed some of Mr. Smith's friends that he would like to have Mr. Smith place him in nomination at the convention, thus reciprocating in part for the two occasions on which Gov. Roosevelt placed Mr. Smith in nomination for the presidency.

Many of those at the meeting expressed belief that the matter had been settled and that Mr. Smith would accept the prominent part for which he has been cast.

The declaration of the party's position on prohibition is understood to have been one of the principal topics discussed. The general belief after the conference was that the plank would be "dripping wet," despite reports that Gov. Roosevelt, with an eye to up state territory and the presidential nomination in 1932, might be inclined to have his party refrain from too great an emphasis upon its traditional wet attitude in this state.

Amend 18th Amendment.

The plank, it was indicated, probably would declare for the amendment of the eighteenth amendment to permit each state to control the manufacture and sale of liquor within its borders, while leaving to the federal government the duty of protecting in their aridity those states choosing to be dry.

This, in substance, was the position taken by Mr. Smith in his speech accepting the Democratic nomination for President and stressed by United States Senators Robert F. Wagner and Royal S. Copeland, in their speeches at the Independence day meeting at Tammany Hall.

Senator Wagner is slated to make the "keynote" speech as temporary chairman of the convention and he is expected to outline in it the party position on prohibition, which afterward will be promulgated in the platform.

Utility Rate Reduction.

The governor, in seeking to make public utility rates a leading issue, is convinced of a widespread public interest in rate reductions and rate structures. According to his intimates, he is of the opinion that the present negotiations between the New York Edison company and the public service commission may furnish the keynote for changes which will be followed not only in this state but throughout the nation.

The governor's main concern in the utility question now, it was indicated, is that no precedent be set in the New York Edison company negotiations for making rate reductions conditional upon the fixing of service or meter charges.

G. O. P. Wets Stand Pat.

New York, Aug. 4.—[Special.]—The wets will accept no compromise on a prohibition plank at the Republican state convention in September, but will insist upon a declaration for repeal of the 18th amendment.

James W. Wadsworth, former United States senator, head of the New York state branch of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, let this be known today after an hour and a half conference with William J. Maier, Republican state chairman. The conference was on invitation of Mr. Maier, who has been trying to bring about an agreement of some sort between the wet and dry wings of the party.

KANSAS VOTES TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—The Republican governorship battle between Gov. Clyde M. Reed, foremost opponent of the proposal of Alexander Legge, head of the federal farm board for curtailment of wheat acreage in Kansas, the premier wheat state, and Frank (Chief) Haucke, ex-state commander of the Legion, is the center of tomorrow's primaries, the hottest in twenty years. Boy Shot by Cop in Row at Park Pool

Fourteen year old James Hickey, 2718 Fulton street, was shot and critically wounded yesterday by West Park Policeman Robert Anderson, 71 years old, a member of the department for 22 years, who claimed his revolver was accidentally discharged. The bullet lodged in the boy's chest. He was taken to the Garfield Park hospital, where it was reported he may die.

The shooting occurred at the Garfield park swimming pool. Throngs of children strained at the guard lines during the day awaiting their turn at the water. Late in the afternoon, as one group of children was leaving the pool at the expiration of their period in the water and another was waiting to get in, several boys from the first group attempted to steal in with the second. A shout went up from members of the second group.

Stones Hurled at Policeman.

Policeman Anderson hurried forward to restore peace. The offending boys ran and he gave chase. A stone was flung at him. Others followed. Witnesses said the policeman drew his revolver and threatened the boys. The gun was discharged and Hickey fell.

Anderson was taken to the Fillmore street station.

"When I chased the boys, several of them surrounded me and took my revolver out of the holster," he said. "I took the revolver away from them and was about to fire into the air to frighten them when I tripped on a stone. The revolver was accidentally discharged. I saw the boy running away and he did not look as though he had been hit."

Witnesses are Questioned.

Police were unable to obtain a full statement from the wounded boy. Witnesses were taken to the Fillmore station for questioning. Capt. William Schram of the west park police ordered Anderson, who resides at 3114 North Sacramento boulevard and is the father of three children, temporarily suspended and held at the Garfield park station pending the outcome of the boy's condition.

The shooting was the second of its kind within a year by west park police. Several months ago a colored west park policeman shot and killed a 17 year old youth who ran through a stop light in an automobile.

Boy, 13, Killed When He Steps in Front of Train

Charles W. Alcock, 13 years old, was fatally injured last night when he stepped in front of a northbound Rock Island suburban train at 111th street while on the way to his home at 2218 West 110th street. The lad, who was eating an ice cream cone and apparently did not see the train, died as Morgan Park police were taking him to the Little Company of Mary hospital.

T. O. WALLACE SAVES WOMAN FROM DROWNING

Thomas O. Wallace, clerk of the Circuit court, last night saved Miss Hattie P. Koch, 1651 Nagle street, a Chicago school teacher, from drowning after she was seized with an attack of cramps while swimming at Wallace beach, near Muskegon, Mich. Mr. Wallace, who has a cottage near the beach, heard screams and ran half a mile to her rescue. She was revived after two hours of resuscitation efforts. Mr. Wallace is well known in politics and public life and formerly was a north side alderman.

2 DEATHS BRING DEMAND FOR FREE TETANUS SERUM

With two deaths occurring from tetanus in Kane county, the Elgin Physicians' club yesterday was spurred in its campaign for legislation to provide free distribution of anti-tetanus serum by the state. The lockjaw victims were William Hitzeman, 44 years old, a farm hand of Rutland, who died after stepping on a rusty nail, and Mrs. Fred J. Puffpaff, 45 years old, a housewife of East Dundee. Mrs. Puffpaff developed tetanus from a cut suffered when she struck her head against a cherry tree branch.

Dry Head Asks Nation to Quit Buying Liquor

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Prohibition Director Amos W. W. Woodcock in a radio speech tonight broadcast an appeal to citizens who violate the dry law to help the new prohibition bureau by ceasing to patronize their bootleggers.

"I ask the support of all citizens," declared Director Woodcock. "To those who have been making the unlawful traffic possible by affording a market for the contraband, may I suggest, simply and in no sense officiously—for the decision is yours—is the opportunity to obtain a drink of liquor in an unlawful way comparable in importance to you to the opportunity to contribute to the ideal of a law abiding nation?

"To the great mass of American men and women I say, give us your sympathy and help. After all who can object to a fair, honest, earnest and lawful enforcement of a law of the land?"

Mr. Woodcock's speech, broadcast over a national broadcasting company network, served to further strengthen the belief that the federal government will keep hands off individual dry law violators, confining its activities to the commercial traffic and to the use of persuasion rather than force upon private citizens.

"I shall insist that a steady pressure be maintained against commercial violations," the dry director continued. "Without sensations, without beating of drums, we will exert a steady, unrelenting pressure against the outlaw liquor traffic until it is driven from the land or our last drop of energy expended."

SUCCESS WAITS ON 16TH FLOOR; JUMPS FROM 15TH

Boston, Mass., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Success, long sought and worked for, was on the sixteenth floor of the Statler building here today awaiting Samuel Grossman. Grossman jumped from a window ledge on the fifteenth floor and was killed.

Grossman, formerly a playwright and poet in Philadelphia and New York, but living with his father-in-law here for several months, was ignorant of the fact that a radio feature he had conceived had been accepted by officials of a radio station in the building. In fact, they had awaited him eagerly to tell him his success was assured and only an audition test of his voice remained necessary.

Police investigators believed that Grossman did not have confidence in himself and rather than risk a rebuff had leaped from the window.

John L. Clark, program director at the radio studio, said that Grossman's feature had been tried out by players in Springfield and they had pronounced it a sensational success.

116,500 BACK TO THEIR JOBS IN AUTO PLANTS

Five Concerns Begin Operations.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The wheels of factories in the Detroit area turned again today as 116,500 employés returned to work after midsummer vacations.

Reports of the ending of the vacation-inventory period and the resumption of operations came from five concerns in the automotive field. The Ford company announced that 100,000 employés were returned to work in the Rouge and Allied plants on a four day a week basis. The Oakland Motor Car company called back 5,300 workers; Timken-Detroit Axle company resumed operation with a pay roll of 2,000; the Graham-Paige Motor corporation called back 1,150, and the Packard Motor Car company, 8,500.

Most of the employés returned at lighter schedules than they were working before the lay-off, but plant officials said they expected that production would gradually climb. The reduction of the employé roster and production schedules ranges from 20 per cent to 50 per cent as compared with a year ago.

More Men than Last Year.

The General Motors Truck company reported that it had had no lay-offs and was employing 3,756 men, as compared with 3,154 last year.

All the reporting factories with the exception of the Ford Motor company had laid off their employés for two weeks. The latter had a three weeks' vacation.

Only the Ford Motor company gave out definite figures regarding production schedules. Officials of the Ford company said today that the Rouge plant started production of 8,000 cars and trucks a day.

New Jersey Plant Resumes.

Kearny, N. J., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Ford Motor company assembly plant will resume normal output tomorrow when 3,500 men will return to work after a vacation, which started July 25. Charles M. Seyffer, manager of the plant, said today normal operation would continue until the removal in about two months to the company's new plant at Edgewater. The number of cars to be turned out at the new plant will more than double the number turned out at Kearny last year, officials said.

1,800 Shopmen Back to Work.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 4.—(AP)—More than 1,800 employés of the New York Central railroad repair shops here returned to work today after a two weeks' layoff.

D. R. MacBain, general manager of the Cleveland division, said similar return to work orders had been issued all along the New York Central lines, affecting 6,000 men. The Cleveland shops will begin at once repairing rolling stock in anticipation of increases in fall business, MacBain said.

Frisco Shopmen Return.

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 4.—(AP)—About 1,000 employés of the Frisco railway's locomotive and coach shops here returned to work today. Officials said they were hopeful of preventing future shutdowns this year. It was announced that clerks throughout the Frisco system had voted against a five day week if it meant a reduction in pay.

Even Workers in Spain Return.

BARCELONA, Spain, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Ford Motor company branch here, which dropped 600 workers last week fearing it might be compelled to suspend the assembling of Ford automobiles in Spain because of the new high tariff rates, today decided to take back 150 of the men.

Novice Driver, Her Son and Mentor Killed

A young housewife, her small son, and a neighbor, who had volunteered to give her driving instructions, were killed by a Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad train last night at an unguarded crossing a mile north of Gurnee in northern Lake county.

The dead are Mrs. Goldie Bell Morgan, 24 years old, 1024 North Butrick street, Waukegan; her 3 year old son, Kenneth, and their next door neighbor, Carl Gerloff, 29 years old, who had a wife and four children of his own.

The husband of the dead woman, James Morgan, a shipping clerk, had negotiated the purchase of a used car. While he was away from home after supper completing the deal last evening, Gerloff called at the Morgan home and offered to teach Mrs. Morgan to drive. Her older son, Arthur, remained at home.

Woman Takes the Wheel.

Gerloff took his own car and was at the wheel when they started west along the concrete highway towards Gurnee. There, it was assumed, he and Mrs. Morgan exchanged places as they took the little traveled gravel road to the northeast.

The train, a north bound express, was traveling 55 miles an hour when the collision occurred. Gerloff was alive when trainmen lifted him from the wreckage after the train halted a quarter mile north of the crossing. He died half an hour later in the Victory Memorial hosiptal, Waukegan.

Wife Leaps from Car.

Another young housewife, Mrs. James Grangiorg, 18 years old, lay near death in the Lake County General hospital last night as a result of her determination to curb her husband's craving for speed.

Driving north from their home in Highwood, Mrs. Grangiorg threatened to get out and walk unless her spouse drove more slowly. He stepped on the accelarator, police said, whereupon the wife jumped out of the machine racing 50 miles an hour. Her skull was fractured.

Two Chicagoans Killed.

Two Chicagoans were fatally injured in automobile accidents yesterday. Their deaths increased the county motor toll this year to 570. The victims:

James Morella, 19 years old, 1676 Clarendon avenue. Died in the Edgewater hospital of a skull fracture suffered when his car collided at Damen and Balmoral avenues with a machine driven by Reynholdt Moder, 2329 Berwyn avenue. Summerdale police held Moder.

Lawrence Meyr, 15 years old, 9932 Vincennes avenue. Hurled off his father's truck when another car struck it at 99th street and Prospect avenue. Young Meyr suffered internal injuries which resulted in his death last night at the Little Company of Mary hospital. Morgan Park police are holding the other driver, Armand Chiappori, 9439 Vernon avenue.

ROBBER AND GIRL DRAW GUNS; BIND DOCTOR AND WIFE

Dr. William H. Starr and his wife, Blanche, were bound and robbed by a colored man and woman in the doctor's office at 133 E. 43d street last night. Seventy grains of morphine were taken from his medicine cabinet.

The colored man entered carrying a small satchel, followed by a young colored woman. He asked that the girl be examined. As the doctor turned to get his instruments the robber took three revolvers from his bag, one of which he handed to his companion. They forced their victims to lie on the floor where they bound them with rags.

RAIN AND LAKE BREEZE BREAK HEAT IN CHICAGO

Drought Still Bakes Midwest Crops.

Nebraska Cloudburst

Tekamah, Neb., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—A gale, followed by a cloudburst, struck this vicinity tonight. Within an hour seven inches of rain fell between here and Craig. In spots the fall was nine inches. Crops were flattened and culverts flooded. It was the first considerable rain here in more than a month.

While Chicago enjoyed a respite last evening from a hot spell now grown to the proportions of one of the severest in history, nature continued her own drastic solution of the farm surplus problem as 100 degree temperatures and drought remained unbroken over the middle west.

A morning thunder shower and an evening breeze off the lake spared Chicago the 100 degree temperatures which scorched the central and eastern states. Four persons died as a result of the heat before the reaction came, however.

Following the hottest night in sixteen years in the city, with the average thermometer reading of 85, the thunder shower tumbled the temperature from 82 at 7 a. m. to 74 at 10 o'clock. Though clouds obscured the sun after the rain, the thermometer climbed again, attaining its maximum of 91 at 2 o'clock.

Wind Shift Cools City.

Then the wind shifted and the temperature fell 10 degrees in two hours. The night readings were in the 70's and the forecast for today was fair with little change in temperature.

Yesterday's weather victims, all of whom succumbed to heart disease aggravated by the high temperature, were Martin Newak, 29 years old, 943 Ashland avenue; William Erdman, 60 years old, 3835 Montrose avenue; Max Heidelmeier, 58 years old, 2333 Forest avenue, River Grove, and Sven Nelson, 74 years old, 6426 North Clark street.

Predicts Milk Shortage.

The drought, for weeks a source of worry to farmers, may soon become the concern of Chicago housewives. With pasture lands burned brown and the corn crop shriveled beyond the point of providing winter fodder for cattle, a milk shortage is in prospect for midwestern cities, in the opinion of William F. Schilling, dairy member of the federal farm board.

Interviewed in Washington yesterday, Mr. Schilling said a milk shortage has become inevitable and a milk famine not beyond possibility. The present scarcity of rain will be reflected in fall prices of butter, cheese, and other dairy products, he predicted.

Scattered Rains Forecast.

Harassed farmers gained no comfort from last night's general forecast. Scant and scattered rains are possible in the south and central portions of Illinois and Indiana and the extreme south portion of Missouri, but elsewhere in the central states the sun will continue the destructive work which already has lopped an estimated 460,000,000 bushels off the normal yield of corn.

The first considerable rain in five weeks fell last night in central Nebraska, but the precipitation was local.

Corn Damage Irreparable.

THE TRIBUNE correspondent in Sioux City, Ia., consulting twenty agricultural agents in northwestern Iowa, northeastern Nebraska and southeastern South Dakota yesterday, found the agents agreed that the drought damage to corn and other grains has now become irreparable.

B. W. Tillman of Belleville, Ill., farm adviser for St. Clair county, estimated a $1,000,000 drought damage to truck farmers alone in his county and figures the county corn crop damage at $1,800,000. Southwestern St. Clair county has had no rain for six weeks.

Illinois as a whole has had only 54 per cent of the normal rainfall for the period between March and July, the department of agriculture has computed. Missouri has had 55 per cent; Indiana, 57 per cent, and Kentucky, 52 per cent.

Forest fires, resulting from the protracted drought in the Cumberland mountains, had burned over 14,000 acres in the vicinity of Cumberland, Md., yesterday, destroying much timber and killing wild game. In the northern part of West Virginia water was selling at a nickel a glass, the As-

August Brings Rare Bargains in Furs

Last winter thousands of trappers set out in the snow to gather in the raw materials for America's 1930 half billion dollar fur business. When the traps were cleared, it was found the catch on the whole was abundant and of good quality.

When the pelts came along to market, in the early spring, they brought from 1-5 to 1-3 less per pelt than the previous year's catch had. Furriers insisted upon lower prices because they knew that with silk stockings and coffee reduced so much, American women would expect lower prices for good furs this year.

Furriers indicate that they are passing on to the consumer the full savings on skins and something more. Regular fall fur prices will be the lowest in many seasons.

To induce early buying, Chicago stores cut their prices still further for the August fur sales which are now running. Fur coats are being offered at prices that are 25% on the average, and more in some cases, below the lowest prices offered for similar garments last year. It's a great year to buy a fur coat. To save most, right now is the time to buy it.

CAPITAL IS ALARMED

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Cumulative reports of the effects of hot, dry weather throughout the United States today brought to the government the realization that a drought of catastrophic proportions has settled over the entire country, threatening the milk supply of the nation and bringing stock growers face to face with the problem of a shortage of corn.

The picture was sketched to President Hoover today by Louis J. Taber of Columbus, O., master of the National Grange, who asked the diversion of as much as possible of the $125,000,000 federal road appropriation to rural districts in order that some employment may be found by farmers.

FARMERS PLEAD FOR JOBS

Wilmington, O., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Driven to desperation by failure of their crops because of the drought, more than 200 Clinton county farmers appealed to the county commissioners for work today to enable them to buy food for their families.

After listening to their pleas, the commissioners ordered that $100,000 worth of road work contemplated for later in the season be started immediately and the men put to work.

For the last ten days the farmers had been appealing to the commissioners individually for work and received promise of work when road improvements were started later. Today, they came en masse in rattletrap automobiles and on foot. They chose Erskin R. Hayes, secretary of the Wilmington Automobile club, as their spokesman. He led them to the courthouse.

Most of the delegation were tenant farmers and farm laborers from the southern section of the county, and under the most favorable conditions crops in that section are barely sufficient to maintain the families. They depend to a great extent upon truck gardens which have been completely burned up by the drought.

Children Without Milk.

In most instances there are large families of children who were said to have been existing for weeks on the most meager food. Milch cows, lacking pasturage, had ceased to furnish milk for the families.

There has been only a scant rainfall in that section since early spring and conditions there were said to be the worst in the state.

The commissioners said this evening that the farmers will be put to work hauling gravel and limestone to the roads where it will be dumped until the roadbeds can be put in condition to receive it.

When the commissioners announced their decision to give the farmers work, a mighty shout went up and they all but carried their spokesman from the building on their shoulders.

WHEAT FOR CATTLE

BY PAUL POTTER.

Chairman Alexander Legge of the federal farm board added his advice to that of several western agricultural colleges and the United States department of agriculture yesterday when he counseled the farmers to feed wheat to livestock in the place of corn at the existing prices.

His explanation of the unusual situation, in which farmers face a severe shortage of corn, hay and pasture as the record drought runs on unchecked, was made in a statement broadcast over the radio here yesterday noon, during a recess in a meeting of members of the farm board in Chicago.

Threatens Live Stock Losses.

"The present severe drought has reached a point where the shortage of feed and forage threatens serious losses to livestock growers and dairymen over a wide area."

"The price of wheat has reached the point where we can and should consider wheat from the standpoint of its value as a feed for live stock. Much as we may object to disposing of high quality wheat as feed for live stock instead of for human consumption, common sense tells us it is the thing to do, confronted as we are with a national shortage of several hundred million bushels of corn and a surplus of wheat selling at very low prices."

Mr. Legge will leave for Montana tomorrow evening.

LAKES OVERFLOW AS RIVER BARGES STRIKE SANDBAR

Report Diversion Cut Is Low Water Factor.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Taking a national viewpoint of the lake diversion controversy at this season, it appears that the policy of the government has resulted in giving the citizens who use the great lakes more water than they need, at the same time depriving the manufacturers and farmers of the Mississippi valley of sufficient water to float their cargoes to the sea.

With the Mississippi at a new low water mark and towboats struck on the sandbars from Alton down to Cairo, an effort was made yesterday to find out if lake water diversion at Chicago had anything to do with this situation. The drought, of course, is the big cause, but the drought is not the only factor.

Direct Effect, Says Mulvihill.

W. F. Mulvihill, superintendent of state waterways and formerly on the sanitary district, gave it as his opinion that the recent reductions in diversions, cutting the flow on July 1 to 6,500 cubic feet per second, had a direct effect on the navigation not only in the Illinois river but on the Mississippi between the mouth of the Ohio and the mouth of the Illinois.

Experiments by the sanitary district in 1929, in cutting off water in large amounts at regular intervals, showed a distinct effect on the rivers and put some of the barges of the Inland Waterways corporation on the sandbars. Maj. Gen. T. Q. Ashburn, chairman of this corporation, has maintained that the lake diversion has been chiefly responsible for the troubles of navigating his tugs and barges. The experiments of 1929 demonstrated, it is said, that a cut of 10,000 cubic feet per second to 1,500 lowered the water from 8 to 18 inches at St. Louis and below.

Recall Mulvihill Report.

In a communication to the federal district engineer at Chicago in 1926 Mr. Mulvihill said:

"The average diversion at Chicago for the last ten years has been from 8,500 to 10,000 c. f. s. To cut this diversion to 4,167 c. f. s. would raise water levels in the great lakes not more than three inches and would reduce river depths in the Mississippi below the possibility of successful navigation during low water stages."

This prophecy seems to be on the way to fulfillment, although government engineers maintain that the Chicago reduction has resulted in lowering the levels at St. Louis only a fraction of an inch.

Work Now Up to State.

The question of resumption of work on the Illinois waterway rests now with the state, as there can be no congressional appropriation until next spring.

The key to early completion is said to be the bridges. Changes in the bridge plans have delayed this work.

TRUSTY ESCAPES CHESTER.

Chester, Ill., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Thomas Clapp, trusty convict of southern Illinois penitentiary here, walked away from the prison grounds yesterday just before the evening count. Prison officials believe he was aided by outsiders.

Find Golf Bag and Glove as Clews to Zuta Slayers

New clews in the murder of Jack Zuta, gang leader who was shot to death last Friday at a resort on Upper Nemahbin lake, near Delafield, Wis., were uncovered yesterday by the forces of District Attorney Herman Salen and Sheriff Phil Herbrand of Waukesha county.

A golf bag, in which there were five shotgun shells of the type used by Zuta's slayers, was picked up in the woods near Delafield. This caused the authorities to suspect that Sam Hunt, Capone gunman, who was arrested several months ago bearing a golf bag with a loaded shot gun hidden in it, might have had a part in Zuta's murder.

Another clew was a black left hand glove, which was found in the basement of the resort where the killing was staged. Sheriff Herbrand, after examining the glove, said it was apparent to him that the glove had not been used for a long time, and he felt convinced that it had been left there by an innocent person. At the same time he and other investigators were considering a possible connection with the slaying of Alfred Lingle, TRIBUNE reporter, in which the murderer threw away a left handed glove as he fled.

Sees Link to Lingle Case.

The authorities leaned to the theory that Zuta was killed by rebellious members of his own gang. The theory is that Zuta was the pay off man who arranged for the killing of Lingle and hired the killers. Fearful that Zuta might implicate the others who participated in the plot, he was killed, if this theory is correct.

Reports that Solly Vision, a lieutenant of Zuta, had been killed were received by the police, but were later declared to be false. Vision is being sought in the hope that he may have information leading to the killers of Zuta.

Three Chicago women who were arrested in Milwaukee for questioning in connection with the Zuta murder were released yesterday on bonds of $200 each furnished by a professional bondsman. They will be arraigned today on a charge of vagrancy before District Judge George Cage.

Await Word from Roche.

District Attorney Salen said that he would not detain the women longer unless an investigator sent to Wisconsin by Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson, desired to question them further. The names and addresses of the women, as they gave them, are: Mildred Tosch, 629 West North avenue; Marjorie Roberts, 1400 North La Salle street, and Betty Epperson, 5050 Sheridan road.

Dr. Vincent Marzano, owner of the apartment building at 5050 Sheridan road, said the Epperson woman had never lived there. The landlord at 1400 North La Salle street declared no one named Roberts had ever lived there. At 629 West North avenue it was stated by Mrs. Kate Tosch that the third woman was her daughter-in-law and that she had left home Saturday.

Zuta's Body Is Claimed.

The body of Zuta was placed on a train yesterday bound for Middlesboro, Ky., where it will be buried with the rites of the Jewish Orthodox church, according to the statements of I. Ginsburg, a cousin of Zuta, who claimed the body. Ginsburg said Zuta had left a will, which will be read after the funeral in Kentucky. However, the $1,900 in currency found on Zuta's body has been attached by internal revenue officers who are investigating Zuta's income tax schedules.

The task of announcing Zuta's death to his mother in Poland has fallen to the slain gangster's cousin, Mrs. Reve Sabel of Milwaukee. "When I left Poland years ago the last word I had from Zuta's mother was for me to find her son in the new country," said Mrs. Sabel. "She thought he was a horse trader and feared his business wasn't prospering, for he never wrote nor sent her money as the emigrant sons of her neighbors did to their mothers."

Attorneys for Frank Foster, gunman under indictment for the Lingle murder, who has been identified as having fled from the scene of the slaying, appeared yesterday before Judge Daniel P. Trude and made a demand for trial. They announced that successive demands would be made each month, explaining that if four demands for trial are made and the trial does not proceed, Foster is entitled to his discharge. The trial is now set for Sept. 9.

$55,725 IN REWARDS.

Rewards totaling $55,725 are offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Alfred Lingle, Tribune reporter. Of the $25,000 reward offered by The Tribune, $10,000 will be paid to any person who will give confidential information identifying the slayer of Lingle. All information should be sent to the headquarters established by State's Attorney Swanson in Room 503, Temple building, 77 West Washington street. Telephone State 3729.

AUGUST JURY IMPANELED.

A local development in the crime situation was the impaneling of the August grand jury. In his charge to the jurors, Chief Justice Normoyle of the Criminal court instructed them to dispose first of the work left unfinished by the July jury and continue the probe of the crime situation. He made no reference to the Lingle case.

"I don't have to call your attention to the crime situation," the judge said. "Some say it is worse than the condition existing before the Haymarket riots. At that time the police finally gained the upper hand. Whether they have control now is a question."

Members of Jury.

The foreman of the August grand jury is Carl Burgstahler, 4520 North Hermitage avenue, general manager of the F. E. Foster company, 115 Wabash avenue. The other members are:

Henry J. Krupa, 7635 61st park, Argo.
Elmer C. Maywald, 609 Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park.

County Jail Will Be Wired for Radios and Television

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The $900,000 Westchester county jail, for which contracts are being awarded today, is to be wired for eventual installation of both radio and television sets in the cells.

BOOK RYAN FOR GUN TOTING IN AFFRAY AT CLUB

Robert Emmet Ryan, arrested at 4 a. m. yesterday while attempting to gain admission to the Minuet club, 943 Rush street, with a pistol, was booked for carrying concealed weapons last night at the Chicago avenue police station and released under $1,000 bond.

Police said that Judge Harry B. Miller of the Criminal court telephoned them that a writ of habeas corpus had been sought on Ryan's behalf and that, unless he were released, the writ would be returned. Before going free Ryan faced a showup at the detective bureau.

Only a month ago Ryan was scheduled for trial for his part in an extortion plot against Robert Barr, broker, of 100 North La Salle street. He and two accomplices had Barr covered with pistols when the police burst in. Failing to appear for trial, his $25,000 bond was forfeited, but he later appeared and the bond was boosted to $50,000.

GIRL FOUND HURT ON LOOP STREET; CASE IS MYSTERY

Her skull fractured and her clothing in disarray, a pretty girl about 20 years old with wavy auburn hair and brown eyes was found unconscious early this morning beside an elevated post in Wabash avenue just south of Madison street.

Central police were undecided whether she was the victim of a hit and run motorist or of a companion who might have hurled her out of a car. Surgeons at the county hospital said she had been drinking. She was given an even chance to live.

Isadore Cohen, a cab driver of 1530 South Clifton Park avenue, discovered the girl and took her to the Iroquois hospital, from whence she was taken to the county hospital. She wore a white crêpe dress, brown stockings, and black pumps of 4-B size. No hat or handbag was found.

SEIZE 6 YOUTHS FOR ATTACK ON WOMAN IN ALLEY

Assistant State's Attorney William Rittenhouse said yesterday that special attention will be given the prosecution of six young men who were under arrest yesterday charged with a gang attack on a woman who is in a serious condition at the county hospital.

Sergt. Joseph O'Malley of the Stockyards station made the arrests after the woman was found unconscious in the alley in the rear of 5428 South La Salle street. Several youths in the vicinity named two of the woman's attackers, Ralph Gelasso, 26, of 5108 South La Salle street, and Joseph Cartilino, 23, of 5127 Wentworth avenue, O'Malley said. They confessed and named as others in the attack, William Ricoli, 19, of 216 West Garfield boulevard, Mike Caputo, 20, of 4945 Federal street, Frank Buglio, 19, of 6733 South Wood street, and Earl Andersoh, 19, of 42 West Garfield boulevard. They will be arraigned today in the Boys' court.

Pick Jury to Pass on Negro Killer's Sanity

A jury was selected yesterday to pass on the sanity of Lafon Fisher, one of three Negroes sentenced to death for the murder of Martin B. French, an aged guard at the Franklin Trust and Savings bank, who was shot on Jan. 18, 1929, during a robbery. Fisher was carried into the courtroom of Judge Daniel P. Trude, apparently semi-conscious.

STALIN EXILES SON, WHO WED A SEAMSTRESS

"Iron Man" of Russia Wrecks Love Match.

BY LORIMER HAMMOND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Copyright, 1930: By The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Like Ivan the Terrible, Dictator Joseph Stalin rules Russia with an iron fist, but he cannot make his own family behave.

Four centuries ago Czar Ivan clubbed his son to death because the lad was disobedient; now Dictator Stalin casts off his young son, Yasha, and has him driven into exile for marrying a poor seamstress, whom the soviet overlord does not believe important enough to be admitted to the highest circles of Red society.

History books do not cover up the gruesome story of Ivan's wrath, but the armorclad censorship imposed by Moscow has been able until now to keep the world from finding out about the big family row in the Stalin household.

Public Ignorant of Row.

The proletarian public of Moscow and Leningrad, as well as the rest of Russia, remains ignorant of the domestic rumpus going on in the Kremlin. I only stumbled on the news in a rural district of Russia two weeks ago in a conversation with a professor, who was once Yasha Stalin's instructor. Since then the chief points have been confirmed from the best available sources in Moscow and, while it is impossible to check all details officially, I am assured the story of this romance happened substantially as follows:

The split between the dictator and his son began two years ago when Yasha rebelled against continuing his studies in a Moscow technical school, where his father was determined to keep him until he learned to be a mechanical engineer. According to my informant, Yasha was then 20 years old, a tall, dark, handsome youth, who looks a great deal like his father. He was quite a hand with the girls, but strongly objected to any form of mental exertion.

"I don't need any education, nor do I want one," he is said to have told his teachers. "Why should I work when my father runs the whole show here? I would rather enjoy myself."

Takes Son from School.

Stalin's real name isn't Camo Djugashvili for nothing; he comes from the savage mountains of Russian Georgia, where men expect abject obedience from their wives and children—and usually get it. He immediately yanked Yasha out of school and put him under a private tutor, whose instructions were to use force to make Yasha a mechanical engineer.

At the end of a few weeks the instructor gave up and told Dictator Stalin that it was hopeless to try to teach Yasha to figure out complex engineering problems, because the boy could not even add and subtract without one of those racks of sliding beads.

Accepting the tutor's verdict, Stalin derailed the attempt to shove Yasha into a professional career. He put his son in a Moscow trade school and ordered the faculty to make an electrician out of him. Still young Stalin could not see why he should be obliged to learn anything at all.

Weds Girl Secretly.

Last December Yasha kicked over the traces completely. One evening he met a pretty girl on his way to the Kremlin from school and fell in love. They wanted to get married at once, but when she told him she was only an obscure seamstress Yasha realized his father would never sanction the marriage. I am told it has long been the dictator's ambition to arrange a marriage between his son and the daughter of one of the most important Kremlin commissars.

Nevertheless Yasha secretly married the girl outside of Moscow, but it wasn't long before Stalin's police agents discovered the marriage.

Exactly what happened to Yasha after that is impossible to ascertain. It is known he was summarily taken from school and sent under guard to a town in the Caucasus mountains, where he is said now to be working as an electrician's assistant—practically a prisoner.

Bride's Whereabouts a Mystery.

No one knows what became of his bride. Even her name remains a mystery—just as much of a mystery as the whereabouts of Dictator Stalin's wife, who has not been seen in the last two years. At no time has the photograph of any member of Stalin's family been allowed to appear in any newspaper of soviet Russia. Even the existence of his wife and son is unknown except to a handful of people.

I returned from Leningrad a few days ago aboard a soviet ship on which eleven members of the crew were girls, including the third mate and the wireless operator.

OLD SETTLERS REVIVE DAYS OF YOUTH AT PICNIC

6,000 ATTEND 56TH PICNIC OF OLD SETTLERS

Medals Awarded to Pioneers.

Time turned backward and hundreds of pioneers of Chicagoland ceased to be old yesterday. In the Riverview park picnic grove their happiest event of all the year was in progress—the 56th annual Old Settlers' picnic sponsored by the Chicago Turngemeinde.

Beneath shade trees walked some belles and beaux of the days when Chicago was younger. Their hair is white now, and some of them carried canes, others clung to the arms of friends, children or grandchildren. But they would not admit being old yesterday, for they were in the playground with the friends who have been meeting them for 56 years.

6,000 Persons Present.

There were 6,000 persons present. Among them was Mrs. Mary Louise Smith Charlette, 3053 Walnut street, 83 years old.

Johanna Alm was there, too. She was spry for all her 97 years, and sorry she couldn't bring her four generations of descendants.

Fifty-six years with one man. Gee, that's nice," exclaimed a middle aged woman as Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Gates, 2531 Winona avenue, were competing for the prize for the married couple of old settlers whose combined ages gave the greatest number of years. Mr. Gates, who is 83 years old, has lived in the Winona avenue house for seventy years.

In spite of the heat every one had a good time. Louie's Hungry Five, which plays over W-G-N, made everybody happy with German music.

Medals Are Awarded.

There were balloons and good German food. And a prize dance at which the ten oldest couples revived the dances of their youth. At 6 o'clock the awarding of eleven medals was announced as follows:

1. The old settler living here continuously the longest time—George Leady, 5530 South Bishop street, here 85 years.

2. Oldest woman settler in longest continuous residence—Mary Louise Charlette, 3053 Walnut street, since 1847.

3. Foreign born settler [German excepted] here the greatest number of years—George Mason, 525 Roscoe street. Born in Paisley, Scotland Here since 1844.

4. Oldest woman settler, foreign born—Florence Woollett, 341 West 109th street. Born in England. Here since 1871.

5. Oldest settler born in Germany—Joseph Huebner, 421 North Lincoln street, here since 1852.

6. Oldest woman settler born in Germany—Anna Enders, 1528 86th place, here since 1852.

7. Old settler longest in employ of same business concern—L. W. Schlau, 3460 North 73d court, employé of A. Ball & Bros., 25 North Wacker drive, for 51 years.

8. Old settler living continuously in same residence the longest—Katherine Lulleng, 6351 North Artesian avenue, since Nov. 5, 1862.

9. Married couple whose combined ages give greatest number of years—Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Edler, 5815 Magnolia avenue. Mr. Edler, being 86 years old and his wife 80.

10. Head of family having largest number of living children and grandchildren—Mrs. Ida Zimmermann, 1912 Kildare avenue, who has 12 children, 29 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

11. Oldest veteran of the United States army—E. Scharenberg, 5142 Strong street. Here since 1853.

Daniel Gates, 83 years old, and his wife, Catherine, 73 years old, who have been married 56 years and attended many of the Old Settlers' picnics, enjoy themselves just as thoroughly as they did years ago.

CROWD WATCHES FIRE SPECTACLE AT IRON WORKS

Flames sweeping through the plant of the Illinois Malleable Iron company at 1801 Diversey boulevard last night attracted a large crowd of sightseers which threatened for a time to hamper the efforts of firemen to extinguish the blaze. Police under Lieut. Steve Barry of the Sheffield avenue station struggled with the crowd as additional fire apparatus responded to a 4-11 alarm.

As the flames leaped skyward from the two story brick building the heat forced many of the firemen to strip off their coats. The fire swept through the second story of the building and caused damage estimated by Chief Fire Marshal Corrigan at between $35,000 and $50,000.

A 3-11 alarm was sounded for a fire in the six story building of the Eagle Wrapping Products company at 742 West Taylor street. The damage from fire, smoke and water was estimated at $10,000 by Division Fire Chief Edward Green.

$100,000 IS LEFT TO SCHOOL AND PARK BY NEGRO

Mays Landing, N. J., Aug. 4.—(AP)—John Underhill, Negro storekeeper, has returned in the form of a $100,000 bequest the pennies that his child customers spent with him for a quarter of a cenutry.

Although Underhill died in October, the terms of his will were not made known until today. It provides that an estate amounting to $71,390, exclusive of real estate, shall be devoted to improvement of the town park and to equipment of the high school gymnasium.

Underhill came here more than 25 years ago and for many years was the town's only Negro resident. He first became a barber and later opened a store near the high school.

23 HURT IN FILM BLAZE AT 3 CENT CHILDREN'S SHOW

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Twenty-three children were burned, ten of them probably fatally, after their clothing had caught fire from a motion picture film at a child's show this afternoon.

The children has paid three cents each to attend the show given in the home of Carlos and Armando Archimarchi, aged 14 and 15. The boys were using a small projector.

One child struck a match and ignited a pile of films in a corner. The inflammatory material blazed up and their clothing caught fire. Both the Archimarchi brothers were burned in trying to beat out the flames.

Rumanian Oil Industry to Cut Output by 150,000 Cars

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 4.—(AP)—M. Madgearu, minister of trade, today issued a communique in which it was said the oil industry had decided to curtail production by 150,000 carloads annually.

DIVORCE GRANTED TO MRS. FIELD IN RENO COURT

Reno, Nev., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Promptly at the end of her required three months' residence here, Mrs. Evelyn Marshall Field of New York this morning filed her long expected suit for divorce against Marshall Field III., heir to the fortune left by his grandfather, the Chicago merchant. The decree was granted late this afternoon on grounds of desertion.

No mention was made in the bill of a financial settlement, but it has been reported that Mrs. Field is to receive an annual income of $1,000,000 from a trust fund set up by Mr. Field. Custody of the three children, Marshall Jr., 14; Barbara, 11, and Bernice, 6, also is arranged for in the agreement, which is reported to give both parents equal rights regarding them.

Mrs. Field in Court.

Accompanied by her attorneys, Mrs. Field came to the courthouse this morning and entered the chambers of Judge George Bartlett through a rear entrance. When placed on the stand she made a brief recital that her husband left her more than a year ago and that they have lived apart since then.

She testified that a property settlement had been entered into, providing for herself and the children, and told the court it was satisfactory.

An announcement was made recently in a London paper that Mr. Field is engaged to marry Mrs. Dudley Coates, English beauty. Reports have also been current that Mrs. Field would marry again after receiving her decree.

Since coming to Reno with her daughter and a retinue of servants, Mrs. Field has granted only one interview to newspaper men, in which she laughingly denied a further matrimonial venture for herself. Asked about the rumors concerning her husband's plans, she declared she had no knowledge of his intentions.

Will Leave for New York.

Owners of the large lodge on Lake Takoe which Mrs. Field has been occupying said she made arrangements to leave at once for New York, stopping over in Chicago en route.

Mrs. Field was Evelyn Marshall, daughter of the late Charles H. Marshall of New York, before her marriage to Mr. Field in 1915. Marshall Field is a capitalist, head of Marshall Field, Glore & Co., Wall street investment bankers.

IDENTIFY WOMAN'S BODY.

The body of a woman found in the Humboldt park lagoon yesterday morning was identified at the county morgue last night as that of Mrs. Julia Roth, 64 years old, of 1325 North Maplewood avenue.

ALICE LONGWORTH IS OPENING TOPIC FOR NEW WOMAN EDITOR

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Everybody in official Washington has been scanning the Washington Herald daily to detect some sign of the new hand at the helm, that of Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, granddaughter of Joseph Medill, who became editor of the paper on Aug. 1. The curious found it today in the following item at the bottom of the first page:

INTERESTING, BUT NOT TRUE

"The news is that Mrs. Alice Longworth will be not only confidential adviser to Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, but that she will campaign publicly for her lifelong friend. Interesting, but not true.

"Mrs. McCormick takes no advice, political or otherwise, from Mrs. Longworth.

"Mrs. Longworth gives no interviews to the press.

"Mrs. Longworth cannot utter in public.

"ELEANOR PATTERSON."

This is the latest incident in the famous feud between Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Longworth which has enlivened Washington drawing rooms for a decade. A few years ago Mrs. Longworth was lampooned as a thinly disguised character in "Glass Houses," a novel from the pen of Mrs. Patterson under her former name, Countess Gizycka.

FARM HAND WINS FORTUNE BUT HE LOSES ALL AGAIN

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Twelve years ago Frank Timm, a native of Odell, Ill., paid the United States government $85,000 income tax as the result of wealth he accumulated through Chicago Board of Trade dealings that year. Today he is a bankrupt with debts aggregating $144,800.

Borrowing five dollars from his sister with which he purchased a trunk, he started as a laborer on a farm. Timm saved his earnings and purchased a tract of farm land. He prospered and in 1900 he purchased a section of land in Iowa, which he later sold for $100,000. Then he purchased 1,000 acres in Livingston county, Ill., which also netted him a big profit during the war prices.

He bought a seat on the Chicago Board of Trade for $15,000 and started dealing in stocks and grains. For several years luck broke with him, but in 1919 he encountered his setback. He purchased $100,000 worth of worthless stocks; signed several notes as security for friends; made expensive improvements on his farm, and after the inflated war prices for farm lands faded he found the crops insufficient to pay off the debts.

Foreclosures followed and he lost everything. The land was insufficient to pay his debts and the bankruptcy procedure followed.

Now he is starting life anew despite his advanced age, and is back at day labor.

TAKE BANK BANDIT IN BATTLE.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Herbert Karr, 28, arrested by police here early today after a gun battle, was identified tonight by Walford bankers as one of the men who held up the Farmers bank of Walford on July 24 and escaped with $1,800.

Steam

Stephenson, watching the first steam engine rattle over the rails, never knew that his contraption would influence property values the world over. So fundamental has land been in the history of civilization that we look for repercussion in the basic field of real estate following every major contribution to progress. Land is the basis of all wealth.

HOOVER FINDING IT TASK TO NAME TARIFF BOARD

$100,000 Men Object to Senate Inquisition.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—If anybody knows of a $100,000 a year man who is willing to accept a $12,000 government job he will confer a favor upon an eminent personage by communicating the information to Herbert Hoover, 1600 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C.

The President could use half a dozen such men very nicely at this writing. He has been combing the country for them, and thought for a moment he had landed one or two, but they slipped through his fingers.

We wants them particularly at the moment to serve on the tariff commission as reorganized by the Hawley-Smoot tariff revision act. If he could even get one to serve in an administrative capacity as chairman of the commission he would be greatly heartened.

Has Hunted Since June.

Mr. Hoover has been working at this task ever since passage of the tariff bill in June. Word went forth to the Hoover scouts in all parts of the country at that time that the President wanted a batch of $100,000 a year men and forthwith the scouts began to scout the business and professional terrain. They sent in the names of scores of possibilities.

The President sat at the long distance telephone for hours at a time talking to one after another of these men who, it was thought, might be persuaded to make a personal sacrifice to serve their country on the peace time firing line. It turned out that in the case of a good many of them it was the firing line in Washington—the United States senate—that they had no stomach for.

Appointments to the tariff commission must be confirmed by the senate. Now, the senate has a way of digging into an appointee's public and private life—ostensibly to discover whether he is fitted for the public position. And since consideration of such appointments in secret session was abolished the senate does its digging in public and everything it brings to the surface is hung on the public clothes line.

Dislike Senate Inquisition.

Even to men who have nothing to fear from relentless inquiry into their public and private lives this senatorial inquisition into appointments is distasteful. They find themselves under fire at once from the radical senators to whom, it has been charged, any person worth $100,000 to a corporation is inherently an object of suspicion.

Some of the men urged by the President to accept places on the tariff commission begged at once to be excused, saying they were not hankering for the fate of Judge Parker of North Carolina, whose appointment to the Supreme court, however, was rejected by the senate because the radicals did not like his labor decisions and senators with Negro constituencies professed to be shocked by his attitude toward the black race.

Up to date the President has captured for commissions only two $100,000 a year men—Alexander Legge, who accepted the chairmanship of the farm board, and George W. Wickersham, chairman of the law enforcement commission.

Fails to Land Gilbert.

He tried to get S. Parker Gilbert, who recently retired from administration of German reparations, for chairman of the tariff commission, but Mr. Parker begged off. He is entering the firm of J. P. Morgan.

Mr. Hoover was still at his quest today with no tangible results apparent tonight. He wants to get the tariff commission appointed before he goes on vacation the middle of the month. The general impression is that he will retain two members of the present tariff commission, Edgar B. Brossard of Utah, who is now its chairman, and Alfred P. Dennis, a Maryland Democrat, who is vice chairman. Three other members are to be appointed.

The President attaches unusual importance to the new tariff commission, relying upon it to rewrite a considerable portion of the new tariff act under the flexible clause.

The President is also pondering an opinion by Attorney General Mitchell on his authority to give recess appointments to members of the new power commission, consideration of which was postponed by the senate till winter. The law provides that appointment of at least two of this body shall be confirmed by the senate.

SENT TO JAIL

VIDA MEAD.

Miss Vida Mead has closed her little tea shop, the Kalico Cat, 248 East Erie street, and will spend the next five days in the county jail for driving while intoxicated. She and a companion, Miss Ruth Judson, 228 East Ontario street, accompanied in an automobile by another woman whose name was not learned, crashed into a flivver full of policemen at Division and Clark streets early yesterday morning. The third member of the party, released on bonds as Mary Doe, disappeared. Judge John H. Lyle in Town Hall court fined Miss Judson $5 and costs and sent Miss Mead to jail with a fine of $25.

COUNTY'S BONDS BRING PREMIUM; BOON TO CREDIT

Banks Offer to Buy Back City Warrants.

A restoration of faith in the credit of the local governments was seen by city and county officials yesterday in the action of financial groups on city and county securities. The county board sold a bond issue at a premium, and a syndicate of banks today will offer to buy back at par plus accrued interest $30,000,000 of city and school board tax anticipation warrants which were sold by the banks last year.

The warrants were issued against 1929 taxes, which are expected to be collected in April of 1931, and consist of $10,000,000 city warrants bearing 5½ per cent interest; $4,000,000 city warrants bearing 6 per cent interest, and $16,000,000 school board educational fund warrants bearing 6 per cent interest. The maturity dates on the warrants range between May 1, 1930, and Aug. 15, 1930.

Offer to Repurchase Made.

The warrants are a part of the $50,000,000 worth sold by the city in April of last year. The banks now offering to give the present holders of the $30,000,000 an opportunity to receive the principal and interest are the First National, Continental-Illinois, Foreman State corporation, Central Trust of Illinois, Harris Trust and Northern Trust company.

"The offer is an indication of faith in the validity of the obligation of the city to pay," said one banker. "It shows, also, to some extent that the banks have more faith in the city's credit and it is an aid in reëstablishing the credit of Chicago."

The county board sale was of $2,500,000 in bonds authorized at the special session of the legislature to take up the deficiency in tax collections. The sale was made to the Chatham Phoenix corporation, 105 South La Salle street, at the premium price of $2,533,480. The bonds carry interest of 4½ per cent and the maturity dates range from 3½ to 5½ years.

Three Other Firms Bid.

Three firms offered the second high premium bid of $2,528,900. They are the First Union Trust bank, the Harris Trust, and the Continental-Illinois company.

Difficulty has been experienced by the county in the last two years in disposing of bonds at near par prices. Bids for forest preserve bonds have been below par.

The police and firemen will be paid either tomorrow or Thursday, according to Victor S. Petterson, deputy city controller. They have salaries due for the last two weeks of July. City officials yesterday were negotiating for another sale of tax anticipation warrants authorized by the passage at the last council meeting of a supplemental tax levy for 1930.

300 Planes Hold Mimic War in Dark Over Czech Town

OLOMOUC, Czecho-Slovakia, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Three hundred airplanes in the darkness tonight engaged in maneuvers over this town, with camouflaged land batteries assisting the "defending" force. The inhabitants were forbidden to leave their homes during the night.

COUNTY AGAIN DELAYS PRINTING OF TAX ROLLS

Rejects Bids to Get More Competition.

Further delay in the publication of the 1928 real estate assessments was caused yesterday when the county board rejected bids for the printing contracts. Publication of the assessments by street and number, so that taxpayers may know what their neighbors pay, is required by state law, but had been ignored from 1898 until 1928, when the 1927 lists were published.

The commissioners asserted there should be more competition and ordered that bids be readvertised with revised specifications to permit lithographers to bid also.

Two Bids Submitted.

Two bids were submitted on July 7. The Atwell Printing company, a union concern, bid $99,472, and the Magill-Weinsheimer company, a nonunion concern, bid $41,096. The latter concern proposed to print the lists by a planograph process and the finance committee of the board recommended that they be awarded the contract to effect a saving.

Augustus S. Peabody, chairman of the Citizens' association, pointing out that the board is required by law to award the contract to the lowest bidder, urged the commissioners to award the contract on a strictly business basis and save the taxpayers approximately $58,000. J. L. Jacobs, county efficiency engineer, expressed himself as favoring the planograph process because it is faster and more accurate.

Labor Official Protests.

When the board met on July 22 John L. Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, asked that the board refuse to give the contract to an open shop company. As a result of his plea the board postponed action on the bids. Charles A. Livingston, representing the Illinois Manufacturers' association, was present at yesterday's meeting and urged the board to accept the low bid as a matter of economy.

Commissioner William Busse remarked that if there is much more delay in publishing the lists the county board may as well dispense with the work and save the money.

Publication of the assessment lists was revived on the 1927 assessment at the order of William H. Malone, chairman of the state tax commission. Each taxpayer learned at a glance what his assessment was and how it compared with that of his neighbors. The resulting disclosure of inequalities caused the tax commission to order the reassessment.

GUNMEN HOLD UP CLERK.

Two gunmen held up Lester Maloney, clerk in the office of the O'Brien Varnish company, 330 South Peoria street, yesterday took $95 from the cash register and escaped.

Are you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort the moment your youngster has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or the gentle relief of constipation; to allay a feverish condition, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so.

You can tell from the recipe on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But continue with Castoria until a child is grown.

HINKY DINK SAYS HE HAS CLEANEST WARD IN ALL CITY

Who Likes Reformers? Is Reply to Case.

Michael "Hinky Dink" Kenna, for forty turbulent years undisputed boss of the First ward and its representative in the city council with Ald. "Bathhouse" John Coughlin during the days when each ward had two aldermen, yesterday left his cigar store at 111 South Clark street—the star chamber of First ward Democracy. He left on no ordinary mission and was attired for the occasion, his reappearance in court after almost a decade of semi-seclusion.

Kenna marched buoyantly to the witness stand in the court of County Judge Jarecki to reply to charges that he had personally and through his followers stuffed ballot boxes in his ward. The charge was made on Friday by Special Assistant State's Attorney Charles Center Case in his prosecution of his petition to oust Fred V. Maguire as chairman of the board of election commissioners.

Arrives Before Court Opens.

An hour after the charge was made on Friday "Hinky Dink," formerly proprietor of the Workmen's Exchange, which boasted of the longest bar in the world and the tallest and coolest in town for 5 cents, appeared before the judge to make a denial. He pleaded that he be allowed to take the stand, protesting that he was willing to postpone his vacation for the opportunity. The judge set Kenna's appearance for yesterday morning.

Kenna arrived fifteen minutes before court opened. He was nattily attired in a blue suit with a white pin stripe, a white shirt with a black stripe, striped socks and a diamond stickpin. He spoke with a broad Irish accent.

Charges an "Absolute Lie."

For all of his "seventy odd years," he walked briskly to the witness chair. During his testimony he rolled a large black unlighted cigar in his mouth. He emphasized his remarks by tapping the cigar against the witness railing or nodding his silver-haired head. In appearance he was the coolest man in the court room. The attorneys were in their shirtsleeves.

"My ward is a Democratic ward," he said, biting at his cigar. "We have the finest organization in the city. The charges that I delivered my ward through frauds are an absolute lie. I say it is not true, and furthermore, I only go around in the morning election days and see that the judges and clerks are on duty and the captains of the precinct and I am through for the day.

"I preach to them to work and be honest; give every man his correct count, see that the tally sheets are taken care of, and see that the initials of the judges are on the ballots and allow nobody to vote who has not got the qualifications of a voter. Every member of the organization will tell you, every Sunday I preach to them, to keep out of trouble, that you can never elect a man with ten or twenty votes of that kind. I tell them to pay attention to nobody."

He was then cross-examined by Attorney Case.

Q.—Is Ike Bloom one of your workers? A.—You mean Ike Gitelson? What's the matter with Ike?

"Cleanest Ward in City."

Q.—Have there ever been charges of fraud in the old 13th precinct? A.—There has never been any proved, but there have been charges made by an organization for racketeering for a number of years. They get a strike-breaker or an unreliable fellow to sign a statement and send out a thousand letters to make trouble. But there was nothing proved. I got the cleanest and most respectable ward in the city.

Q.—Do you refer to Arthur Burrage Farwell, president of the Chicago Law and Order league as a racketeer? A.—I referred to no one, I referred to the reform organization.

Q.—You know as a matter of fact it has been said for the last 25 years that your ward is the plague spot so far as election frauds are concerned. A.—By the racketeers. Who cares a damn for reformers? We don't care what they say so long as we have a clear conscience.

Doesn't Care What Is Said.

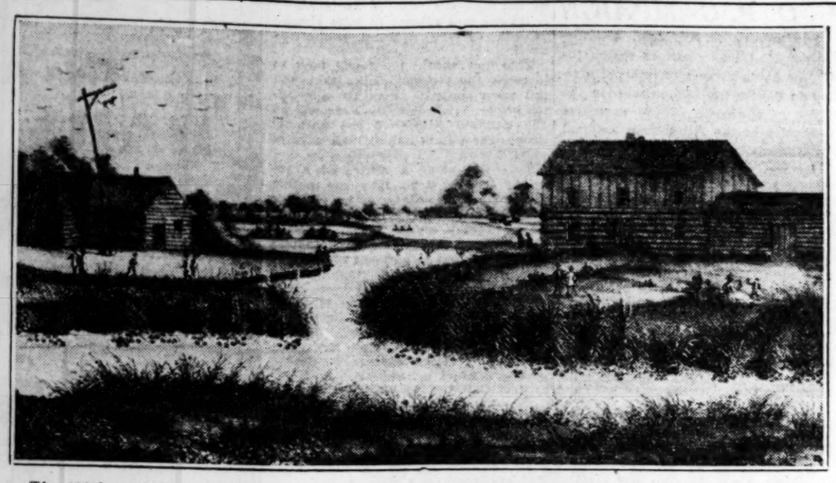
Q.—Well, it has been said—— A.—What the hell do I care what they said?

Q.—You're a friend of Maguire's? A.—I'm a friend of every one.

Q.—Including reformers? A.—No, I'll leave them out.

Case followed Kenna on the stand. It was his third day in the witness chair. He named five men, who, he said, were appointed as election officials by Maguire when the latter knew the five had been involved in election crimes. Maguire is charged with allowing persons with police records to act as election judges and clerks. The hearing will continue today.

CHICAGO ON THE MAP FOR 100 YEARS



The 100th anniversary of the first filing of the plot of the town called "Chicago," by James Thompson, who recorded his map, passed almost unnoticed yesterday, it having been agreed to celebrate 1933, the centennial of the town's incorporation. The picture shows Wolf's point, otherwise Chicago, as it appeared in 1833.

Chicago as a Village

Yesterday was Chicago's one hundredth birthday, although the official birthday party, to be known as the World's Fair, will not be held until 1933. On Aug. 4, 1830, Fort Dearborn disappeared and Chicago was officially surveyed and named. James Thompson made the first map, now in the possession of the Chicago Historical society. The town was then less than half a square mile and was bounded by State, Des Plaines, Kinzie and Madison streets.

COCKTAIL SHAKER GETS BIG PLAY AT JEWELRY SHOW

Prohibition Called Boon to Jewelers.

New designs in cocktail shakers and glasses are to be seen along with new kinds of perfume atomizers, silver dinner plates, watches and jewels in the fifth annual jewelry and allied trades show, sponsored by the wholesale jewelers of Chicago, opened yesterday and will continue through Friday.

"Have you our cocktail recipe book?" a young man asks as dealers examine the gallon silver shakers [for club use mostly] and the snappy shakers with red tops which go with glasses of red and black.

Recipes for Cocktails.

And he hands the dealer a booklet, remarking that the "Honey Boy" is a dandy, and the "Gentle Annie" a humdinger. The dealer asks for a number to sell to housewives who are choice customers.

Among the new styles is the "bottoms-up" cup, bell shaped, which cannot be set down until it is drained to the last drop. The base is ball shaped and in order to stand it must be placed upside down.

"Cocktail sets are among our staples now," said J. J. Marzek. "We do a lively trade in women's sterling silver flasks, too. That's one thing prohibition has done—it's helped the jewelry business in that line."

Here are new trends in jewelry as described by J. E. Friedland, president of the Chicago association:

Scarf pins for men again are in style.

Yellow gold is replacing white and green gold in watches and jewelry.

A ring and pendant to match are "good."

Crystals remain dominant in necklaces.

Open link watch bracelets for men and women; silver and gold cords for watches, are in demand.

SUIT ASKING MILLION FROM MARION DAVIES OF FILMS DISMISSED

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A $1,000,000 infringement of copyright suit against Marion Davies, film actress, and others was dismissed without prejudice today on motion of William C. Curtis, plaintiff.

Curtis had charged the copyright to his musical composition "Floradora" had been violated by the defendants in the screen adaptation of "The Floradora Girl." The defendants, who had filed answer to the suit, agreed to the dismissal.

Say—hasn't this summer been a warm one? Nature curtails our appetite somewhat in the hot weather, and it is often a problem as to just what to eat. In our search for a substitute for the heavier foods let's refer to science:

"Beans are particularly well adapted to take the place of meat because they are rich in protein. . . . It has been estimated that in no other form can so much nutriment be bought at so low a price as in the navy bean. (Ask any service man!) With the discovery that iron, long heralded as a blood builder, cannot function unless accompanied by copper, the dried bean, which contains both iron and copper, becomes an important food."

Pixley and Ehlers' beans are baked slowly for twenty hours to make them easy to digest and to bring out their full flavor and food value.

No Last Season's Coats at "Sensational Reductions"

Madame, you are invited to see and to compare a magnificent collection of fur coats in the style of the coming season, with other offerings available. We promise you will find few comparable collections at any price—and that even from those who have them you will hardly be able to purchase at prices so moderate. There is a reason for this.

Last season's prices, like last season's styles, are gone forever. But many merchants do not realize it. They have not priced new merchandise low. They feature "Sensational reductions" on garments carried over from last season. They hope for higher prices in Fall.

But those higher prices will not return—because every kind of merchandise now is finding a new low level based on what people can afford to pay. The period of extravagance is over. Wholesale prices are already down—lower than in many years.

And so Melvoin, who has not carried over any of last season's merchandise—whose entire stock is new and purchased at the new low wholesale prices—asks you to see smart 1931 models at prices as low as those featured in ordinary August Sales.

I. C. SUBURBAN SERVICE GAINS 470,000 RIDES

Revenue for Six Months Shows $56,600 Increase

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The Illinois Central suburban service shows more business in the first six months of this year than in the corresponding period of 1929. The increase amounts to $56,600 in gross income for the half year, an increase of about 470,000 rides. The increase is only 2.22 per cent, but that is considered remarkable in this year of business depression.

The suburban service has shown a large and rapid growth since electrification, which to some extent offsets the large loss of long distance passenger traffic.

As between 1925 and 1930 the first half of the year shows a decrease in gross income of more than $4,000,000 on long distance passenger traffic of the road. That is a decrease of 32.77 per cent. In contrast, the gross income of the suburban traffic, as between the first half of 1925 and of 1930, has increased $1,215,000, which is a gain of 98.05 per cent.

Builds Suburban Service.

Officials of various railroads complain at intervals of the loss of passenger business due to auto and motor coaches, but none of them which center in Chicago have succeeded in building up a suburban traffic as an offset to the extent that the Illinois Central has. The large decrease in general passenger traffic and the unusual increase in suburban riding on the Illinois Central is best shown by the actual gross income. The following table shows the income from sale of tickets in the first six months of each of the last six years:

	Gross income, suburban.	Gross income, other passengers.
1925	$1,341,592	$12,212,730
1926	1,587,864	12,281,984
1927	1,916,714	11,642,306
1928	2,178,500	10,550,033
1929	2,500,621	9,752,279
1930	2,557,231	8,210,144

Apparently the Illinois Central directorate believes there is an advantage in continuing and increasing its suburban business, judging from the announcement that the new Randolph street suburban station is designed to accommodate the traffic for sixty years. Certain other railroad officials have argued that the suburban business is conducted at no profit or at a loss. Because of these arguments to the commerce commissions a number of roads, including the Illinois Central, have obtained an increased fare.

Give Faster Service.

Consequently, the number of rides has not increased as much proportionately as the gross income from suburban tickets. The Illinois Central has encouraged people to move farther out by offering much faster and more comfortable transportation than was supplied by the steam engines. That has increased the income per average ride.

The following table shows the average number of rides daily in the months of March and June in the current year and in the five preceding years:

DAILY AVERAGE RIDES.	March.	June.
1925	107,296	101,034
1926	95,980	100,420
1928	80,392	87,474
1927	76,754	79,977
1929	64,580	66,440
1925	63,179	64,731

A large percentage of the increase in suburban traffic is attributed by the Illinois Central officials to electrification; but the report of the census shows that the south side grew much faster in the last decade than did the other sections of the city. No satisfying explanation has yet been given of the growth in the first half of this year of the same period of 1929.

2 PROSECUTORS FINED BY JUDGE FOR CONTEMPT

"You are fined $25 each for contempt of court," Judge Joseph B. David notified Assistant State's Attorneys Walker Butler and Euclid Taylor yesterday. They had presented a petition to the judge asking a change of venue in an insanity hearing pertaining to J. Frank Maynard, a Negro charged with murder.

"I consider this petition contemptuous," Judge David stated. "If a judge cannot give the people of the state of Illinois a fair trial he should be removed. Let the state's attorney get busy and try this case, or I will appoint a state's attorney myself to try it."

Judge David contended that the state's attorney's office has no right to ask for a change of venue. Assistant State's Attorney William Rittenhouse later reminded Judge David that on another occasion the judge had ordered a change of venue in a similar case. It was explained that the present petition was based on a remark made by Judge David in a previous hearing to the effect that Maynard was insane. The two prosecutors obtained a stay on the fine and tomorrow will try to have it canceled.

U. S. WOMAN DIES IN PARIS.

sizzling attacks as the prairies gasped and steamed in the drought.

Old-new guard leaders here put out forecasts of a victory for Haucke, claiming it looks almost "like a landslide."

The Reed camp is pinning its claims to the "silent vote" out on the farms. The farmers have been saying little about the row over acreage reduction, and the Reed leaders contend the governor made a lot of votes by going to the mat with Mr. Legge. Another break they count on to aid Reed is the recent decision reducing freight rates, which will help Kansas by two million dollars a year, in which the governor took an active part. The state machine, and the usual squeeze it is able to exert, is also counted on, but many of the Reed leaders are privately saying they are afraid of the outcome.

No Opposition for Capper.

Senator Arthur Capper is without opposition in the Republican primaries. His Democratic adversary in the November election will be ex-Gov. Jonathan M. Davis, who is attacking the tariff and "Hoover 69 cent wheat."

Senator Henry J. Allen, who was appointed by Gov. Reed to the vacancy caused when Charles Curtis became Vice President, has three opponents, which splits up his opposition. They are Ralph Snyder, head of the farm bureau; Congressman W. H. Sproul; and James F. Getty, a former state senator. Allen has been regarded as a safe bet. The railway brotherhoods and the mine workers in the closing days have been making a bitter attack on Allen and Reed, because of the industrial court set up by Allen when governor and of which Reed was a member.

No Important Issue.

Haucke, the candidate of the old guard, reinforced by a large part of the American Legion, was a sergeant overseas, and has been exploited as a Galahad of the prairies who does not cuss, drink, smoke, chew, or gallivant. He was an all-American football star. He has introduced no issues of much importance in the campaign, and his vote is counted on as being more anti-Reed than pro-Haucke.

If Reed wins a bitter contest is expected in the fall, if the Democratic nomination for governor is won tomorrow by Harry H. Woodring. He is an ex-state commander of the Legion, and his opponent tomorrow is Noah L. Bowman, who is rated as something of a radical and was head of the tax commission under Gov. Davis.

The politicians declare that the governorship battle will, perhaps, bring out the largest primary vote tomorrow in Kansas history.

Nebraska Raises Dry Issue.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The wet and dry issue surged to the foreground of the Nebraska Republican senatorial campaign today with Senator George W. Norris challenging his primary opponent, W. M. Stebbins, to say what his attitude would be should Dwight Morrow, New Jersey wet senatorial candidate, become the Republican choice for president in 1932.

Norris propounded the question as he replied to a similar query from the Stebbins camp in which he was asked to say whether he would support President Hoover, Gov. Al Smith or Franklin D. Roosevelt in the forthcoming race.

"I frankly answer you, Mr. Stebbins, that I do not know," Norris replied, declaring his belief that neither of the three would be nominated, but that Dwight Morrow would be the Republican choice.

FIELDS IS DEFEATED BY FRED VINSON IN KENTUCKY PRIMARY

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Overwhelming defeat of former Gov. William J. Fields in the Ninth district by Fred M. Vinson, his former political ally, was apparent tonight on the face of incomplete unofficial returns from Saturday's congressional primary. Vinson was leading in the Democratic primary 14,227 votes to 5,177 on returns from 376 of the district's 465 precincts.

Charles Finley, Republican incumbent, was leading Circuit Judge William Lewis 12,893 to 10,479.

Mrs. Katherine Langley apparently had the Republican nomination, as usual, in the Tenth. Two other women, both Republicans, fared badly. Mrs. Marie C. Haller, a wet, in the Sixth, was defeated 3,763 to 1,064, and Mrs. Minerva Allen, in the Seventh, apparently was out of the race.

Storms Cut First Leg of Proposed World Flight

Los Angeles, Aug. 4.—(AP)—D. W. Fether, general manager of the Emsco Aircraft corporation, tonight received a telegram from Ted Lundgren, who hopped off from here today for Kansas City on the first leg of a round the world flight, saying he had stopped at Amarillo, Tex., for the night because of storms.

LUCAS TO DEVOTE ALL HIS TIME TO G. O. P. CAMPAIGN

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Robert H. Lucas plans to resign his post as commissioner of internal revenue to devote his time wholly to the duties of chairman of the executive committee of the Republican national committtee.

His resignation will be submitted shortly after the executive committee meets on Thursday and chooses him as its head. The action of the committee in his case will be final, the group having complete authority to select its own officers.

As head of the executive committee Mr. Lucas will have active charge of the forthcoming Republican campaigns, in so far as the national committee enters into them. His offices will be located in the national committee headquarters.

Whatever action the executive committee may take regarding the resignation of Claudius H. Huston as chairman of the national committee and the selection of Senator Fess of Ohio as his successor will be tentative in character and subject to later consideration by the national committee itself.

This fact within itself will tend to increase the responsibilities that will fall upon the new executive committee head. While Senator Fess will be the nominal leader of the national group, the duties largely will devolve upon Lucas.

This will bring a native of a so-called border state into the active direction of the affairs of both major political parties. Lucas is a native of Kentucky, as is Jouett Shouse, chairman of the executive committee of the Democratic national committee.

Lucas was appointed commissioner of internal revenue a little more than a year ago, succeeding David H. Blair of North Carolina. Previously for eight years he had been collector of internal revenue for western Kentucky and earlier had served in Louisville as police court prosecutor.

don't mind heat/

MOST of the suffering from heat comes from inside you, not from the weather! Your body will keep itself cool, if you will keep it a hundred per cent well. The person you envy, who is full of pep and enthusiasm and happiness even on the hottest day, has just discovered a simple secret. Probably his doctor told him—"clean the poisons out of your body regularly, easily, naturally—(not with powerful habit-forming drugs and cathartics, though) and nature will do the rest!" It's as easy as that. Nujol, colorless and tasteless as pure water, is just the internal lubrication your body has to have like any other machine. You wouldn't expect your car to run far without it! Nujol is not a medicine. It contains absolutely no drugs. It can't hurt even little babies. Get yourself the crystal-clear bottle today. Don't let anybody sell you a substitute. Use it regularly for a couple of weeks. If you are like most other people it will clear your complexion, give you the pep that makes you popular, and makes life worth living. And nobody can prove it but you. Start today!

MR. HARRY HILL
5946 Wentworth Ave., Chicago

No wonder seven million bottles of Konjola were used in two years. Konjola makes good, even when all else tried has failed. Consider, as an example, the case of Mr. Harry Hill, who says:

"I seemed always to be cursed with ill health; was tired and sluggish all the time; had no ambition nor energy. Friends told me about Konjola and I started the treatment. I have taken five bottles, and today I am better than I ever have been. I endorse Konjola to all who need a tonic. I certainly intend to keep Konjola in my medicine chest all the time."

PICK WINNERS IN TRYOUTS FOR MUSIC FESTIVAL

Victors to Sing in Theaters.

The first tryouts were held last night in the "little theater" of the Chicago theater preliminary to the Chicagoland music festival, sponsored by THE TRIBUNE, on Aug. 23, in Soldiers' field. The contestants were from the south and

LOUIS R. LIPSTONE.

Out of each class a maximum of five were chosen. They will sing at the Tivoli theater next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights. From them one of each class will be chosen to sing the following week at the Oriental theater with others from other parts of the city. The final winners will represent Chicago, competing with individual artists from the five states of Chicagoland at the festival.

Announce Names of Winners.

Last night's winners, announced at midnight by the five judges who heard the contestants, are:

Soprano: Anna Vilkas, 1301 East 75th street; Berniece Alexander, 1732 Kenwood avenue; Leona Lane, 202 Berkimer street; Irene Marian Jackson, 353 East 68th street, and Amy Smith, 5325 Indiana avenue.

Contralto: Mrs. Rose Nutter, 4425 Ellis avenue; Mrs. Helen M. Jackson, 923 Woodlawn avenue; Adelaide R. Brostrom, 544 South Michigan avenue; Katherine Brayak, 6025 Calumet avenue, and Lydia Huett, 7253 Bennett avenue.

Quartet: The Illinois Central railroad quartet, headed by C. L. Combs, second tenor, and including J. A. Crotty, first tenor; Val Claus, baritone, and J. M. Jones, bass.

Bass: John Tobin, 6137 South Rockwell avenue; Ray Olech, 8713 Manistee avenue, and Joel B. Peppers, 4528 Champlain avenue.

Tenor: Harold Goldberg, 6147 Vernon avenue; George Anderson, Y. M. C. A. hotel; George Russell, 5222 Drexel boulevard, and Berger Wedberg, 7851 East End avenue.

List Names of Judges.

The judges were H. Leopold Spitalny, conductor of the Chicago Theater symphony orchestra; Louis R. Lipstone, musical director and stage production manager of the Publix-Balaban & Katz theaters in Chicago; Miss Elizabeth Houston, contralto of the Chicago Concert company; Arnold Isolany, concert tenor and soloist at St. James' Episcopal church, and Mrs. Lillian Rosedale Goodman, theatrical booking agent.

"By the time my turn came I was so excited I hardly could sing," said Miss Alexander. "This means a lot to me. I came to Chicago over two years ago to study voice, and this is a chance, as I look at it. It's a struggle. My family lives in Redfield, S. D., and they're not rich. My father is Probate judge of Spink county. I worked in a gift shop for a while, but I've had to lean on them for help lately."

Miss Vilkas, who was born in Lithuania, coming to Chicago as a baby with her parents, Cyprian and Josephine Vilkas, is a student in the Gunn School of Music, Fine Arts building. She is a stenographer in the law department of the Pullman company. She explained that she had saved up $500, meaning to go to Europe this summer and begin studying there, but that the market crash had made her $500 dwindle to $300.

Peppers, who is colored, said that he was a plumbing contractor, but that he sang along with his plumbing. "I never studied music, I just naturally sing," he said, grinning.

INTERESTING LETTERS

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed and some information about the writer of the letter. If you have a picture of the original sender or the place inclose it also.

Letter received by H. C. Moeller, Centerville, Ia.

"I received this letter from my son, Hubert, who was in Andorra, capital of the little republic of Andorra in the Pyrenees at the time," Mr. Moeller writes. "He made the trip over the mountains on foot, entering on the Spanish side. Concerning the republic he says:

"'The republic of Andorra is located high up in the Pyrenees mountains between Spain and France. The altitude varies from 3,500 feet to 9,500 feet in the highest peaks. The population of the entire country is less than 6,000, and its area is about equal to five American congressional townships.

"'This little republic is old, and its citizens are proud of their country. I visited a church that was started in the tenth and finished in the twelfth century. The people all try to impress on you the fact that their country "has always, always been independent."'

"Hubert was a social science instructor in the Farmington, Ia., High school this last year and is now off on a 'vagabond tour' to visit, in particular, the small and unusual countries of the world. Andorra was his first objective."

Andorra's climate is cold, but healthy. Its soil is unproductive in grain, but it boasts of rich iron mines and valuable forests. The government, a democracy, is vested in a council of 24 members, elected by the entire population. The majority of the people are shepherds, speaking the Catalan language. The independence of Andorra is said to date from the time of Charlemagne.

SAFE AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATION

that is also trouble-free, economical and silent for life

EVERYTHING you could possibly ask in automatic refrigeration—safety, silence, economy, reliability—they're all in Electrolux.

You can operate this modern automatic refrigerator for less than 5 cents a day—even the largest models. And that isn't all. When you own an Electrolux you have the satisfaction of knowing you are free from all bother and worry—free from the possibility of noise and vibration. For Electrolux can't make a sound, either when it's new or as it grows older. Here's the reason:

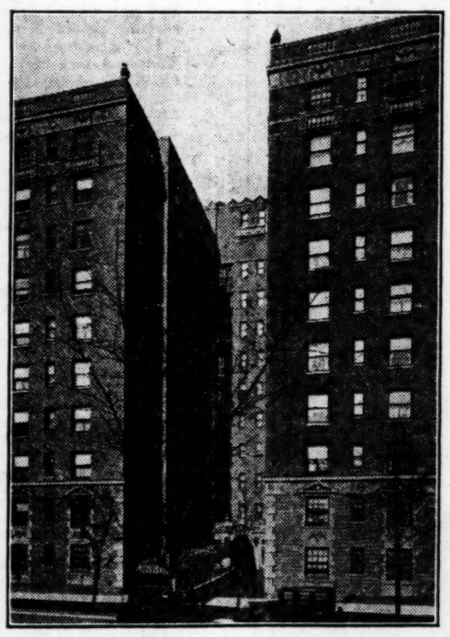
This automatic refrigerator is entirely different from mechanical boxes. It's automatic, but it has no machinery. Not a single moving part. Nothing to produce friction, wear, or sound—ever.

The cold in Electrolux is exceptionally even. That's because there's no stopping and starting. The chilling action goes on all the time—noiselessly, without attention.

Absolutely safe

It is also reassuring to know that you have an absolutely safe refrigerator when you own an Electrolux. Its refrigerant is merely three and a half pints of ordinary ammonia, so little stronger than household ammonia that you could breathe the entire contents in a closed room with no ill effects. Furthermore, the refrigerant is hermetically sealed for life within rigid steel—no openings or valves of any kind; no renewal ever needed. Even the tiny gas flame is protected by an automatic shut-off. Should the flame ever go out, for any reason, no gas can flow until you are ready to light it again.

Don't think of buying an automatic refrigerator until you see Electrolux. Prices $205 and upwards completely installed, with liberal terms. You can trade in your old ice box to us for $15, regardless of age, condition or make. Come in today, or if not convenient, use coupon to bring complete illustrated information.



18 EAST ELM STREET APARTMENTS, CHICAGO. "We studies all makes of refrigerators before selecting Electrolux for the 140 kitchens in our 18 East Elm Apartments. We chose Electrolux on the basis of its silent operation, its freedom from trouble, and its low operating cost. The safety of our tenants was also a vital factor. The performance of Electrolux has thus far borne out our judgment in every respect."—part of a statement by the manager of the 18 East Elm Apartments.

TELLS HOW YANK PLAYED FLUTE AS QUAKE HIT CITY

"Notes Stopped Wailing of Terrified Italians."

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—It was the night of July 23. High above Sorrento, Italy, Vesuvius cast a red glare against the sky. In the streets people were moaning and walking, while all around them buildings shook and crashed to the ground.

On the balcony of the Hotel Royal appeared the figure of a little old man of 60 or 70, white hair, white mustache, white goatee fluttering in the breeze. He gazed at the milling crowd in the streets and courtyards below, then went back to his room.

In a moment he appeared with a flute in his hand. Placing it to his lips he blew a few notes, and then swung into an Italian aria. Above the sound of the wailing and the prayers arose the thin, sweet sound.

Flute Stops Wailing.

It was heard in the courtyard below. One person looked up, then another. Soon the wailing stopped and all eyes were focused on the artist playing his flute while the earth threatened to shake his hotel down about his ears.

For two hours he played, then, the panic subsided, returned to his bed to sleep.

Mrs. Helen Barrows told the story today on her return from the earthquake zone of southern Italy on the liner Conte Grande, first ship to land here from Italy since the quake. The flute player was her uncle, William ("Billy") Guard, publicist for the Metropolitan Opera company.

The returning Americans aboard the Conte Grande, of whom there were 25 or more in Sorrento and Naples when the quake occurred, brought back many stories of the catastrophe.

Crow of Rooster Soothes.

Mrs. Edward F. Scmitt, who was in Sorrento with her husband, said they left their room at the first tremor of the earth, and descended to the terrace below their window.

"We found a seat on the garden wall," Mrs. Scmitt said, "and sat there in the gloom, listening to Italians crying and praying all about us. Our candle burned out but there were other candles which gave out a low flame along the wall. Then came the crow of a rooster and then another and suddenly the sky in the east softened from gray to pink, and all about me there were voices of thanks, for the night and its terrors were past."

W. T. James of Chattanooga, Tenn., his wife and their three sons, were in Naples, although the rest of the family was aroused at the first tremor and hurriedly dressed and left the hotel. Mr. James said his son, Elbert, 16, did not wake. Checking over his family after they reached the courtyard, Mr. James said he discovered Elbert was missing and went back to find him sound asleep.

Chicagoan Tells of Panic.

Arthur L. Rice of Wilmette, Ill., editor of the magazine Power Plant Engineering of Chicago, was with Mrs. Rice at the Hotel Royal in Naples. He said the building, which is modern and constructed of marble, concrete and steel beams, rocked.

There was a dance in the ballroom on the sixth floor of the hotel at the time of the quake, he said, and, as the elevator service was stopped, the dancers had to walk down the five flights of stairs. Many of the women were hysterical.

Fraud Charges Against Realty Man Are Dropped

Charges of embezzlement against Edward K. Inglefritz, 50 years old, 1205 Michigan avenue, Evanston, were dismissed by Judge John Sbarbaro in the Felony court yesterday when the complainant, Thomas M. Lawrence of the Elks club, Springfield, Ill., announced that he had decided Inglefritz was not the guilty party. Inglefritz was secretary of the De Wolf Realty company, formerly at 100 West Monroe street, and it was charged that he failed to return $5,000 in bonds to Lawrence.

NEW QUAKE ROCKS TWO CITIES IN SOUTH ITALY; PANIC FOLLOWS

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

ROME, Aug. 4.—Melfi and Rionero, two cities in southern Italy, were again rocked by slight earthquake shocks, which, though they produced but little damage, caused great panic among the population. The inhabitants rushed into the open, fearing another catastrophe imminent, and communicated their panic to thousands still living under tents. By evening, however, many returned home, only small numbers insisting on spending the night under canvas. The damage consisted chiefly in new cracks in the walls of the town hall at Rionero.

Throughout the earthquake zone the construction of earthquake proof houses has been undertaken with great alacrity, some 3,500 workers being engaged in this task. Meanwhile clearing away the wreckage and demolition of insecure houses everywhere is almost completed. Much has been done for the comfort of those living under tents, electric light having been supplied to all. Electric power is again being supplied to the industrial establishments that were undamaged by the earthquake, permitting partial resumption of industrial activities.

MILITIA BOARD CONSIDERS SITE FOR GUN RANGE

Officers Meet at Camp Grant.

Camp Grant, Ill., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—The early purchase of a site for the proposed artillery range was predicted tonight after a meeting here called by Brig. Gen. Frank R. Schwengel of the special board appointed recently by Gov. Emmerson to recommend the range location. Purchase of the land, at a cost not to exceed $600,000, has been authorized by the general assembly.

Army Adviser Named.

The site considered most likely to be chosen is located southeast of the camp, near the Winnebago-Ogle county line. A number of details such as the exact acreage remain to be settled, but these are expected to be out of the way in a few weeks.

At the request of Gov. Emmerson, the secretary of war has assigned Lieut. Col. George H. Paine, field artillery, United States army, to advise the board. The members of the board, all officers of the Illinois National Guard, are: Brig. Gen. Schwengel, Col. Thomas S. Hammond, Col. Diller S. Myers, Col. Samuel T. Lawton, Lieut. Col. Leroy E. Nelson, and Maj. Dell B. Hardin.

Plan Artillery Review.

The artillery units have begun preparations for the first artillery review ever to be held at Camp Grant which is scheduled for next Saturday. Lieut. Gov. Fred Sterling will be on hand to review the guns and men as they pass. The units are in camp here with the 10,000 troops of the Illinois National Guard, comprising the 33d division, for a two weeks' training period.

Brig. Gen. Edward L. King, U. S. army, wartime commander of the 65th infantry brigade and now chief of army operations and training, will arrive in camp tomorrow for an inspection.

C. M. T. C. CHICAGO DAY

Two thousand Chicago youths at the C. M. T. C. camp at Fort Sheridan today will participate in Chicago day, an annual affair at the camp. Mayor Thompson is to be represented by William D. Saltiel, city attorney. Mrs. Charles Wendell Holmes, president of the National Patriotic association, will head a delegation of Chicago women who are to present a check for the purchase of athletic equipment needed at the camp.

MITCHELL ACTS TO RELIEVE JAM IN U. S. PRISONS

45 Officers to Supervise Men on Probation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—With the hope of aiding in the relief of overcrowded federal prisons, Attorney General William D. Mitchell today completed plans for the appointment of forty-five new probation officers. Congress recently appropriated $200,000 for expansion of the probation system.

The work of probation officers will be to supervise persons convicted of crime, sentenced to jail or prison, and allowed liberty for probationary periods under restrictions imposed by a federal judge. They also will have charge of convicts paroled from the federal prisons.

At present there are only nine probation officers serving the federal district courts. With the forty-five new officers 44 districts in 32 states will have probation service.

Based on Convictions.

Eight of the larger judicial districts will be assigned two officers each. These are northern Illinois, Massachusetts, southern New York, eastern Pennsylvania, western Pennsylvania, southern West Virginia, Minnesota, and eastern Kentucky. Among those assigned one officer will be to southern Illinois, northern Indiana, southern Iowa, eastern Michigan, and western Michigan. The distribution is to be based on the number of convictions and commitments from each district.

"One of the theories advanced by the advocates of probation being exercised by judges in the courts is that it would result in economy in the treatment of offenders and tend to reduction of crime," said a department of justice statement today.

"It is estimated that the cost of custody of 100 prisoners in penal institutions is about $25,000 a year. A single probation officer at an expense of less than $4,000 a year would be able to supervise an equal number of first offenders placed on probation. This would amount to a considerable saving to the public treasury and at the same time the person placed on probation would be permitted to be a productive citizen, saved from the influence of prison service.

Completed in October.

Attorney General Mitchell also announced today that one of the two new federal penitentiaries authorized by the last congress will be located at Lewisburg, Pa. The site will contain 1,014 acres and will be bought by the government for $95,000.

Congress authorized $3,850,000 for the institution of which $1,700,000 is available. It is expected to house 1,050 adult men prisoners within the first year after its completion in October, 1931. The prison will be the first of its kind in the northeastern part of the country and will draw its prisoners from New England and New York, south to Virginia and west to central Ohio.

Superintendent of Prisons Sanford Bates stated that he is now looking for a site west of the Mississippi river for the second of three institutions authorized, a reformatory for young men.

DRY LAW ISSUES TO PREVENT VOTE ON WATER FILTER

Ballot Limited to 3 Questions, View.

The question of whether Chicago shall have filtered water cannot be placed on the November ballot, no matter if some 300,000 citizens sign petitions asking the city council to place it there. The statutes allow only three questions of public policy on the ballot in any one election, and three questions already have places on the November ballot.

This was the opinion delivered yesterday by Francis X. Busch, attorney for the board of election commissioners. Commissioner of Public Works Richard Wolfe is sponsoring the water petitions and a number of workers have been collecting signatures throughout the city and the city hall.

"I haven't been asked for a formal opinion yet," Mr. Busch said, "but I think Wolfe's petition is out of it. Three questions have already been decided upon, and the law is quite clear that only three can be put on the ballot."

Mr. Busch referred to the three prohibition referendum questions for which petitions have been signed. Each petition now has more than 350,000 signatures.

Asked for his opinion on the filter petitions First Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Breen said he found no Supreme court decision interpreting the part of the statute in question.

"I'm uncertain," he said, "whether state wide questions would bar any questions applying purely to municipalities."

The prohibition questions which seem certain of inclusion on the ballot and which, according to Mr. Busch, will crowd out the filter proposal, are:

1. Shall the eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States . . . be repealed?

2. Shall the congress of the United States modify the national prohibition act . . . so that the same shall not prohibit the manufacturer, sale or transportation of beverages which are not in fact intoxicating as determined in accordance with the laws of the respective states?

3. Shall the Illinois prohibition act be repealed?

Suicide of Mrs. Gilbert Laid to Temporary Insanity

Mrs. Marjorie Gilbert, 36 year old Wheaton woman, committed suicide while temporarily insane, a coroner's jury decided yesterday after hearing testimony in the death of the young mother, who leaped from the 18th floor of the apartment hotel at 40 East Oak street on Sunday. She had been in ill health for some time and was under the care of a nurse, her brother, H. J. Beach, told Deputy Coroner J. A. Schewel and the jury. Her husband, Harold D. Gilbert, an official of the National Lock company of Rockford, was prostrated.

GIRL, 5, KILLS PLAYMATE BUT WON'T BE TRIED

Denver, Colo., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The "age of discretion" as fixed under Colorado statutes will prevent the arrest or prosecution of Gloria Utter, age 5, who shot to death her 6 year old playmate, Rose May Etheridge, in an argument over a rag doll.

Authorities said today the infant assassin, not knowing the meaning of death, having no grasp of the abstractions of right and wrong, did not realize the enormity of her act. Colorado fixes the age of reason at 10 years.

After threatening her playmate with death, Gloria went to the garage of her home, obtained a rifle and fired at Rose Mays' back as the latter was leaving the back yard of a neighbor's home where the children had been playing.

U. S. SAILOR SHOT AS CHINESE REDS FIRE ON GUNBOAT

Three British Bluejackets Also Wounded.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 5 (Tuesday).—(AP) Belated Changsha dispatches today revealed one American and three British sailors were wounded in skirmishes between gunboats and communists at Changsha, Hunan province capital. The American, shot through the chest, lay on the gunboat Palos and the others were members of the British gunboat Teal's crew.

Dispatches said the Palos, which suffered five wounded last week when attacked by bandits five miles above Changsha, experienced a second attack yesterday. The latest skirmish occurred near the principal portion of Changsha.

Red machine gunners opened fire on the American gunboat. The Palos replied, silencing the communists. The sailor was wounded when machine gun bullets sprayed the Palos' armaments.

Italian and Japanese gunboats in the Siang river also were objects of communist machine gun fire from Changsha yesterday, dispatches said.

Details of the wounding of the three British bluejackets were lacking.

REDS REPEL ATTACK

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 4.—A wireless report from Japanese naval sources at Changsha, received here tonight, stated that Gen. Ho Chien, commander of Chinese government troops, made several attempts last night and early today to cross the Hsiang river. Each attempt failed, due to the strong defense of the communists entrenched in Changsha.

Gen. Ho Chien contemplated further attacks today with fresh reinforcements, but the result of these advances are as yet unknown.

Execute 100 Rich Chinamen.

It was stated that of 500 wealthy Chinese being held for ransom by the communists in Changsha, one hundred were executed, charged with resisting the Red troops.

A nationalist government report tonight claims that the communist attacks on Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi province, had been repulsed, but approximately 500 foreigners from the Kuling summer resort have evacuated.

There are now eleven foreign gunboats stationed at Kiukiang, including two American vessels.

In addition, Admiral McVay, commander of the American Asiatic fleet, aboard the flagship Pittsburgh, stationed at Tsingtao, has ordered the destroyers Bulmer and Sampson to proceed to Yangtsza ports immediately.

The communist action in firing on the Japanese gunboat Kotaka at Changsha yesterday was also responsible for Japanese orders to add to their Yangtsze flotilla at once. The Japanese gunboat silenced the Red attack by using machine guns and a three-pounder.

Girl Bather Is Knocked Unconscious by Canoe

ANNULMENT SUIT BARES ROMANCE OF ELOPING DEB

Engaged Society Miss Weds Another.

New York, Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Alney B. Mairs, members of one of the oldest families in Manhattan society, were reported today to be attempting to have annulled the recent marriage of their daughter, Marjorie, to Martin Henry, youthful Wall street bond salesman.

Miss Mairs, 21 year old débutante, eloped to Harrison, N. Y., with Henry and was there married at a dawn ceremony on June 20, it was revealed by the reported attempt at annulment.

Engagement Announced.

On Sept. 9, 1929, Mr. and Mrs. Mairs, who reside at 820 5th avenue and Greylock, Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., announced the engagement of their daughter to Daniel Francois-Marie Hubrecht, son of Dr. Jan Hubrecht, counselor of the Netherlands legation to the court of St. James, and Mme. Hubrecht of Ennismore Gardens, London, and it was expected that Miss Mairs and Mr. Hubrecht would be married this summer.

Mr. Hubrecht went to England to complete his studies at Cambridge university, and during his absence Miss Mairs resumed a friendship with Mr. Henry, whom she had known for many years.

Elopes to New Jersey.

Despite the announcement of her engagement, one of the leading society events of last fall, Miss Mairs with Miss Claire Keller, daughter of Albert Keller, president of the Ritz-Carlton corporation, and Everett Burnham, a Wall street associate of Henry went to Harrison. The marriage was performed early in the morning by Winfred C. Allen, justice of the peace.

Miss Mairs gave her age as 21. Mr. Henry gave his occupation as a salesman. He is 25. The marriage was the first for both the bride and bridegroom. The record revealed.

Mrs. Henry attended the Spence and Scoville schools and was introduced to society three years ago.

A Message to those who are going to buy a SILENT AUTOMATIC "Some Day"

by W. F. Faust

President, Silent Automatic Corporation

MOST of you who will read this have heard your friends and neighbors talking about the many advantages of Silent Automatic . . . you have been in homes that were unusually comfortable because a "Silent" was installed there . . . and you have seen the benefits of Silent Automatic ownership explained in advertisements. You have realized from all these things that it would be good to own a Silent Automatic . . . and you have made up your mind to install one . . . "some day".

What has kept you from buying . . . what is delaying your purchase now? Investigations have shown us that in most cases similar to yours, it is the mistaken impression that oil heat is costly.

Do you realize that you can install a Silent Automatic for less than you would pay for two tons of good coal? And that it can be paid for out of income, on any one of several plans of payment arranged for your convenience? That voluntary letters from hundreds of owners prove that its cost of operation is no more . . . in many instances even less, than you would pay for coal heat? And that, finally, its low original price should not delay your purchase, when you consider the many outstanding advantages that Silent Automatic will bring to you and your family, for years and years?

Knowing these facts about how easy it is to own a "Silent" . . . and how economical it is to operate . . . would it not be wise to make that "some day", TODAY? Your family will always thank you.

PRICED AS LOW AS
completely installed with a 275 gallon tank. (A variation may be made, depending on the size of your heating plant).

A small deposit will install a Silent Automatic in your home. Price includes oil storage tank, Minneapolis-Honeywell controls. All Silent Automatic models may be purchased on very favorable time payment terms.

There's NO Oil Burner Like Silent Automatic

Experience with your own furnace has taught you that to produce maximum heat the flame must constantly lick the entire wall of the fire-pot. This is exactly what is accomplished by Silent Automatic's wiping WALL-FLAME. No other oil burner has this slowly swirling flame—therefore, no other burner can equal Silent Automatic's efficient, dependable and economical performance. We will be glad to explain this in detail. It will give you a clearer understanding of what you have a right to expect from any oil burner . . . and what Silent Automatic actually actually gives you.

The Annual Sale in the Moderate Price Section Brings

These New Cloth Coats

With Very Much Fashion At Very Little Price

$60 and $67.50

These coats in the Annual Sale bear witness to the chic in new coat fashions and follow the ways of furs and fabrics this season. They follow the popular new coat silhouette that resembles a frock silhouette, with long, sweeping lines.

Then there's the new 1930 technique of subtle contrast in fur and fabric which you will note in

Black Fox on Dark Green or Black Broadcloth

$60

A very graceful flare beginning from high-placed seams at the sides gives this coat the smart wrap silhouette. The fox on the cuffs is set back and there are buttons on the sleeve cuff. Sizes for misses.

Caracul Paws in Smart One-Sided Silhouette

$67.50

The silhouette is almost straight and it wraps far around. Close contrast in fur and color of fabric in all black and in brown fur on dark green broadcloth, and brown on dark brown broadcloth. For women.

ROSENHEIM, LINGLE, ZUTA.

Zuta, the divekeeper, had been wanted by the police and by some outfit of killers. The police had him July 1 for questioning in the Lingle murder investigation and had turned him loose at night. The killers went after him at once and nearly succeeded in getting him, although he was under the protection of a police lieutenant at the time. In the fighting he got away and the police were not able to pick him up again. The killers were more successful. They found him last Friday night in Wisconsin and murdered him.

He probably wouldn't have talked if the police had found him, but now it is certain that he won't. The pattern of the gang murders is broadening out. It contains Rosenheim, Lingle, and Zuta. A plausible explanation of the last killing is that the divekeeper was suspected by the gangsters who procured Lingle's death, suspected of having said something or of being the kind of a man who would talk under pressure.

For whatever reason Zuta's killers wanted him they and not the police found him and proved that, for whatever may be the reasons, they can still keep out in advance of the efforts of law to overtake them.

TO STRENGTHEN CRIMINAL JUSTICE.

The Illinois and the Cook county judicial advisory councils have joined in a report embodying recommendations for the reform of our state criminal code which we hope the legislature will consider open-mindedly and with a full sense of the urgent need for improvement. There is a very large percentage of lawyers in the assembly, but that fact has not in the past assisted reform. On the contrary, lawyers have been the most persistent obstructionists, not only in our own state but wherever an attempt to correct the weaknesses of procedure or even the wrongs of substantive law has been made. The highly efficient system which England enjoys was formulated and adopted only after laymen had been added to the commission of reform and lay opinion had become imperative in its demand for relief.

We are hoping that in Illinois we shall not have to go through the long struggle which substantial reform has cost in many other jurisdictions. We already have had years of delay and there is now no sound reason for delay in the adoption of better methods. A vast amount of work has been done in the United States in gathering information, analyzing existing weaknesses, and considering improved methods. Our advisory councils and the legislature have, therefore, some very solid ground to go upon, and the latter may be certain there is an enlightened and insistent demand for action. This demand is especially forceable as to enforcement of criminal law, which is notoriously inadequate.

The recommendations of the councils seem to us to follow sound principles and to offer substantial means of improvement. The division of crimes into classes permits a better adjustment of procedure so as to get rid of some of the demoralizing cumbersomeness and delays of the present procedure by grand jury indictment without giving up the safeguards which that method throws about the individual in jeopardy of the extreme penalties.

This reform moves against the greatest weakness of our present procedure, delay. There is nothing less disputable than that promptness and certainty of punishment are more effective for the deterrence of crime than severity of penalty. In fact, severity, unless it is both prompt and proportionate to the average moral sense of the crime, does not work at all, for if through delay the offense has retreated too far into the past, or if the severity of the penalty rouses the fear of miscarriage of justice or offends the average moral sense, juries will not convict.

The very first objective to be sought in reform of our procedure against crime is, therefore, to simplify and speed up trials. The next, the councils seem to think and we agree, is to get rid of the obsolete jargon of indictments, and we wish the councils would make constructive suggestions to diminish the possibilities of technical error, so called. That any one accused of crime should have a full and fair trial and a proper review to insure him of that right no one would deny, but in our jealous regard of the safety of the accused we have gone to extremes which have profited the guilty rather than the innocent and often make a mockery of justice. Through various causes—including, we realize, some which changes in procedure do not correct, such as inefficiency in prosecution—persons charged with crime manage to get repeated trials and repeated reviews, with an inevitable increase of the chances for evading justice and even, in case of an eventual conviction, a decrease in the desirable social effect of public punishment.

The councils' proposal to vest in the judge the power to fix the penalty, leaving the jury to decide on the fact of guilt alone, will be met, we suspect, with considerable objection. It is an old issue in our country, preceding the founding of the nation. The colonists in their struggle for independence were unwilling to surrender to judges appointed by the king the power to fix penalties, and insisted that the jury should be judges of the law as well as of the fact. In our time no king appoints our judges. In our own states the people elect them, which it would seem would remove the more serious objection to vesting in an agent expert in the law the authority to apply it. But there is some lack of confidence in the judiciary and some fear of the intervention of improper motives. Whether these are strong enough to defeat the proposed change we would not predict. The proposal, at any rate, will have substantial support and deserves fair and thorough consideration.

As to the mitigation of existing penalties and their better adjustment to offense there will be little objection. As Judge Denis Sullivan, one of the Cook county council, says, swift and certain punishment is the essential of effective justice, and we trust he is right in his prediction that the adoption of the proposals will be the death knell of red tape and legal hair splitting. The sources of crime lie deeper than legal procedure, but a certain and expeditious administration of the criminal law will go a long way toward reducing criminal activity to tolerable limits. This reform is by far the most pressing and important duty the legislature is likely to have before it.

CORN PASSES WHEAT.

The price of corn is higher than the price of wheat. The relationship is so unusual that it would attract attention under any circumstances, but it is especially noteworthy this year when the government has been buying wheat to maintain prices while no such support has been given the corn market.

The exact amount of money which the government has put into wheat is not certain, but it is probably not less than $50,000,000 and it may be much more. Some weeks ago James C. Stone, vice chairman of the farm board, said the total of the farm board's advances on all crops had been $175,000,000, and that of that amount $35,000,000 had been repaid, leaving $140,000,000 outstanding. It has been generally assumed that the operations in wheat have been the farm board's largest commitment.

Meanwhile nothing has been done to bolster the price of corn. There has been no campaign for acreage reduction, no appeal to withhold corn from the market, and no government purchases. The government has not even taken any steps to increase the market for corn sugar. Nevertheless, the price of corn has been climbing while wheat has been falling just as persistently.

The explanation, of course, is as simple as it could be. The weather was not unfavorable to wheat, but the heat and drought in the corn belt have destroyed much of the corn crop already and threaten more damage if the rains do not come promptly. Once more the fact has been demonstrated that the weather, a wholly uncontrollable factor in crop production, is also the dominant factor. A large acreage, given unfavorable weather, will produce a small yield, and vice versa. Over a period of years acreage reduction may well have its expected effect in raising prices, but no one can predict its consequences in any one year.

The farmers owe it to themselves to study the corn-wheat relationship this year with care. If there is no advantage to them in government purchases of grain, aid of this sort had better be suspended, as it is costly to the taxpayers and apparently of no profit to any one. Certainly on the record to date the farmers have had little except disappointment from the government's entrance into the grain market.

MR. WEIL CREATES ANOTHER OPUS.

A citizen of Kalamazoo looking over pictures in the detective bureau identified three Chicago capitalists who had done him out of $15,000 in a copper deal in which no copper appeared. The principal capitalist of the three proved to be Mr. Joseph Weil, the Yellow Kid, who leaving Leavenworth five months ago had pledged himself to the world to devote his talents to the better things of life.

Mr. Weil had engaged the Kalamazoo citizen's interest in copper by having two silent Chinese sit in a room in which he discussed another business affair. The Chinese owned an Arizona copper mine and undervalued it. Mr. Weil was about to conclude a very profitable transaction with them. He was persuaded to give the Kalamazoo citizen an interest in it.

Mr. Weil's addiction, it is to be feared, will prove too strong for his better nature, the counsels of his experience and the ambitions of his conscience. It is his artist's blood. He creates these lovely swindles as works of art, sufficient in themselves. It is his genius to play with human nature, and he can't desist. His art will have its penitentiaries, but when Joseph feels another swindle coming on him prudence becomes craven and inspiration everything. Any other man would have used two brown and bucolic westerners. Only Mr. Weil would have made them Chinese.

Editorial of the Day

EXTRA FARE TRAINS.

[New York Evening Post.]

In preparation for early hearings by the interstate commerce commission on the question of extra fare trains, three western railroads have filed briefs to show the popular demand for this special service and its increasingly necessary rôle in transportation. In the east the number of these trains has greatly increased within the last few years.

Until recently no question had been raised regarding this popular and profitable feature of railroad travel. The public has shown its practical appreciation of more luxurious equipment and faster schedules by its willingness to pay for them. It has been necessary for the railroads to run some of the most famous trains in two, three and even four sections in the season of heaviest traffic. Obviously, any tendency to force the public to use these high priced trains by curtailing the ordinary service would call for regulation by the commission. But cheaper and slower trains, which would have been considered marvels of transportation only a few years ago, are generally available.

It is said that some members of the commission believe the interstate commerce act contains no authority for these extra charges. It is rather late in the day to make that discovery. The railroads have spent millions of dollars on special equipment and have instituted time saving schedules. "Extra charges for extra service" is a logical rule prevailing in other businesses, and there is no reason why railroading should be an exception.

FARMERS WORK AT NIGHT.

DURING the recent hot wave the press carried a story that said the farmers in Nebraska and Kansas were working by moonlight and sleeping by daylight. The wonder is that this has not become the custom. There is little to be said in favor of midday farm work in midsummer. When the moonlight is bright the worker can accomplish more in the cooler night in spite of the somewhat poorer illumination. During the first quarter of the new moon, by starting to work in the late afternoon and working several hours by moonlight, he can get in the required hours. During the last quarter he can accomplish the same end by starting during the moonlight hours and keeping at it until the middle of the forenoon.

There are health advantages in such an arrangement. It is true that farmers working in the field, even in very hot weather, rarely suffer from sunstroke or heat exhaustion, but it does not follow that they are not otherwise harmed by the exposure. There is a variety of skin cancer that is especially prone to develop in the deeply tanned skin of farmers. Hot work in the field causes profuse sweating. This lowers the salt content of the body, thus inducing cramps of different kinds.

Some farmers overcome this by adding a little salt to their drinking water. The profuse sweating disturbs the water balance of the body and this disturbs the work of some important organs. Some farmers meet this by drinking very freely. A certain farmer had the habit of taking a five gallon jug of buttermilk to the field with him daily. He grew to be very much overweight and died finally from diabetes. Drinking excessive quantities of buttermilk was responsible for his obesity, and obesity, somehow, is apt to lead to diabetes.

There is some reason for thinking that excessive exposure to sunlight in maturity tends to promote senescence. It is possible that these Kansas and Nebraska farmers are adding to their span of life by working by moonlight and staying in the shade during the hours of excessive glare.

SOME CANCER CAUSES.

T. R. writes:

1. Some people say cancer is caused directly by worry, overwork, irregular eating, eating when aggravated, not having 8 hours sleep every night. What do you think about this?
2. Could a nervous breakdown cause a cancer in the stomach?
3. What does this come from? The sufferer has had dyspepsia more or less all through life.
4. The patient raises a lot of long, sticky, white shreds of mucus. Is there danger in handling this?

REPLY.

1. Nothing in it.
2. No.
3. I do not know what causes cancer of the stomach. Among causes alleged, with some reason, are eating and drinking hot foods, old ulcers of the stomach. Whatever would cause a chronic dyspepsia might cause cancer in time.
4. No.

CANCER AND MATTRESS.

Mrs. A. A. writes:

1. Could sleeping pillows be made and used with safety out of a feather mattress that had been on the bed of a cancer patient for a year?
2. Is cancer inherited?

REPLY.

1. Yes.
2. No.

AVOID EXPOSURE.

Mrs. F. R. writes: I got a severe sunburn over the week-end. I did not get any blisters on my body but my lips and mouth are all blisters and very swollen and itchy.

REPLY.

You are probably over this experience and will not repeat it this season.

Your description suggests that you are sensitized to light and suffered from a reaction something like hives rather than ordinary sunburn. The simplest method of prevention is to avoid exposure.

BANKRUPT.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Having signed several assignments of wages, will you please advise me if I can include same in a bankrupt schedule? J. L. P.

Your personal obligation for the debt could be barred by bankruptcy, but the collateral security transaction would stand just as a real estate mortgage stands where the maker's personal liability on the notes is being barred by bankruptcy.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NOT METER'S FAULT.

Chicago, July 31.—[Friend of the People.]—My father is the owner of a three flat building on Campbell avenue in which the city installed a water meter a short time ago.

The water bills which are received each month amount to about $4.00 (even though no laundry work or gardening has been done by the tenants, which consist of small families), while our friends who own a six flat building receive bills that amount to no more than ours. Altogether, it seems to us that the water bills which we have received are exorbitant.

Although he made a complaint in regard to this, no action was taken, and it would be greatly appreciated if an investigation of this matter could be secured somehow. MRS. R. E. H.

Alleged excessive or exorbitant water meter bills are due to leakage or wastage. Repair of leaks and abatement of waste conserve the water supply and restore the consumption and bills to normal. Evidently action was taken, as the owner at Campbell avenue had a plumber repair water closet leakage about one month ago. Test by our meter and plumbing examiner showed no leakage at present and indicated a normal consumption of water.

A. J. DEVEREAUX,

TO PROBATE ESTATE.

Chicago, July 31.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Please explain to me what the difference is between an administrator and an executor of an estate? What are the duties of each? L. P.

An administrator is the personal representative appointed by the court where the deceased has made no selection.

An executor is the personal representative appointed by the deceased by the will.

Duties: To probate the estate.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

AND IF THEY DON'T GET YOU THE MOTOR COPS MUST!

You have heard so much about how stern Indiana is to those who have any of the Demon Drink in their autos that people who carry a little something on the hip when they go touring get quite a scare when their car is ordered to halt by uniformed men down in the Hoosier State. With cold, stern faces the officials approach the car, glance suspiciously at the occupants, and ask coldly, "Have you got any corn?" A guilty conscience at once suggests the inspectors are looking for corn juice and it's a long, anxious moment. But, no! The Indiana Home Guards are merely hunting for corn-borers, and if you're a corn-borer, or look anything like a corn-borer, or if you have any sweet corn in your possession that might harbor corn-borers you're in bad. But corn juice—that's another story. And there's plenty of sleuths around who will take care of you if you got anything like that around your car.

Life is getting more complex every day; we're stopped when we come back to the country and searched thoroughly to find out if we've tried to smuggle anything; dry sleuths are on our trail all the time. And now we have to be held up on suspicion that we're corn-borers. Probably down south they stop you and find out if you're a boll weevil on your way to destroy the cotton crop. Anyhow, it might not be a bad idea to get pictures of the corn-borer and the boll weevil and study them closely, and then look in the glass and see if you look like 'em. If you do, get some false whiskers and green goggles to change your appearance. Maybe nowadays the best thing to do is to go down cellar and stay there. Otherwise, they're going to get you for something or other; it's a cinch!

DEEP WATER.

Something waves in my heart disturbing me as the sea-grasses waving in the sea move the deep water.
It is the stillness that lies behind your eyes and the cold winds that hide in your breath
as you speak.

And yet as the sea-grasses wave
so does the sea beat the shore.
And as my heart beats against me
so do I beat against life, knowing that you can never give me what I want nor I you.

JEANNE DELAMARTER.

THE AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION somewhat caustically declares that if the government is going to buy all the surplus of wheat and store it to keep up the price, why not take charge of coal, also a basic industry, and also in the doldrums. Likewise the oil business, in which crude oil is now selling too low. And, why not? Likewise the newspaper colyum industry. With Cal Coolidge and many other eminent persons horning in there is now a serious amount of unemployment among columnists and this great basic industry is languishing. We shriek to high heaven for justice and ask that column conducting, as well as wheat, be put on the dole.

WELL, WELL! Whither are we drifting? Mencken, the woman hater, announces his engagement, and Heywood Broun, who places his broad shoulders against the pillars of the temple of government and heaves and heaves, is going to run for congress. Alas our idols—feet of clay, feet of clay!

REASON.

Drudgery hardens—
Cruelties another—
Love might have rescued
Many a mother.

Life grew to one thing—
Sending her mad—
Tearing off days from a
Calendar pad.

RUTH ATWATER.

Louder, Tony, Louder! They Didn't Seem to Hear You!

Tony Cermak says in his sage words of warning printed in his new Cook county map: "Do not pass another car on a curve or on top of a hill, at highway intersections, at railroad grade crossings, or anywhere else when it is not safe to do so." We were touring around Mich. and Ind. last Sat. and Sun. and we discovered that the average motorist loves to pass other cars. [1] On a curve. [2] On top of a hill. [3] At highway intersections. [4] At railway grade crossings. [5] Or anywhere else where it is not safe to do so. But maybe Tony's map is not circulated in Mich. or Ind.

NATURALLY, we do not blame the administration in Washington for the long protracted drought. Oh, not at all. How can the administration help it? Certainly not. We're fair-minded and everything, and we're not sore or nothin', but, by gravy, wait till the election comes next November and see if we don't make somebody suffer. Wow!

LOSSES.

You asked me what had happened . . .
I said I lost a dream,
That slipped into a pool of stars
Beside a mountain stream.

You feigned a little sorrow,
You probably did your best . . .
Oh, well, you never lose a thing
But buttons from your vest.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 5, 1914.

LONDON.—Great Britain declared war on Germany at 7 o'clock tonight [Aug. 4]. The British government last night served notice to the German government that all diplomatic relations were severed and that a "state of war exists from 11 p. m., Aug. 4." Sir Edward Goschen, British ambassador at Berlin, has received his passports. The public statement says that the action was due "to the summary rejection by the German government of the request made by his Britannic majesty's government that the neutrality of Belgium should be respected."

LONDON.—Immediately on the decision to fight the admiralty flashed this order to the British fleet by wireless: "Great Britain declares war on Germany. Capture or destroy the enemy." It is believed here that a naval battle already is in progress.

BRUSSELS.—It is rumored here that following a demand by the Germans for the surrender of the city of Liege an engagement ensued in which the Germans were repulsed. All Germans have been expelled from Liege and Namur. Belgium is prepared for war. The chamber of deputies passed a bill appropriating $40,000,000 for purposes of defense. The action followed circulation of rumors that Germany had actually declared war on Belgium.

PARIS.—Two German cruisers have been sunk and one captured by a French fleet returning from Trieste. Premier Viviani, in a speech to the chamber of deputies, threw the blame for the war on Germany and declared that France is ready to fight not only the kaiser but all his allies.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 5, 1900.

WASHINGTON.—China and the United States have approached a stage near actual war as a result of the Chinese government's refusal to allow cipher messages to be sent to United States Minister Conger at Peking. This word was communicated by Minister Wu by direction of the Chinese foreign office. The message says that the foreign ministers in Peking are all safe and well.

CHICAGO.—Yesterday was the hottest day of the year, the thermometer in the Auditorium tower marking 94 degrees at 4 and 5 p. m. The highest previous mark was 92 degrees on July 14.

GEORGETOWN, Ky.—Attorneys for the prosecution in the trial of Caleb Powers as accessory to the murder of William Goebel have made public a signed and corrected confession by Henry E. Youtsey which makes damaging accusations against ex-Gov. Taylor. The confession does not implicate Powers further than that the fatal shot was fired from his office.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 5, 1865.

WASHINGTON.—A state convention of Virginia Negroes began its session at Alexandria with a dignity and propriety that even their enemies are quite willing to confess. Several of the more prominent Negroes were called on for speeches. The following, by Mr. Edward Williams, may be taken as a specimen: "Gentlemen and fellow citizens: I call you so because you are announced as such by the general government. It is necessary for you to exercise your brains and qualify yourselves for the enjoyment of the privileges of freemen. Our former masters told us that we could not take care of ourselves when they left us to war against the north; but when they came back many of them had no clothes and no money; so that we could and had to clothe them and pay their board bills. The nigger has a pocketbook and they had always been fed and clothed out of it."

NEW YORK.—Gen. Ortega, a representative of the Mexican republic, was given a significant ovation by a large crowd of friends and sympathizers when he appeared at Delmonico's on 5th avenue evening before last. During the evening a letter from Gen. Phil Sheridan was read. It is strong against Maximilian and urges that the United States should give a permanent government to Mexico.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full name and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

ELEVATION PROPOSED.

Chicago, July 30.—There is only one solution of the problem of the tracks on Lake Shore drive, and that is to have the boulevard on an elevation up to or beyond Chicago avenue. The risk and danger to the general public by reckless auto drivers who will pass there and hinder the pedestrians, who now take advantage of the lake in this vicinity in untold numbers, and to those who use the Chicago avenue line to reach the pier, is a serious situation to consider. T. S. O'DONNELL.

OVERLOOKING THE PEDESTRIAN.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Why all the noise about street car tracks on the near north side? It seems everything that is done lately is for the good of auto drivers only. How are the medium class of people without cars, like myself, going to get to the lake if the street cars don't run along the lake from the pier to Chicago avenue? CHARLES E. COOPER.

INTEREST ON SAVINGS.

Chicago, July 26.—The difference in practice between many of the savings banks in Chicago and those in other cities is not alone the rate of interest paid, mentioned by your correspondent, but in the severe rules which the Chicago banks apply to their savings deposits, resulting in nonpayment of interest on a large percentage thereof.

Since I returned to Chicago from New York, where I lived for a few years, I have retained my savings accounts in that city for the reason that the savings banks in that city pay not less than 4 per cent interest and some pay higher. In addition, however, they all compound interest four times a year and pay interest for every day the money is on deposit. For example, a sum deposited in a New York bank, say on Jan. 2 of any year and withdrawn on June 28, would receive interest for every day, whereas the practice of many Chicago banks would result in absolutely no interest being paid. J. H. C. KIRK.

AMERICANA.

Chicago, July 29.—The man I have in mind possesses probably the greatest intellectuality in the country. He abhors politicians and allied crooks and can spot a grafter farther away than any man I know of. He will not carry the votes of Tennessee and the other monkey states; neither will he receive the support of Bishop Cannon nor Mr. Heinz, Mr. Chandler, or Mr. Kresge. He is a man of profound mental qualifications and education, is possessed of unlimited courage, and, as far as I know, has never had any political affiliations. His brains will more than balance the paucity of that commodity, the lack of which is so evident in congress. I propose the name of Henry L. Mencken, who, if elected, will present to the nation that spectacle to which we are so unaccustomed: A President of the United States associating with honest men. J. C. HILL, M. D.

FRAGRANCE.

Chicago, July 26.—Send one of your reporters to Milwaukee and let him get a good smell of the Milwaukee river. It's a wonder we don't smell it way down here. S. F. SMYTHE.

DESERT LIFE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, July 26.—After eight hours of work in the clean, sanitary loop, and a thirty minute ride on the noiseless, cinderless Rock Island, I arrive at my third floor apartment at five-thirty p. m. If the day has not been too warm, that is, not over eighty degrees, I may be able to take a shower, if I hurry, as the water supply is gradually diminishing. Of course if there is not enough power to force the water to my apartment I can go to the basement and very easily carry several buckets of water to my apartment, a mere five flights of stairs, for a sponge bath.

But I must hurry and prepare dinner. I am having guests and in twenty minutes the water supply will be gone. If I am lucky my dinner will be cooking by that time and I can look forward to an enforced rest of at least three hours before I will be able to wash the dishes. If I am unlucky or a little late I either wait three hours for my dinner or go to a restaurant. At nine-thirty the people in the neighborhood are usually tired of sprinkling their lawns and giving their children shower baths and I will begin to have a little water.

It really is a wonderful sight, when your throat is parched from thirst, to see the children frolicking in the spray of a garden hose and the streets freshly sprinkled. What matters it to them if we spend waterless evenings in our $80 a month apartment? It is no concern of theirs. (MRS.) ANN W. BROCKHOF.

HE DOESN'T LIKE PIPE ORGANS.

Chicago, July 19.—We tuned in on the W-G-N radio program today about noon and found a pipe organ going at full blast. Then we tried others and found pipe organs going, which prompts us to inquire who originated the idea that a pipe organ is a musical instrument anyway. Of course, if a jazz orchestra and a drum corps are musical instruments, then we concede a pipe organ is also, and even a male quartet. E. M. H.

THE PRICE OF A SENATE SEAT.

Oregon, Ill., July 28.—Some one observes that the price of a stock exchange seat is—or was—around four hundred thousand dollars, but that the price of a senate seat in Illinois is only two hundred and fifty thousand. Cheap cynicism, of course, but it emphasizes a point that is becoming increasingly evident. The direct primary makes it downright impossible for a candidate to a populous state to make a strong fight in a state-wide campaign without spending some money. Radio space, theaters—to mention but two items out of many—are expensive, and I remember that some years ago it cost sixty thousand dollars to circularize the state of Illinois once. HARLAN B. KAUFFMAN.

WHY NOT!

Chicago, July 21.—Why cannot some system of lights be installed on the bridges over the river so as to notify the pilot of the tug that the bridge tender knows the tug is coming and is prepared to raise the bridge? This would aid materially in lessening the volume of noise in the loop district, as at present the tugs and other boats continually blow their horns from one end of the loop to the other during their progress up the river. GERMAN AIRMEN QUIT FLIGHT TO U. S. IN ICELAND

Lack of Landing Fields in Greenland Reason.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Wolfram Hirth and Oscar Weller, the young German aviators attempting to fly from Germany to Chicago by way of Iceland and Greenland, today were forced to abandon their project for want of a suitable landing place in Greenland.

Hirth, packing up their small monoplane, sailed with it aboard the liner Minnedosa this evening for Montreal, Canada, and intends to fly from there to New York. Weller expects to take the next ship home to Germany, which they left on July 24, stopping at Cologne, Calais, France; London, and Kirkwall, in the Orkney islands.

The young airmen reached Iceland Aug. 1, landing on a temporary field not far from Reykjavik. Since then they have waited for permission to fly on to Greenland, the next stage of their flight. The governor of Greenland, however, notified them that there was no safe and suitable landing place in the south part of the country, where they had planned to stop en route to Labrador and Montreal.

Gas Fails to Arrive.

The aviators also were held up by the nonarrival of a special gasoline they used in their plane. Six weeks ago they received a telegram from Copenhagen saying that a supply had been sent to Iceland, but they never located it.

While the airplane was being packed Hirth received a letter from the director of Greenland affairs at Copenhagen stating that, as the flight would cause some expense and trouble to the government, the aviators would not be allowed to land unless they deposited the sum of $2,700.

R-100 May Fly over Canada.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 4.—If weather conditions are favorable the R-100 will make one flight over Canadian cities before starting back to England about the middle of the month, it was officially stated at St. Hubert airport this afternoon. The trip will combine the previously scheduled separate flights to Ottawa and Toronto in one. The flight to Quebec has been canceled.

The statement also said that repairs to the damaged fin were delayed by yesterday's strong winds, but if the weather conditions improve it is hoped to complete the repairs by Wednesday night. The flight to Ontario cities may then start Friday.

Wing Commander R. B. B. Colmore, senior aviation official on board the R-100, and Squadron Leader R. S. Booth, captain of the dirigible, will fly to Ottawa tomorrow morning by plane. They will visit the governor general, Lord Willingdon.

Two hundred feet above the ground, three riggers today worked to repair the damaged fin. They are lacing a piece of canvas, 450 feet square over the hole made on the stabilizing fin during its flight down the St. Lawrence river to Montreal. The men worked from the inside of the fin.

Mears Wants His Dog Back.

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., Aug. 4.—(AP)—John Henry Mears, aspirant for a new round the world speed record, today was only nominally concerned over his badly wrecked airplane, but was gravely anxious over the fate of Tail Wind II., a little dog and mascot. The dog, which accompanied him, disappeared with a tiny yelp just after the crash. Mears believes a souvenir hunter coaxed his pet away. He has offered a reward for its return.

Mears, who finished the first 1,100 mile leg of his round the world trip from New York in excellent time Saturday, was not unduly downcast when disaster overtook him yesterday.

"We are down, but not out," he said. "We will try again. If not this year, in 1931."

Mears was generous toward his pilot, Henry J. Brown, who was at the controls, and said that he did not blame him for the unsuccessful take-off. Today Brown and a mechanic were busy packing parts of the plane and preparing them for shipment to New York.

REPORT NAVY WILL CANCEL CONTRACT FOR SECOND BIG DIRIGIBLE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Reports that the navy department, on the ground of economy, is about to cancel the contract for construction of the second of the two giant dirigibles to be built by the Goodyear-Zeppelin company were current tonight, but lacking confirmation in the absence of Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams.

One of the two great airships, to surpass anything built or building in the world, is now under construction at Akron, O., and, already christened "The Akron," is scheduled for completion on July 1, 1931. Construction of the second, known as the ZRS-5, was to have been begun immediately after tests of the first were completed.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Jahncke, acting secretary during Mr. Adams' absence, declined to discuss the report of a canceled contract or to comment on other reports that the opinion of one school in the navy is that dirigibles have yet to prove their military usefulness.

PIONEER STORE HOST TO MANY 'ON ANNIVERSARY

Hundreds of merchants from many parts of the country reached Chicago yesterday to assist Carson Pirie Scott & Co. in the celebration of the store's seventy-sixth anniversary. Guests were entertained yesterday at the wholesale house of the pioneer department store, at 366 West Adams street, where a reproduction of the original store started at La Salle, Ill., was set up on the main floor.

Among the numerous displays prepared, the visitors were attracted to a 25 foot working model of the 1933 World's Fair in which the proposed buildings are shown.

A party of Indianapolis business men headed by A. D. Skiles, a prominent merchant, will fly to Chicago today to attend the anniversary celebration, which will continue through the week. The plane is expected to reach the Municipal airport this morning.

500,000 BRITISH CHEER GIRL LINDY FOR EPIC FLIGHT

Amy Johnson Comes Home After Australian Hop.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Amy Johnson, the 23-year-old girl flyer, returned to England by air tonight to receive the applause of a crowd of nearly 500,000, headed by three cabinet ministers, for the courage she displayed on her solitary flight to Australia last April across stretches of desert and jungle.

She left Vienna at 7 a. m. on the India mail plane but her arrival from Brussels was delayed three hours because of a gale and slight engine trouble. But the crowd at Croydon airdrome waited patiently until she appeared in the gathering dusk against a high bank of rainclouds at 9 o'clock.

Greeted by Family.

There was a thundering ovation from the vast throng as the girl flyer stepped from the cabin of the trimotored ship and darted to the arms of her family, her father, mother and two younger sisters.

After that there was a string of officials standing in line under the floodlights of the airdrome waiting to congratulate her on her feat. These were headed by Lord Thomson, secretary of state for the air; Margaret Bondfield, minister of labor; J. H. Thomas, lord privy seal, and the mayor of Hull, Amy's home town.

The crowd was held back by chains, ropes, and cordons of police to prevent recurrence of the scenes which occurred in 1927 when the crowds broke through and mobbed Col. Lindbergh. Amy was escorted to the flag draped platform in front of the station. Then she blew kisses to the cheering thousands. But all Amy was able to say was:

"I am very glad to be home again."

She had to give up further attempts at speechmaking as cheers drowned out her voice.

Admirers Wait for Hours.

The reception at Croydon was not the only mark of admiration given her by the Londoners, for thousands more lined the automobile route over which the girl was driven back to the city. More than 100,000 more swarming on the Embankment, in Trafalgar square and in the Mall where they had been waiting for three hours to cheer Amy.

The girl has been showered with gifts and commercial offers, but she is going into retirement as soon as she finishes the rounds of receptions prepared in her honor. She has a gold mine in offers for endorsements and news articles, but is reported to be upset by charges in Australian newspapers that she is seeking payment for everything.

DISCONTENT IN HAITI AT APPOINTMENT OF DR. COLVIN REPORTED

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Hints of new troubles for Uncle Sam in Haiti were disclosed today in a letter to Secretary of State Stimson from Jean G. Lamothe, secretary general of the Haitian Patriotic union, complaining that the American occupation had so far failed to coöperate with M. Eugene Roy, provisional president of the black republic, that the latter threatened to resign.

Appointment of Dr. Carl Colvin, formerly state supervisor of vocational education in Illinois, to succeed Dr. George Freeman as director of the Haitian Service Technique d'Agriculture, is cited in Lamothe's letter as a climax of a series of incidents which have fanned dissatisfaction throughout the island.

Colvin, as assistant director of the Service Technique during the Freeman régime, is held largely responsible by the patriotic union, the most powerful native political organization in Haiti, for the alleged abuses which led to the students' uprising last December and appointment of the Forbes investigating commission by President Hoover.

The patriotic union also objects to the return of Brig. Gen. J. H. Russell as American high commissioner in Haiti until M. Roy's successor has been elected.

KINGSFORD-SMITH OPERATED UPON FOR APPENDICITIS

MIDDELBURG, Holland, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, famous Australian airman, who recently flew with three companions from Ireland to the United States, was operated on at 9:15 p. m. today at the Middelburg hospital for acute appendicitis. Doctors said later the operation had been successful.

Dr. Charles Koch, a Dutch surgeon, performed the operation.

The famous aviator, who had been resting at the home of Hendrik Willem Van Loon, the Dutch-American author and journalist, at Verre, Zeeland, was taken to Middelburg this afternoon for observation.

FAMOUS FRENCH FLYERS COMING TO AIR RACES

Marcel Doret and Emil Dewoitine, famous French flyers, are coming to Chicago to perform before the crowds at the 1930 national air races, which will be held at Curtiss field from Aug. 23 to Sept. 1, according to a cablegram received yesterday by directors of the race meet here.

Doret is a French war hero and an outstanding acrobatic flyer. He formerly held several world's airplane speed records. Dewoitine is a pioneer designer of light aircraft in the post-war period. Word that the two flyers are coming to Chicago was sent here by Lieut. Ai Williams, former navy flying ace, who is in Europe lining up continental talent to perform here.

News dispatches yesterday also stated that Marshal Pietro Columbo of the crack Italian first pursuit squadron will be Italy's representative at the races.

GRANDMA GIVES BIRTH TO TWINS, DAUGHTER TO BOY

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Mrs. Helen Smoley and her eldest daughter, Mrs. Anna Kampe, lie in adjoining rooms in the Smoley homestead at Whittaker.

First, John Kampe Jr. was announced—a baby boy around eight pounds. That was this afternoon. That made Mrs. Kampe a mother and Mrs. Smoley a grandmother. Then five hours later came a second announcement. This time the recorder marked down Frances Dolores and Florence Dorothy Smoley—twin girls. That gave Mrs. Smoley two new daughters, Mrs. Kampe two new sisters. Although the twins are girls and the Kampe baby is a boy, both mothers insisted that distinguishing marks be placed on them before permitting the nurse to place the three in the bath pan.

Take Sugar-Coated Tablets for Cod Liver Oil's Full Benefits without the Taste

Do you believe in miracles? You must if you are a student of modern science. For example, Thomas Edison now successfully produces high grade rubber from ordinary goldenrod. And a former chemistry instructor at Yale University has perfected a process for extracting the wonderful health-and-growth vitamins from cod liver oil and putting them full strength into sugar-coated tablets.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets—as they are called—are the modern scientific answer to the universal need for a more pleasant way to take cod liver oil—freed from fishy taste, odor and oiliness. Anybody can get McCoy's—all druggists sell them.

The boundless skill and resources of the modern laboratory have resulted in a safe, pleasant and efficient weight, strength and energy builder — McCoy's increased the weight and strength of a little Maywood, N. J., girl to such an amazing extent that her mother, Mrs. Henry H. Manchester, wrote an enthusiastic letter about the case with which children take these sugar-coated tablets.

McCoy's have been tested and approved by the Good Housekeeping Bureau of Foods, Sanitation and Health, and all druggists guarantee them—60 tablets 60 cents.

CRIMINAL CODE REVISION WINS PRAISE OF BAR

Proposed Changes Would Speed Justice.

The program of the Illinois and Cook county judicial councils to speed justice and make punishment more certain through revision of the criminal code was praised yesterday by judges and lawyers. The plan is to be submitted to the next session of the legislature in January.

The councils propose to limit the number of crimes punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary by dividing all crimes into five classes. Only those in the first class are to be punishable by penitentiary imprisonment. In the second class are crimes punishable by imprisonment in other institutions for no more than three years. The remaining classes are for less serious offenses. The plan provides that the second offender against crimes of the first two classes may be sent to the penitentiary for life at the discretion of the trial judge.

Judge Would Fix Terms.

The plan would limit the work of juries to determine merely the guilt or innocence of the accused and allow the judge to fix punishment up to the provided maximum. It would also limit the necessity for grand juries and simplify procedure.

Judge Harry B. Miller, who has sat in the Criminal court for five years, said, "The criminal code certainly needs revision. I believe the proposed changes are a necessary notable step. Certainly no one is more fit than a judge to fix penalties.

"The present code visits the same punishment on a man who breaks into a woodshed as one who breaks into a house. It is obsolete. As for the limiting of duties of grand juries, I am in favor of the move."

Other expressions of opinion follow:

Sidney S. Gorham: "The program is highly desirable. It lists remarkable accomplishments. Modern investigation has shown that certainty of punishment though lower sentences makes for effective justice. This is proven in England, where nineteen out of twenty crimes are punished rather than the one out of twenty here."

Francis X. Busch: "The program is a carefully prepared plan. I believe that its adoption will result in a drastic reduction of crime and that its working will speed justice."

Weymouth Kirkland: "The criminal code is in need of revision. The work of the councils is a worthy undertaking and should receive support from every one."

Floyd Thompson, former chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court: "I think the revision proposed is good and should have been undertaken long ago. I hope that the drafting of the bills will be done after mature consideration of the needs for betterment."

Government to Take a Hand to Stop "Blackjacking" Ads

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A determination to end the practice of certain advertisers of "blackjacking" newspaper publishers into printing advertising matter as news was voiced today by the postoffice department.

The department said the advertisers to whom it referred had attempted to wield a "club" over the heads of certain publishers by threatening them with the loss of display advertisements if they did not use publicity matter sent them as news or for editorial purposes.

In response to complaints by a number of newspaper publishers, the department added it had been making an investigation of methods pursued by certain advertisers. It said newspaper publishers who comply with such requests might be guilty of contributing to an act of conspiracy against the government in conjunction with the advertiser in depriving it of revenue.

Subject to $10,000 Fine.

Both the advertiser and publisher might be subject to a $10,000 fine or two years' imprisonment, or both, the announcement said.

Frederic A. Tilton, third assistant postmaster general, issued the following statement explaining the department's position:

"It has come to the attention of the department that publicity articles are being offered by some advertising concerns to publishers for insertion as reading matter in copies of their publications mailed at the second class pound rates of postage. The requests accompanying such publicity articles give the publisher to understand that if he does not comply with the request to insert the publicity matter in his publication he may not expect display advertising. On the other hand, if he publishes the publicity matter as reading matter he may expect to be favored with display advertising.

"Matter inserted in a publication under the conditions above mentioned clearly comes within the purview of the act of Aug. 24, 1912, embodied in the postal laws and regulations and must be plainly marked with the printed word 'advertisement' in each copy and is likewise chargeable with the zone rates of postage prescribed for the advertising portion of publications. Failure of a publisher so to mark matter coming within the provisions of the act mentioned, is made punishable by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500.

Straight Editorial Matter.

"The request also implies that the advertiser expects the publisher to insert the publicity matter as straight editorial or reading matter without marking it with the printed word 'advertisement' as required by law. If the publisher should comply with such requests under the conditions referred to and should insert the matter in his publication without plainly marking it with the word 'advertisement,' thus withholding from the postal service the fact that the matter is advertising within the meaning of the law, and thus lead to deprive the government of its just revenue, the action might constitute a conspiracy within the contemplation of the act of March 4, 1909, embodied in the postal laws and regulations, which read as follows:

"'If two or more persons conspire either to commit any offense against the United States or to defraud the United States in any manner or for any purpose, and one or more of such parties do any act to effect the object of the conspiracy, each of the parties to such conspiracy shall be fined not more than ten thousand dollars or imprisoned not more than two years, or both.'"

OESTERREICH'S WIDOW ON TRIAL FOR HIS SLAYING

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich went to trial today on a murder charge, growing out of the killing in 1922 of her husband, Fred Oesterreich, wealthy retired Milwaukee manufacturer.

Otto Sanhuber, Mrs. Oesterreich's confessed sweetheart, who had lived for years in attics of Oesterreich homes, recently was tried for murder in the same case. He was convicted of manslaughter and because the crime is outlawed in California if no charge is brought for three years he was freed.

This twist of the law figured in selection of a jury to try the widow. Over prosecution objection her attorneys asked jurors if they would incline to return a murder verdict knowing manslaughter is outlawed in three years.

Jurors accepted by the defense said that would make no difference.

Widow Sues for $50,000 in Insurance Stock Case

The praecipe of a $50,000 suit against the Universal Life Insurance company of St. Louis was filed in Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Sophia Boesche, 65 years old, a widow living on a farm near Des Plaines. Her attorney, Walter W. Duft, said the suit involved purchase of stock in the insurance company by Mrs. Boesche.

LABOR DISPUTE PERILS COUNTY'S CITY PAVING JOB

Award Contracts for 9 Highway Projects.

BY HAL FOUST.

Labor trouble yesterday threatened the success of Cook county's program to lay pavements within the city limits of Chicago. Notwithstanding this threat, the county board awarded contracts to low bidders on nine projects for 12.5 miles of pavement, two of the jobs within the city.

Thomas Sullivan, secretary and treasurer of a teamsters and chauffeurs' union, appeared before the commissioners, protesting against the award of a contract for paving 95th street from Cottage Grove to Yates avenue to the States Improvement company. This company has not been doing work for the city, but has done work for the county. Its bid of $77,448 was the lowest of nine submitted.

Hires Workers from County.

"This company hires union labor on the scale for Cook county outside of Chicago," Sullivan said. "The men of the county union can't come into Chicago on a $7.50 a day basis when the city union gets $10 a day."

"The estimates for county jobs are made on a union labor basis," said President Cermak of the county board, "and this company may want to hire men from your union. Couldn't you do that?"

"My union hasn't any contract with this company and we can't furnish labor to it," Sullivan declared. "It isn't one of the companies my union has been doing business with in the city."

Says It Means Strike.

"According to law," said Cermak, "we must let the contract to the lowest responsible bidder. If it's a county contractor for a city job, does that mean a strike here?"

"Yes," was the answer. "Out of fairness to you gentlemen, we are giving you due notice. We don't wish to embarrass you later on."

Charges were made in court in a taxpayer's suit a couple of years ago that the paving of Chicago streets was restricted to a contractor's ring, that outsiders were prohibited from bidding for the work. Yesterday, reports in the county building said the city administration is not assisting the county in the use of gas tax funds on city streets.

Seven Other Contracts Let.

The board elected to award its contracts to the lowest bidder on each job. The second project within the city was for the paving of Gunnison street from Nagle to Mason avenue, .5 of a mile. The jobs outside of the city are as follows:

Gunnison street, Harlem to Nagle avenue, .6 mile.

Busse highway, Miner to Linderman road, 1.1 miles.

Oakton street, 3,000 feet east of River road to Rand road, .7 mile.

Twenty-sixth street, 1st avenue to Des Plaines avenue, .5 mile.

Keeler avenue, Rexford to Wireton road, 1 mile.

Ashland avenue, 115th to 119th street, .5 mile.

Southwest highway, Will county line to Wolf road, 1.1 miles.

These are the first contracts that Cook county has awarded on its 1930 program.

"SMOKER'S TASTE"

end it with GLYCO THYMOLINE

What an unclean mouth-taste to awaken with! All smokers have it! Some more... some less.

Just cleaning your teeth won't rid you of "Smoker's Taste". Try a quick mouth-rinse with GLYCO-Thymoline; that's the certain, pleasant way to mouth freshness. GLYCO-Thymoline is soothing, non-irritating and effective. Because it is an alkaline solution it helps restore normal taste to the mouth.

GLYCO-Thymoline is different. Do not confuse it with highly flavored mouth washes that merely replace one taste with another. Neither should you use harsh, stinging solutions upon the tender membranes and glands of your mouth. Do not irritate or attempt to spur them into action... they are sensitive in the morning... but let GLYCO-Thymoline help them function pleasantly, naturally, normally.

A GLYCO-Thymoline mouth rinse leaves a fresh, clean, delightful feeling. It penetrates between the teeth, washes out food particles that might ferment, and neutralizes harmful acids. Too, GLYCO-Thymoline deodorizes, not merely disguises, your breath.

For these reasons alone GLYCO-Thymoline earns a place in every bathroom cabinet. But GLYCO-Thymoline has other and equally important health uses. As a gargle it quickly relieves soreness... that dry, tickling feeling in the throat. It keeps the voice clear and normal... free from huskiness.

Physicians and Dentists have prescribed GLYCO-Thymoline for over 30 years. They will tell you your mouth wash should be ALKALINE! Use it daily when you brush your teeth—and any time "Unclean Taste" assails. At all Druggists. Kress & Owen Co., New York.

CANADA KEEPING 'JEALOUS EYE' ON POLAR TERRITORY

Dean Says Nation Claims Arctic Area.

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Canada will watch with a "jealous eye" anything resembling a design on the part of a foreign power to establish itself within the zone lying between her mainland and the north pole, P. E. Corbett, dean of the law school of McGill university, said today before the institute of politics.

Dean Corbett, who addressed the conference on "Problems of Sovereignty in the Arctic and Antarctic," stated that Canada claims all discovered land lying between her mainland and the north pole and will probably assert a claim to any land that may subsequently be discovered there.

The basis of the claim to existing lands is, generally speaking, he said, British discovery and such occupation as the particularly difficult conditions of the area permit.

Sees Moral Rights.

"Where occupation is not yet possible the Canadian claim is justified by principles of territorial proximity and possible strategic importance," he said. "These principles have never hardened into rules of international law, but they have been urged from time to time as moral and political, if not legal, grounds for the appropriation of unattached farm lands.

"At the present time, the main interest in the arctic is in its position as the possible future highway of inter-hemisphere air traffic. The shortest way between Great Britain and the western part of Canada is across these northern latitudes, and the same is true for the northwestern United States and northern Europe. Landing and refueling stations along the route will be a prime necessity and if such stations in our northern hinterland are to be within control of any one power that control ought to be Canadian."

Needs Aid of United States.

Dean Corbett stated that the question of internationalizing the polar regions may arise if expected development in aerial navigation takes place, but that the United States has hitherto displayed slight enthusiasm for such a project "and without her it would be foolish to think of any such régime in polar regions."

"In the meantime," he said in conclusion, "Canada, which has what may be regarded as a legitimate expectation of graduating within the next half century into the ranks of the first class powers, will be bound to pay careful attention to developments in the arctic, watching with a jealous eye anything resembling a design on the part of a foreign power to establish itself within a zone which we regard as belonging by right to us."

Tells of Airplane Lines.

The advent of the airplane has given new significance to polar territory and aroused interest of all great powers in areas to which they previously gave no attention, Edward P. Warner, editor of "Aviation" and former assistant secretary of the navy, told the institute.

A number of years probably will elapse before regular air routes can be organized across the arctic zone, he said, but the prospect is sufficiently real to have awakened the attention of great powers to areas to which they previously gave scant attention.

Mr. Warner mentioned Wrangel island, Spitzbergen, northern Greenland and Iceland as sites of possible future bases and said that where such areas are in doubtful legal status they deserve the "vigorous" prosecution of any valid national claims.

Dr. Laura Martin, geologist and geographer of Washington, D. C., discussing Stefansson's claims to Wrangel island on behalf of the British and his assertion that America was next in point of discovery and exploration, said "British claims were surrendered by the MacDonald government, American claims never were officially advanced, and the soviet union has now been in continual occupation for nearly seven years."

CHRYSLER TOWER, PEAK MADE BY MAN, OPENED TO PUBLIC

New York, Aug. 4.—The Chrysler tower today took its place with the Statue of Liberty, Chinatown, the aquarium, the Metropolitan museum, and the Bronx zoo, and looked down rather snootily on the last decade crown of its dethroned sister, the Woolworth tower. Undoubtedly its observation gallery is a swell spot for contemplation and probably marks the most remote point in town from a speakeasy.

The tallest man-made peak in the world was opened to the public this morning and more than a thousand visitors peered into the haze and dropped post cards with "x" marking the spot into Uncle Sam's most lofty mail box. The tower now is officially one of the seven wonders of New York and a spot that no summer tourist can overlook.

This afternoon, as the silver spire swayed an inch and a half in the brisk breeze 808 feet above the steaming sidewalks, a lot of self-conscious New Yorkers tried to look like out of town visitors as they cooled-off and absorbed the view.

The tower begins sixty-eight stories above the street level and surpasses the 792 foot elevation of the Woolworth building by sixteen feet. This afternoon a few stories below the observation post a man nonchalantly washed windows while the visitors looked down on toy trains on toy tracks and miniature steamboats plying in the rivers.

A visit to the tower costs 50 cents, and on a clear day one can see Sandy Hook, where the Transatlantic steamboats turn toward the bay, as well as the first peaks of the Catskills far up the Hudson river.

The Chrysler tower's fame is fleeting, however, as the Empire bank building will top it upon completion next year.

GUNMEN HOLD UP MERCHANT.

RUSH TROOPS AS 100,000 STRIKE IN NORTH OF FRANCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LILLE, France, Aug. 4.—Republican guards and national police have been rushed to northern France to reinforce the gendarmerie and local police against possible outbreaks by textile workers who are on strike. Squadrons of mounted guards are patroling the main streets of the factory towns, keeping every one moving.

More than 30,000 Belgians living in France are included among the 100,000 strikers affected by the walkout. It is estimated that 500 textile mills were closed today throughout the district, with a couple of hundred more operating at half time or less.

Red envoys acting with communist leaders are seeking to stir up trouble, and a number of them have been arrested. Foreigners are being sent across the frontier or imprisoned. More than 46,000 are on strike in Lille alone, and the streets are crowded with mobs aimlessly walking about.

Buried Under Five Tons of Sand; Workman Will Live

Buried under five tons of sand when a sewer tunnel collapsed at Ridge road and Central street, Evanston, late yesterday, John Rogodzinski, 45 years old, a laborer of 1029 Dewey avenue, Evanston, was rescued after 15 minutes' frantic shoveling by his fellow workers. Warned of the impending landslide by workmen on the street 25 feet above, four men below with Rogodzinski escaped. He missed footing and was trapped until dug out. Physicians at the Evanston hospital said he would recover.

THE ROOM might be warm. But surely her hostess' manner had grown decidedly cool. Why did something like this always happen? Why couldn't her friendships last?

Now she knows the answer to this question that had puzzled and distressed her for years. A new acquaintance—a woman doctor—talked with her frankly about "B. O.", the polite name for a condition people dislike even to mention—body odor. Pointed out how easily it could be overcome. . . She took the hint. Now she has many friends—is welcome in their homes. No more "B. O."—no more loneliness!

Hot weather warning

Heat . . . humidity . . . sticky perspiration—these are danger signals for "B.O." It is so easy to offend and not know it these oppressive mid-summer days. We quickly become used to an ever-present odor and don't notice it in ourselves. But others do instantly!

Why not play safe—make Lifebuoy your toilet soap? Like millions of other particular men and women you'll revel in its generous, creamy, antiseptic lather—so abundant even in hard water. Cools, refreshes, cleanses, purifies pores—removes all odor. Lifebuoy's pleasant, extra-clean scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you you're safe from offending.

DETROIT HOMER IN 12TH BEATS SOX, 7 TO 3

BROWN WISDOM WINS HANDICAP AT HAWTHORNE

12,000 Watch First Day's Racing.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Brown Wisdom, the old deceiver, didn't deceive anybody in the crowd of 12,000 at the opening of Hawthorne's summer racing season yesterday, and when the finish came at the end of a stubbornly fought battle in the Inaugural handicap he was leading the pack bytwo and a half lengths.

He had to run one of his most brilliant races to score in the $5,000 stake, for Stuyvesant Peabody's Martie Flynn also ran well, and only gave up to the furious drive of Brown Wisdom in the last 40 strides. He saved second money and was a neck in front of Club House at the end.

Track Escapes Rain.

Rains which had visited other parts of Chicago did not touch the Hawthorne sector, and the track was lightning fast throughout the afternoon. Weather conditions undoubtedly had some effect on the opening crowd, for 12,000 is just an average week day attendance at the west side course.

The crowd found Hawthorne spic and span and enlarged to such an extent that about twice as many persons can be comfortably handled this year than last. The spectators sweltered because of the heat and humidity, but milled around in holiday fashion where the mutuel tickets were sold and cashed.

While Brown Wisdom took down the big opening day purse, the real hero of the race was Club House, noted Kentucky sprinter, which was left at the post and wound up third. Heading into the lower bend Club House was last and beaten some 10 lengths. Then he began to run around his field and in midstretch, where Brown Wisdom made his move, Club House was coming with terrific speed. He was running faster than any of them.

Club House Moves Up Fast.

Flag Bearer had been leading, but Martie Flynn moved up on past him and then Brown Wisdom rushed right on past Martie Flynn. All this happened while Club House was far back. Then he ran past Silverdale, Golden Prince, Eskimo, and Morsel, and in the final strides passed Flag Bearer to get third money.

Eight went to the post in the Inaugural. Brown Wisdom ran the six furlongs in 1:11 4-5, which is not so fast, but there is a deep cushion on the Hawthorne course and the distance is not likely to be run much faster during the meeting. In the mutuels Brown Wisdom was the favorite and paid $6.50.

An eastern victory came in the Oak Park purse at a mile and seventy yards, when Walter J. Salmon's Annapolis, a son of Man o' War-Panoply, ridden by Jockey A. Richard, staged a fine run in the late stages and got up to beat the Reuter stable's Galahad by two lengths, with Uncommon Gold third.

Plungers Lose on Plucky Play.

The biggest plunge of the afternoon came on Plucky Play in this race. He flattered his backers when he took the lead at the clubhouse turn and continued to run out in front until the last turn was reached. Then the entire field closed in on him and soon after they hit the stretch Plucky Play had dropped back to last place, while Canaan, Galahad, and Equation began their fight for the lead.

A sixteenth out Annapolis went to the front and he was going away from there until the finish. He ran the mile and seventy yards in 1:42 1-5, within a second of the track record, made several years ago by Hopeless. Annapolis had only recently arrived from Canada and his victory was unexpected. He paid $26 in the mutuels.

The Hinsdale purse for 2 year olds also brought an upset in a victory by Doris Jean. Don Alvaro and Sunset were the heavily backed choices. Doris Jean races for Jake Lowenstein of Chicago and was at $16.06 in the betting. She came from behind Don Alvaro, but had him conquered nearly a furlong out and beat him a neck in the final drive. John Mill, which met early interference, took down third money.

One Punch Made a Starter Out of Jockey Morrisey

Harry Morrisey, the starter at Hawthorne, pointed up at the judges' stand during the progress of yesterday's opening racing program and remarked to a group of friends: "I was smacked on the jaw and knocked out of that place one time."

According to the Hawthorne starter it happened about 1899. Morrisey wasn't a starter in those days, but a jockey.

"I had ridden one of Ed Corrigan's horses and was beaten in the toughest race finish I ever lost. I ran up into the stand to tell Corrigan about it and to register a protest, for I thought the placing judges had given me the worst of it.

"I spoke my piece to Corrigan. He didn't even answer. Just took a wide swing and caught me square on the jaw with his open hand. I went tumbling down the steps and decided then that there must be some job around a race track a little better than that of a jockey."

WHEN HAWTHORNE LAUNCHED 18 DAY MEETING

Brown Wisdom gallops home with 2½ length advantage as he wins the $5,000 Inaugural handicap at Hawthorne. Martie Flynn was second, a neck ahead of Club House, which was left at the post. The track was fast and Brown Wisdom, the favorite, was timed in 1:11 4-5 for the six furlongs. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

MINORS GATHER TODAY TO FIGHT MAJORS' DRAFT

The long dispute between the major baseball leagues and the class AA circuits over the draft question promises to develop into open warfare today when club owners of the American association, Pacific coast, and International leagues assemble at the Stevens hotel.

The conference of the three AA class clubs originally was called to consider renewal of the minor league agreement, but that business has been subordinated by the recent demand of the majors that unless all minors submit to the draft all business relations between them would be severed on and after Dec. 1, 1930.

Since the majors' demand the International and Pacific coast circuits have voted to defy the draft and accept the challenge. At today's meeting the American association is expected to follow suit and join the movement to carry on as a "triple entente" without direct or indirect affiliation with the majors.

Stella Walsh Sets New Record in 100 Yard Dash

CORNWALL, Ont., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Stella Walsh, Cleveland, bettered all previous women's records for the 100 yard dash today when she ran the distance in 10 4-5 seconds. Miss Walsh's mark was established on Cornwall's new cinder track at the Canadian Legion field day games. The previous record of 11 seconds flat was set by Rosa Grosse O'Neill of Toronto and equaled last winter by Miss Walsh at Boston.

Why Improve Breed? Owners of Cup Yachts Don't Even Try

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 4.—The occasional races for that aged and mysterious chowder pot, the America's cup, next of which will take place in the waters off Newport, make no claim that they improve the breed or horse, man, dog or boat. The American side of the controversy will have spent about $4,000,000 on four boats, of which $3,000,000 is certain to be wasted, when the Lipton boat, if it ever comes the rest of the way across the Atlantic, and the American defender, go to the line for the first race.

Other expenses of the outing, such as spare spars, costing, I hear, $80,000 each, formal full dress sails, informal half dress sails and all manner of costly intimate lingeries which yachts require, wine, caviar, lobster, truffles and 16 gauge sea glasses the size of sawed-off shotguns, doubtless will amount to a million dollars more.

Caviar Different in East.

Perhaps I make too great an allowance for the caviar but then I don't suppose the members of the New York Yacht club ever eat that domestic bird-shot caviar which is derived from the vulgar Mississippi catfish, doubtless insisting on the Russian sort, as big as castor oil capsules and not unlike them to the bite.

And, anyway, when I was taking my freshman work in upper case finance at dear old Madison Square Garden, good old Prof. Rickard taught me that any one with more than a million dollars belonged to the aristocracy and that the most fabulous things to be said about them doubtless were even so.

So, if I estimate the caviar bill at $100,000 and if they, by small economies such as spreading it thin or not serving seconds, hold it down to $85,000, the general impression is accurate enough.

My point is that a lot of money will be spent uselessly defending this America's cup, which nobody ever sees except some committee of the New York Yacht club, charged with the duty of going down to the vaults once a year to make sure it's still there and that the millionaires who spend all this money, alone among the sporting people of this country, make no public pretense of serving any useful purpose by their extravagance.

Cites Case of Horse Racing.

The gentlemen who run the horse races always claim for their sport that it improves the breed of horses and also people, who, in their dull ignorance, inquire, "What's the matter with the horses just as they are?" There is always a Col. Bradley or a Joey Widener to explain that. Not an awful lot of things are wrong with horses in this country, they will say. Well, you might say, that is to be expected, because everybody has a car nowadays and the horse probably is going the way of the diplodocus.

But at this time Col. Bradley would insist that the government must have superior cavalry mounts for use in the next war, although in the last one the cavalry checked their horses and walked up because pets were not allowed during business hours. So the spending goes on and the breed improves by degrees imperceptible to the naked eye; but when a laundry man wants a horse he still buys a chunk at an auction for $40 and it spends ten hours a day at a form of toil that would bring Gallant Fox down with pneumonia and bow every tendon in him inside fifteen minutes.

The game of boxing or prize fighting under the patronage of the American peerage enjoyed a spell of elegance and prestige by reason of the plea that here was a form of sport which would develop the virtues of honor and chivalry among the impressionable young. And yet, when the aristocracy's own champion had acceded to the heavyweight championship and the social prerogatives which had been voted that office, along came Honest Abe Attell and the sinister Boo Boo Hoff, waving a legal document bearing the young man's signa-

Yankee Defeats 3 Other America's Cup Candidates

Mattapoisett, Mass., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Yankee, Boston's candidate for the defense of the America's cup, defeated three other aspirants for that honor in the 30 mile race from Newport here today. Enterprise was second, only 20 seconds behind the leader, with Whirlwind third.

Weetamoe, the Morgan-Nichols boat, lost Al Folstrom overboard and the time lost picking him out of the sea virtually eliminated Weetamoe from the race.

The four cup boats raced as a separate division, and another was made up of Resolute, the 1920 defender, and Vanitie, the unsuccessful candidate of that year. Vanitie led Resolute across the finish line by ten seconds, but the time allowance conceded to Resolute gave the old defender the victory by two minutes.

The four cup boats today attained their highest speed of their rather brief careers. During the first half of the race they averaged about 12 and a half knots.

CUBS DROP IN FOR 3 DAY VISIT WITH CARDINALS

Malone Picked to Start Winning Streak.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Chicago Cubs are in St. Louis today throbbing with the suspicion that, as a championship ball club, they are not so hot, though they are sweltering in the Missouri heat.

As they go against the Cardinals in the first of a three game series this afternoon they find themselves two and a half games behind the Brooklyn Robins, who so far have shown a persistent tendency to trim every club in the league except the Cubs. If the Cubs didn't have some strange power over the league leaders the pennant race would have been over by now.

Of course, our boys still think they will win the National league pennant during their impending stand against the eastern clubs who start coming to town Friday when Boston opens a series at Wrigley field. And Boston will be followed by Brooklyn, a series which will just about tell the story of 1930. The eastern invasion closes with the appearance of the Giants, who may write a few chapters themselves in this baseball romance of 1930

Malone Slated to Pitch.

There is no reason for waiting until they return home Friday to begin winning, the Cubs feel. Last night they expressed the hope they would be able to get their bearings during the brief stay on the banks of the Mississippi. Pat Malone probably will do the Cubs' pitching this afternoon.

The Cubs themselves aren't craving to study comparative statistics these days, but to the average fan there seems to be ominous significance to some of the figures.

A year ago today the Cubs were leading the Pirates, in second place, by a margin of 7½ games and were ahead of the Giants, in third place, by 12½ games. This morning they not only are 10 games worse off relative to the first and second ratings, but they also are only a game and a half ahead of the Giants.

This Year and Last.

A year ago today the Cubs had won 67 games while losing 31; today they have won 60 games while losing 42.

In the full season last year, Pittsburgh was the only club that could beat the Cubs. This year there are three clubs which have beaten the Cubs more than half their games. Here's the dope on that item:

1929—Cubs won 16 and lost 6 against Brooklyn.
1930—Cubs won 11 and lost 4 against Brooklyn.
1929—Cubs won 12 and lost 10 against New York.
1930—Cubs won 6 and lost 9 against New York.
1929—Cubs won 15 and lost 5 against St. Louis.
1930—Cubs won 7 and lost 8 against St. Louis.
1929—Cubs won 9 and lost 13 against Pittsburgh.
1930—Cubs won 8 and lost 7 against Pittsburgh.
1929—Cubs won 14 and lost 8 against Cincinnati.
1930—Cubs won 6 and lost 9 against Cincinnati.
1929—Cubs won 15 and lost 7 against Boston.
1930—Cubs won 10 and lost 4 against Boston.
1929—Cubs won 17 and lost 5 against Philadelphia.

Must Start Bearing Down.

It is apparent from the foregoing that the Cubs, even though they sweep the remaining seven games with St. Louis, will be three games behind their last year's showing against that club, and they cannot equal their last year's record against the Reds. To equal their 1929 ratio with the other clubs they must win five out of seven from Brooklyn; six out of seven from New York; one out of seven from Pittsburgh; five out of eight from Philadelphia, and five out of eight from Boston.

The foregoing reminders are, we dare say, a bit in the nature of ice water throwing. Unbiased soul though we are supposed to be, we, like all other good Chicagoans, are pulling for the Cubs to repeat. But it's getting time somebody told them they ought to start bearing down.

Old Swimmin' Hole Survives for Cherry Circle Tankers

The old swimmin' hole, which has ranked with apple pie and home made fish hooks for American boys of the last three generations, still survives, and on Michigan boulevard, at that. It boasts no grassy banks nor overhanging trees, but it's still the old swimmin' hole to a group of Chicago business men, doctors, and lawyers. All are members of the Chicago Athletic association, wherein the traditions of the splashing haven of yore are carried on, not only during the summer months, but throughout the year.

HARRY HAZELHURST.

They call themselves the Cherry Circle Tankers, these Chicagoans who find the pleasures of the old home town pool or quarry brought back in the tiled 60 foot tank of the club. The Tankers were organized by a small group of C. A. A. members, in January, 1912, and their membership has increased until now they have a total enrollment of 368. Each pays annual dues, which are used for prizes and monthly dinners.

Here's Why They Are.

The purpose of the Tankers is set forth in the following lines, found on the stationery of the organization:

"To establish a perpetual incentive to maintain a good standard of physical and aquatic ability. To promote recreation and competition among Cherry Circle Tankers. To promote mutual acquaintance and good fellowship. To popularize the bath department."

A few minutes with Harry Hazelhurst, swimming director of the C. A. A. for the last eleven years and the Tankers' most enthusiastic backer, convinces one that these objects have been more than attained. Many of the Tankers couldn't swim a lick before Mr. Hazelhurst took them in hand; others were indifferent about how or when they swam. These are now among the most consistent members of the Tankers.

A Tanker may drop into the club at midday any time during the year, take his plunge and lunch with fellow members at tables placed alongside the pool. Mr. Hazelhurst points out that sixteen doctors are among those competing for the trophies offered by the Tankers this year.

Compete for 19 Trophies.

It is this trophy idea which provides the Tankers with the competitive urge. This year they are competing for nineteen trophies. These include a 3,000 point event, divided into five classes, with swimming at all distances, life saving, carrying a sand bag, picking up ten objects from the floor of the tank, swimming with clothes on, etc. Other trophies are listed for the fastest 44 40 yard swims during the year; the greatest distance during the year with no daily limit; a blind bogey, for the fastest time in 40 100 yard breast stroke swims; the greatest distance during the year, using the back stroke only, and an attendance trophy.

Among the more prominent members of the Tankers is Dr. E. P. Swatek, who still holds the world's record for underwater swimming—320 feet in 1 minute 31 seconds—set at the Central Y. M. C. A. pool 25 years ago. Another Tanker, Dr. Charles E. Sceleth, couldn't swim at the beginning of last year, but he learned quickly and well enough to set a record of 143 miles, 1,360 yards to win the Black trophy, offered for the greatest annual distance using the breast stroke only. This year Dr. Sceleth offered a trophy to the Tanker who outdid his record. Now, with the year half over, his record is no more and his trophy has been won by Dr. Cassius C. Rogers, who already has swum more than 192 miles.

Dr. Rogers probably has the most interesting individual history of any of the Tankers. He learned to swim at the Hamilton club under the tutelage of Mr. Hazelhurst, who was director there at the time. As a boy in Minonk, Ill., he never had learned to navigate in water above his head. Later he came to the C. A. A. and

This Is Last Day to Enter Tribune Golf

Today is the last on which entries will be taken for THE TRIBUNE'S public links golf tournament, which has excited so much enthusiasm among players throughout the Chicago district.

Never before has competition been conducted along lines which make it possible for hundreds of golfers who play poorly to get as much fun out of their matches as experts do. All have an even chance, as duffers are sent up against duffers and skillful players against those of equal ability.

Appreciates Chance to Play.

Here is a letter from a man of 77 years who has found in THE TRIBUNE'S tournament a way to get the fun usually reserved for younger men:

"TRIBUNE Golf Editor:

"Tuesday's deadline has decided me to send in a card. I am convinced that you have a place in this tournament even for an old man who has taken up golf at an age when the average player settles down to just nine holes on an easy course.

"Four years ago, at the age of 73, I played my first game. Practically all of my golfing has been done at Columbus park, which is short and easy.

"Last year was my only good season and I played an average of a little better than 18 holes for every working day. I have been on the retired list for three years and golf has been my salvation.

"Thank you for making it possible for such an old fellow to compete in so interesting a tournament.

"JOHN MCINTYRE."

6 P. M. Is Deadline.

No matter what is the caliber of your game, there is a place for you also in this competition. Get one of your cards to THE TRIBUNE golf editor by 6 o'clock this evening and you will become a contestant.

You will be paired with an opponent whose score indicates that his ability is about equal to yours and you can then play your part of the match on any course you choose while your adversary is doing the same. Then both you and your opponent mail in your cards and they are compared by THE TRIBUNE golf editor to determine the winner.

The following week you will be matched against a different player and this will continue throughout the season. In the end prizes will be awarded those having the best records.

Third round results:

J. C. Rodgers, 3344 West 61st place, beat Arthur Feltz, 7216 Emerald avenue, 3 strokes.

Ralph Younker, 32 Lawndale avenue, Hammond, Ind., beat Frank Sonneborn, 3 strokes.

John Connery, 5219 Shubert avenue, beat I. H. Krohn, 4606 North Hermitage avenue, 2 strokes.

H. Lindemann beat T. L. Bowes, 6031 West Circle avenue, Norwood Park, 1 stroke.

E. C. Younker, 32 Lawndale avenue, Hammond, Ind., beat Milton Younker, Delton, Ill., 2 strokes.

Melvin Gimbel, 7830 Essex avenue, beat Paul Ginsberg, 2621 East 77th street, 2 strokes.

Paul DeBolt, 6959 Paxton avenue, beat Frank Cox, 7325 East End avenue, 2 strokes.

M. R. Hockberg, 5426 Harper avenue, beat O. S. Cummings, 6452 Kimbark avenue, 3 strokes.

William Kipp, 2935 Grace street, tied Clarence Dubsky, 2327 South Clinton avenue.

L. D. Curry, 448 East 80th street, beat John Milan, 2 strokes.

H. T. Scheuer, 7454 North Seeley avenue, beat Herbert Lilly, 1008 Oakwood avenue, Wilmette.

James O'Brien, 949 North Lockwood avenue, beat Jerry Harrington, 6958 Paxton avenue, 1 stroke.

Broken Wrist to Keep Marberry on Bench Two Weeks

Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Fred Marberry, pitcher for the Washington Senators, will be out of the game for at least two weeks on account of a broken bone in his right wrist. This became known today when physicians x-rayed his wrist, which he injured in sliding into third base in the fifth inning of the second game with New York Friday.

It was found that a small bone was broken. Physicians set the bone and placed the wrist in a cast.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 4.—Charley Gehringer was an insurmountable barrier today when Ted Lyons went forth in quest of his eighteenth triumph of the season. The Louisiana lad with the skilled arm made a brilliant bid, but Gehringer, after hitting one homer, came back with another in the twelfth when the bags were loaded and Lyons surrendered by 7 to 3. It gave the Tigers a sweep of the four game series with the White Sox.

The end came in the midst of a desperate effort by Lyons to escape from an apparently hopeless situation. Hayworth started what proved the last inning by driving a triple to right. Lyons decided to take a chance. He purposely walked both Uhle, a pinch hitter, and Johnson. It set the scene for a possible double play. But the twin killing never came. After Hayworth had been forced at the plate on Koenig's grounder, Gehringer shot his homer into the seats in right and the party broke up.

Hose Hitless Until Sixth.

Prior to the twelfth Lyons had experienced only one rough inning. This was when Gehringer hit his first home run with a mate on in the third. It was followed by another Tiger run in the fourth. Meanwhile, the Sox were weak against the throwing of Vic Sorrell. In five innings he didn't permit a hit or contribute a pass. But in the sixth the Chicagoans bunched the first two of their six safe wallops, driving in the runs which made overtime labor a necessity.

Thomas will face the St. Louis Browns at Comiskey park tomorrow. Coffman will be Bill Killefer's choice.

The Tigers' scoring got under way in the third when Sorrell doubled down the left field line. Lyons disposed of the next two batters, but didn't have the same luck with Gehringer. He smashed one between Watwood and the bag. Before Fothergill could capture the ball Gehringer had followed Sorrell around the circuit.

Theft Leads to Run.

One more Tiger planted his spikes on the plate in the fourth. Stone opened with a single and stole second on the first pitch. Funk bunted him to third. He scored on a hit by Akers. This provided the Tigers with a lead of 3 to 0, and in view of the manner in which Sorrell was knocking down the Sox hitters the advantage looked sufficient. It wasn't, however, as the Chicagoans proved in the sixth.

The honor of being the first man to hit Sorrell fell to Lyons. He singled to right with one out in the sixth. Sorrell then walked Mulleavy and Watwood to load the bases. Reynolds bounced gently to short and Koenig obliged by fumbling. This let Lyons score. The bases remained filled. Jolley rammed a hit through short, scoring Mulleavy and Watwood with the tying runs. The rally ended abruptly because Fothergill grounded into a double play.

Rule Deprives Sox of Run.

A league rule prevented the Sox from scoring in the eighth. Watwood lined to right. The ball took a high bounce and slid off Johnson's glove. It then cleared the fence in front of the bleacher. Watwood made the circuit, but was sent back to second because of the rule which says only two bases shall be allowed on hits bouncing out of the park after being touched by a fielder. Nobody could bring Watwood home.

MORRISON BEATS CRAM IN JUNIOR TENNIS TOURNEY

Delafield, Wis., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Donald Morrison, Washington, D. C., southpaw, outdrove Kendall Cram, Nashville, Tenn., the first seeded player in the western junior tennis championships here today, winning, 6-2, 6-2.

All other seeded players, including Joe Bill Brailey, Austin, Tex.; William Jacobs, Baltimore, national indoor junior champion; Charles Hunt, San Francisco, Cal., junior champion, and Jay Cohn, Santa Monica, California, national boy champion, went into the second round with straight set victories.

If experience counts, Fidel La Barba, California featherweight, will give Earl Mastro, 22 year old Chicago Italian, a trimming when they meet for the third time Thursday night at the Chicago Stadium.

Fifty-seven bouts in six years in which he has met battlers in the flyweight, bantamweight, and featherweight divisions, mark the colorful career of La Barba. Leaving the ring in 1927, La Barba, who is 24 years old, retired with the world's flyweight championship to study law at Stanford university.

Score Even in Two Bouts.

He resumed ring warfare in 1928, meeting Mastro for the first time when both were in the bantamweight class. La Barba won in ten rounds, but lost to Mastro six months later when they fought as featherweights.

The Mastro camp contends La Barba will need more than an advantage in experience. Turning professional in 1926 after a year in amateur ranks, Mastro fought for two years without a defeat. His first setback came in 1928, when he was pitted against Harry Dublinsky at Mills stadium. His only other defeat was by La Barba.

Mastro Admirers Expect K. O.

Mastro has scored 11 knockouts in his 48 fights. His admirers think that he can stop La Barba, especially since Bud Taylor sent the Californian down for a nine count recently.

"Mastro's in great shape. I expect him to enter the ring at 124 pounds, and I wouldn't be surprised if he wins by a knockout," said Manager Art Winch. "A victory Thursday night means a match with the featherweight titleholder, Bat Battalino."

won the Bornmann trophy for the greatest distance during a year's time, setting a record of 337 miles. In 1924 he established the C. A. A. tank record of 411 miles. Dr. Rogers says that his activities with the Tankers have reduced his weight from 200 to 175 pounds.

Dr. Rogers' Team Leads.

At present he's captain of the team which is leading the race for the Tankers' team trophy, offered for the first time this year. It is composed of twelve four man teams. A member of a team visits the pool, swims as long and far as is his pleasure, and then turns in his distance for the trip to Hazelhurst. This figure is then added to those of his teammates, and the quartet accumulating the greatest mileage between Jan. 15 and Dec. 31 will be awarded the trophy.

The record from Jan. 15 until July 22 showed Dr. Rogers' team, composed of himself, E. J. Birk, F. Y. Coffin and H. F. Detmer, in the lead with a total of 229 miles, 1,000 yards. The twelve teams had swum 655 miles, 880 yards. Of this amount, Dr. Rogers had contributed 185 miles, 920 yards, which figure was achieved by swimming the 60 foot tank 16,326 times. Since then he had added another seven miles. At this rate, Dr. Rogers has swum the Panama canal four times, the English channel nine times, is more than one-half way up Lake Michigan, and has gone about one-twelfth of the route down the Mississippi. If there were a waterway straight to Springfield, he'd be just about due to bob up around the statehouse steps.

Illinois Denies Potsy Clark Will Join Coaching Staff

Campaign, Ill., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—George [Potsy] Clark, director and football coach at Butler, is a warm favorite at the University of Illinois, but the athletic association offices stated today that he had not been engaged as an assistant coach, so far as any one here knew. Director Huff is in Europe and Coach Zuppke in Colorado. Clark, considered the greatest quarter back in Illinois history, was formerly an assistant to Zuppke.

Dave Barry Takes Count and $10 Fine

Dave Barry, referee of the Dempsey-Tunney bout, was fined $10 and costs yesterday by Justice of the Peace Percy Harms of Niles Center, who assessed the charges after Barry attempted to swing on a policeman earlier in the day. The referee and the policeman, Robert Bowman, each told their versions of the affair, which agreed on only one point—that Mr. Barry was the recipient of a heavy right in the region of the nose and chin.

According to Policeman Bowman, who was touring the Niles Center roads with his partner, William Srom, he came upon a parked car on a lonely lane. Therein was Barry and a woman he identified as his sister-in-law, Mrs. Gertrude Barry of [illegible] York. The policemen asked some questions but Barry wouldn't answer, and the four went to the station. There Barry showed some reluctance at leaving his car, the police said, and without warning let drive a right which missed. Bowman retaliated with a right which didn't miss, and Barry went to a cell in a coma.

The referee's version differed slightly. He was a peaceable citizen who wouldn't talk "with a fresh cop," and the latter took him to the station where "for nothing" he was beaten up. A technical charge of drunkenness was placed against him before the magistrate.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

PRIMO CARNERA.

PRIMO CARNERA, Italian mastodonic pugilist, has been granted a six months' extension of his stay in this country. That leaves him free to engage in ring activities until Dec. 31. If by that time he looms as a candidate for Schmeling's titular honors the stay, no doubt, will be further extended.

The Wake does not presume to say what actuated the immigration board of the labor department. Certainly Carnera is engaged in no particularly useful occupation, unless it be a useful occupation to garner American dollars to take back to Italy. But the decision has been rendered, so we have Carnera's presence and must consider him among the heavyweights.

Primo will be a box office attraction primarily because of his size. Having gathered the "sucker" money by a tour in which his opponents were mostly setups, he will be called upon to fight. His has been a wise, or perhaps cunning, campaign.

Public curiosity has been whetted to know whether this huge fellow actually is a fighter. With such great physical advantages he probably is. One can only guess at this stage whether his ability is of championship caliber. Big men usually have been slow. Carnera is fairly fast for his size. He is a prospect dangerous to other competitors.

The Wake does not think Carnera as champion would be a good thing for heavyweight pugilism. Any opponent facing him has to overcome too many disadvantages. Boxers of somewhere near even poundage are more interesting. Willard also had bulk in his favor. He had not the ring temperament, which Carnera evidently has. It is not Primo's fault, however, that he has weight and reach in his favor, so we accept him as he is. Our comment concerns only the effect on sport if he should rise to the top.

Undoubtedly Carnera's managerial staff would prefer several easy bouts and then a shot at Herr Schmeling's title next year. It will require some tall explaining to the public if he does not meet either Campolo, Stribling, or Sharkey in the meantime. We shall see what we shall see.

Recovering His Watch.

Dear Wake: Member of a north shore golf club was driving home and in spite of warnings against holdup men gave a "hitch moocher" a lift. Half way home the driver noticed his watch was gone. Reaching under the seat, he drew a revolver, poked it into the passenger's ribs and said, "Give me that watch." The man handed over a watch and chain and proceeded into the dusk. Arriving home he was about to relate the incident to his wife when she burst out with, "O, John, you left your watch on the bureau this morning. Did you miss it?"

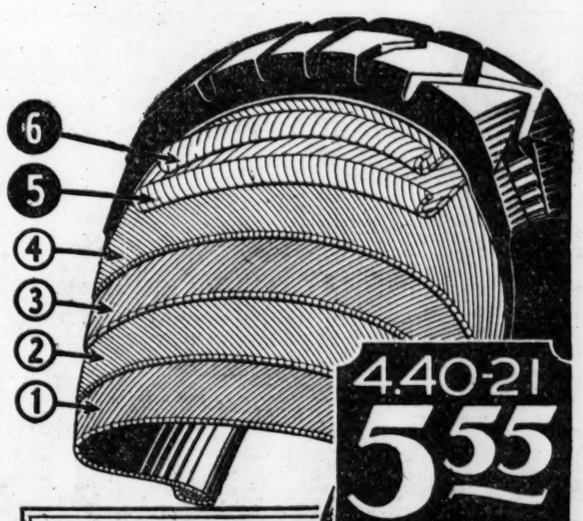
WHY WE JOINED with Firestone to give Lower Prices and Greater Values!

WE WANTED the advantages locally, that Firestone has nationally for reducing our costs and building volume business on small profits. We wanted the benefits of economies in the most efficient tire factories in the world because we know these extra values at low prices mean more customers for us.



A Department Store for Your Car

Our costs are absorbed by several different lines instead of one. We sell the complete Firestone line, including Tires—Tubes—Batteries—Brake Lining—Rims and Accessories. Instead of buying these items from several different places, we get them all from one place on one shipping order—one freight bill—one handling.

Our Costs Are Lower Your Savings Greater

Firestone leads in bringing down prices. Firestone leads in new tire improvements and builds more miles into tires than any other manufacturer. Every advantage Firestone has in world wide resources—buying rubber and cotton at the lowest prices—is put right back of us for the benefit of our customers. Result—you get more in quality for less in price.

Firestone Workers Are Stockholders

Every one of the 15,000 workers in the great Firestone Factories is a stockholder in the Company. They back the quality of their product with their savings. Every tire that leaves the Firestone Plants bears the name "FIRESTONE." This name is the pledge of the manufacturer and the worker that the tire you buy is the best you can obtain for the price you pay.

2 EXTRA PLIES UNDER THE TREAD

THE patented Double Cord Breaker provides for two extra plies of cord right under the tread. They take up road shocks and resist punctures and blowouts. In the Firestone Anchor Super Heavy Duty this means 8-plies under the tread. Extra strength right where wear comes.

GIANTS' THREE HOME RUNS CLIP ROBIN WINGS, 4-0

Allen, Lindstrom, Terry Hit for Circuit.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Aided by three home runs and perfect fielding support, Fred Fitzsimmons blanked the Robins today to give the Giants a 4 to 0 decision over the league leaders. The defeat cut the Robins' lead over the Cubs to two and one-half games and sent New York within four games of the top.

Allen, Lindstrom, and Terry cracked out the homers while Fitzsimmons was scattering Brooklyn's six hits over four innings.

MOON MULLINS—DOING AWAY WITH THE OVERHEAD

Why Improve Breed? Yacht Owners Don't

ture, calling him their pal and asking him in hurt tones if he wasn't going to make good for them as they had made good for him.

Snubbed, the Boys Retire.

Denied and snubbed, the boys retired to their haunts and took such consolation as they could from bitter reflections that they never should have reposed their trust in a paragon of sportsmanship and fair dealing.

Many a night, in Florids, have I seen the patrons straining their eyes in the half light trying to discern improvements in the breed of greyhounds as these leggedy canine imbeciles tore around the dogtracks chasing a trashy fraud, a mock rabbit made of plush and springs and stuffing which would not have deceived a lop eared alley dog. But the greyhounds grow more imbecile, if possible, and the plain fact is that if they ever did show any improvement the first sign would be a sophisticated boredom toward the mock rabbit, which would destroy their usefulness as racing dogs.

But these racing boats which have been mincing over the swells off Newport in the trials this summer are not intended to improve anything.

Never Tried to Improve.

The day of the sail passed long ago and even if the designers should prove that one form of hull, joined to a certain shape and expanse of sail, is faster in the bathtub seas which cup yachts sail on than another shape of hull mounting other sails, they would not claim to have advanced the science of ship building nor the craft of seafaring. They have made no such representation at any time. A lot of rich parties with nothing more special to do with their leisure millions are sailing a race because they want to and I have yet to read where one of them has said the navy will go to sea in individual sloops and win the next war on a time allowance, recorded by a board of professors of mathematics.

BRITISH POLOISTS LEAVE SATURDAY ON U. S. INVASION

New York, Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Official information as to the makeup of the British polo squad, its arrival and plans for its campaign in search of the international polo challenge cup was announced today by the United States Polo association.

There are no surprises in the membership of the players who form the squad.

The playing members of the squad, who sail Saturday aboard the Aquitania, are Capt. Charles H. Tremayne, Lewis Lacey, C. T. I. Roark, Richard George and Humphrey Guinness. Gerald Balding already is on his way. The Aquitania is due here Aug. 15.

FINDS SHARKEY WILLING TO MEET STRIBLING AGAIN

Boston, Mass., Aug. 4.—(AP)—William F. Carey, president of the Madison Square Garden corporation, said he discussed the possibility of a 15 round bout between Young Stribling and Jack Sharkey for New York in September here today with Johnny Buckley, manager of the Boston heavyweight.

Carey said Sharkey was willing to meet Stribling on a percentage basis. Buckley and Carey will renew their discussions in New York next week when Stribling is expected home from England.

GIANTS LOSE, 5-4.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Birmingham won the opening game from the American Giants here today by a 5 to 4 score.

CHICAGO STOCK TAPE MOVES IN SNAIL FASHION

Prices Point Upward in Light Trading.

Watchers of the illuminated Chicago Stock Exchange ticker tapes in the various brokerage offices along La Salle street witnessed a demonstration of slow motion as the local market encountered its lightest volume of trading for a full day session since August of 1928. The head of one house as he observed the snail-like progress of the tape remarked somewhat bitterly, "Now wouldn't that make a perfect still in life."

When the closing bell sounded there were but 65,400 shares dealt in. However, while trading was light, prices generally held firm. A slight flurry near the close boosted a few prices somewhat. Auburn at 124½ was up 2½ points. Potter & Co., manufacturers of electrical equipment, took a gain of 4¾ to close at 16¾.

In the automotive division Bendix and Borg-Warner gained ¾ and ¼ respectively, while Cord was stationary at 8.

Radios Improve.

Radios witnessed some slight gains. Wextark and CeCo each were 1 point to the good and Zenith gained ½ point. Grigsby-Grunow advanced fractionally. During the day the Grigsby-Grunow company announced that its annual meeting, scheduled for yesterday, has been postponed until the return from Europe of B. J. Grigsby, chairman of the board. Mr. Grigsby, who has been in London organizing an English company for the sale of Majestic radios and electrical ice boxes, is due in New York on Aug. 20 and the postponed meeting likely will take place early in September.

Utilities were slightly irregular. Commonwealth Edison was off 2 points on limited trading. Middle West Utilities which produced the day's greatest volume was off fractionally. Cities Service was up ½ point and other changes were fractional.

Bastian Blessing in the general section was off ⅝ at 42⅜ on a turnover of 2,550 shares. Sangamon Electric gained 2½ points to close at 34½. Beatrice Creamery was off 1⅜ points and H. O. Stone dropped ½ point to 7.

Viking Pump Income.

The Viking Pump company, whose general office is at Cedar Falls, Ia., reported earnings for the six months ending June 30, 1930 of $199,718 after allowance for taxes and depreciation. This is equal to $1.54 a share on common stock after preferred dividends. The earnings are reported to be the highest in the history of the company. The current assets were reported as $749,468, with current liabilities of $119,724.

Few changes were noted in the investment trusts. Insull Utility made a fractional gain on moderate trading. Manhattan-Dearborn likewise was up fractionally. The other leaders in this division were stationary.

CHICAGO CURB EXCHANGE STOCKS

A quiet day on the Chicago curb yesterday closed with only narrow price changes recorded. The trend was toward higher levels in the majority of cases, but a general lack of trading interest, coupled with plentiful offerings at improved levels, held down any sustained advance. Insull common rights were up ⅛ at 1⅞.

Indian Refining.

Kindly give me a complete report on Indian Refining company. What are its possibilities?—T. F. N.

Indian Refining company was incorporated in 1904. It markets motor oil under the trade name "Havoline" and other refined petroleum products. Several years ago the company sold its producing properties to Ohio Oil company and later the property of Indian Pipe Line corporation, a subsidiary, was sold to Illinois Pipe Line company.

During the last five years the company has been spending money on additions and improvements to its refineries at Lawrenceville, Ill., and at the beginning of this year its properties were in first class condition and prepared to produce more than 20,000,000 gallons of lubricants per year. The company owns Govers' process of refining lubricants and its plant has been altered to make possible the production of oil by this process. By the Govers' process an increased output of lubricating oils is possible from the same quantity and quality of crude and the product is said to be of higher quality. Other plant changes have enabled the company to turn out 58 per cent of gasoline from crude, compared with about 22 per cent six years ago.

Indian Refining company's earnings have been irregular for several years and the report for the first quarter of 1930 showed that while sales had increased a small loss was incurred. Operations, however, were reported to have shown improvement in the second quarter.

For the year ended December 31, 1929, net sales were $19,787,987 and net income was $825,476, equal, after preferred dividends, to 60 cents per share on 1,257,647 no par common shares. Net income for 1928 was $651,892, equal to 59 cents per share on 885,520 shares [par $10]. Net income for the last half of 1929 only was $506,035, or 38 cents per share. Net loss in the quarter ended March 31, 1930, was $110,404.

As of Dec. 31, 1929, current assets were $6,235,151 and current liabilities were $3,951,309, leaving a net working capital of $2,283,842, which compares with $4,858,882 at the end of 1928.

The company recently issued $3,500,000 of 5½ per cent notes due December 1, 1932, the proceeds from which will be used to reimburse the company for capital expenditures and to retire current indebtedness.

No dividends have been reported on the common since 1926. This stock is speculative.

NEW ELECTRIC WELDING SEEN REVOLUTIONARY

Steel Merger Was Necessary: Bray.

Youngstown, O., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Youngstown Sheet and Tube company had to merge," Thomas J. Bray, director of the concern, testified today at the hearing of the injunction suit brought by the Cyrus S. Eaton interests to prevent a merger with the Bethlehem Steel company.

THOMAS J. BRAY.

His testimony supported that already given by James A. Campbell, veteran chairman of Sheet and Tube, and Eugene Grace, president of Bethlehem.

Bray, who formerly was president of the Republic Iron and Steel company, was called by the plaintiffs as the hearing entered its sixth week today.

He said there is no possibility of Sheet and Tube increasing its dividends in the near future because of changing conditions in the steel industry, which would involve, on the part of the local company, a great expenditure of money.

New Welding Method.

Chief among the changes, he added, is in pipe manufacture. Steel companies all over the country, he said, have been disturbed by the change from the old lap weld system to electric manufacture of pipe and the seamless tubing. Discussing the effect on business, he said that now is the advantageous time to merge, if there is to be any merger.

Common Pleas Judge David Jenkins propounded a question that he had asked nearly every other steel official who testified. He wanted Bray's opinion as to whether it would be feasible, on the item of depreciation to appraise the physical properties of both companies, ignoring accounting. Bray already had testified that he was largely influenced in voting for the merger by an audit of the Bethlehem books made by Price, Waterhouse & Co., in which the merger opponents claim a "grievous error" was made.

Seek Tax Cuts, Claim.

The witness said that outside of the magnitude of the task, an appraisal could be made, but he never heard of such a procedure in a large merger.

Asked about depreciation, Bray said that lately every company took as large a depreciation as it thought it could get away with, and thereby reduce its income taxes.

"Mr. Campbell was successful in this respect," he said, adding that he assumed Bethlehem had tried to do the same.

Withdraw $2,000,000 in Gold for Export to Canada

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Gold withdrawn for export today totaled $2,000,000 and consisted of two shipments of $1,000,000 each to Canada by the Irving Trust company and the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The daily gold statement of the New York Federal Reserve bank showed imports of $146,000 from Brazil.

Crop Expert Sees Benefit from Drought

A blessing in disguise for many American farmers and a stimulant to business in general are seen in the havoc wrought by the unprecedented drought throughout the wheat belt by Bernard W. Snow of Bartlett, Frazier & Co., dean of private crop experts and former assistant secretary of the United States department of agriculture. Nature, Mr. Snow said today, appears to be settling the farm relief problem where the federal government, with $500,000,000 at its command, has been unable to accomplish that result.

"The tremendous loss of the corn crop during July, a loss which is still continuing, is likely to prove a blessing in disguise," Mr. Snow declared. "The federal government has been trying to solve the problem of disposal of surplus farm production by stimulating exports, by increasing domestic use, and by lifting the surplus off the market. Latterly those in charge of the work, have been urging that farmers radically decrease the acreage under production.

Creates Demand.

"It now looks as if the losses in corn will accomplish the needed readjustment between supply and demand of all products, and, incidentally, emphasize the fact that acreage is not the only factor to be reckoned with in determining volume of crop production.

"The loss of a huge proportion of our corn crop from drought has created a heavy demand for the surplus of small grains which has been a weight upon the market. Corn is the foundation of feeding operations for the production of meats and largely for the making of dairy products. The prospective shortage in corn and the shift in price relationship have already turned manufacturers of feed products, and feeders as well, to the use of corn substitutes.

"Wheat, oats, rye, and barley, are being bought in heavy volume for feeding purposes and there is buying of futures in the products with the intention of accepting delivery as contracts mature. The loss of the hay crops and the destruction of pastures further force the substitution of small grains.

Substitutes for Corn.

"The farm feeding demand bids fair to absorb a large bulk of the burdensome old wheat carryover, and thereby accomplish what governmental farm relief has found it impossible to effect. It is likely to go even further than this and bring about a complete readjustment of the farm situation.

"Rye and barley for months have been almost unsalable in the cash market at any satisfactory price but now they are in insistent demand and together with oats and wheat will become substitutes for corn."

REPUBLIC STEEL ORDERS IN JULY EXCEED JUNE'S

Youngstown, O., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The fact that total orders received by the Republic Steel corporation in July were larger than in June is regarded by corporation officials as an indication of a turn in the steel market, said a statement made public here today.

The increase was not large, but it was pointed out that it was achieved despite the Fourth of July holiday and extensive curtailment of automobile output.

During the last few days of the month the company received orders for 110 miles of lap weld pipe, the statement said.

Both the lap weld and the electric weld mills of the corporation are booked for a considerable period ahead and large additional orders for electric weld pipe are pending.

JULY STOCK TRADING SMALL—YEAR'S TOTAL NEAR 1929 RECORD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 4.—Deposits in mutual savings banks of the United States showed a gain of $273,766,807 for the six months ended June 30, according to the National Association of Mutual Savings banks, and amounted to $9,145,891,859, the largest accumulation of small capital on record. The gain compares with a decrease of $82,710,075 in the last six months of 1929.

The mutual savings banks, it is stated, hold more than 30 per cent of all savings in the banks of the United States. If the ratio of increase shown by the mutual savings banks has also been experienced by national banks and state banks and trust companies, there has been a total gain in savings for the first half of the year of approximately $700,000,000, it was estimated.

The largest increase in savings deposits shown by banks in New York state where an expansion of $172,953,191 was shown between Jan. 1 and June 30. The average savings account in this state now amounts to $837.84. Massachusetts had the second largest increase, amounting to $49,239,371. The average per depositor in the state amounted to $693.25.

OTHER GRAINS UP ON STRENGTH IN CORN MART

Drought Continues to Cut Crop.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Bullish enthusiasm has spread from the corn to other grains and the whole list moved up yesterday in an impressive manner with speculative interest the largest in months.

Wheat for the first time in weeks showed more strength than corn, with large commission houses aggressive buyers on the belief that with such enormous damage reported from the corn belt due to scorching winds and drought that wheat was selling materially too low.

Wheat prices moved up 4@4½c; corn, 3@3⅝c; oats, 1⅞@2⅛c and rye, 4½@5¼c over Saturday's finish as the result of enlarged speculative buying with December and March corn selling at a new high on the crop. December corn touched 87⅝c, an advance of 21⅜c over the low which was made on July 8, and the upturn is one of the most sensational in the history of the grain trade. Corn finished 2⅝@2¾c higher with September, 89⅝@89¾c; December, 87¼@87½c and March, 91@91¼c.

Cannot Estimate Corn Crop.

How much damage has been done to the corn crop remains a mystery to the grain trade, but it is regarded as enormous. Statistician B. W. Snow of Bartlett, Frazier & Co. asked as to the probable yield said: "Private crop reports of last week no longer have any value as a definite statement of crop volume but can only be taken as indicative of losses which had occurred up to the middle of the last week in July. The week or ten days which has since elapsed has added tremendously to the loss."

"In a general way, heat and drought has prevailed since July 1," said Mr. Snow. "Records of past experience show that the yield of corn bears a direct ratio to the temperature and rainfall in July, and any departure from moderate temperatures and ample rainfall are immediately re-

Discusses New Trends in Nation's Transportation

BY SCRUTATOR.

It may be that most of us are so close to the scene that we do not realize there has been almost a revolution in transportation methods in the United States during the past ten years; nor that the tendencies of that decade seem to be intensified at present.

The railroads were and still are overwhelmingly the principal factor in transportation. Yet in many directions their influence is being attenuated if not destroyed. Inroads are being made by waterways, automobiles and buses on some of their once lucrative business to such an extent that their best executives, and these include some of the ablest business men of the country, are seeking alignments with other forms of transport.

Four stories that appeared practically at the same time recently may indicate how things are going. One was a statement of R. K. Stackhouse, general superintendent of stations and transfers for the Pennsylvania system, that less than carload shipments on Class I. roads had declined about 30 per cent in tonnage since 1920.

Ship Autos by Truck

A second was to the effect that the largest manufacturer of automobiles in the country plans to ship all completed cars from branch assembly plants to the purchaser by truck; a third dealt with the failure of rate cuts on export grain to halt the decline in grain prices last year.

The fourth was the announcement that the interstate commerce commission had approved the operation of a privately owned barge line from Cincinnati to New Orleans, with a capital of three million dollars.

Mr. Stackhouse pointed out that the less than carload freight on the big rail carriers in 1920 was only a little less than ninety million tons, while in 1928 this tonnage had dropped to a little more than sixty-three millions. The percentage loss to the rails was 29.7. There are now 3,379,000 trucks in the United States, as against 1,006,000 at the end of 1920. Since 1925 it is estimated that motor trucks have hauled live stock alone to principal markets that would have equaled 152,000 carloads by rail.

Drive Away Cars

A transportation report shows that the Ford assembly plant at Chicago, with a capacity of 110,000 cars a year, is using only five railway cars a day, while a year ago nearly all the output went to dealers by rail. The report is that the present drive away system, adopted as more economical than rail freight, will be replaced by trucking, four completed cars being hauled on one truck with trailer and being delivered without mileage on the speedometers.

A large share of the newsprint paper coming into Chicago arrives by lake ships, while a few years back the rails had it all. It is noteworthy that rate advances since ante bellum days have been largest in the manufacturing east and smallest in agricultural products. On the "traffic will bear it" theory this is wrong. The farmer couldn't move his farm and would have to ship by rail mainly even if serious increases were made. A great many manufacturers can move and have moved their plants to avoid paying rates they consider too high. The near revolutionary changes in transport have undoubtedly been forwarded by political efforts to give farmers low rates and to shift the burden to the sort of traffic that can be killed or which can be diverted to other forms of transportation.

PRODUCTION OF COAL CLIMBS DURING WEEK

Total production of soft coal during the week ended July 26 is estimated by the United States bureau of mines at 7,993,000 net tons. This is an increase of 71,000 tons over the preceding week and compares with 9,607,000 net tons in the corresponding week of 1929. Anthracite production during the same week amounted to 1,398,000 net tons. Compared with the previous week this shows a gain of 91,000 tons.

Hear Tire Sales Plans Involves Buying Fisk Co.

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Wall street reports today said that the announced plan of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and certain other retailers of gasoline and oil to enter the retail automobile tire business in connection with their service stations involved purchase of the Fisk Rubber company. The oil companies declined to enlarge upon the original statement that the tires to be sold were the product of a maker of standard advertised brands.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 4.—The stock market forged ahead today in dull trading. While the volume was almost as relatively small as last Saturday prices in the last hour climbed to new high ground for the current recovery. The hot weather undoubtedly helped to keep the sales down but at the same time it helped the prices for it aroused fears of crop damage and when commodities turn strong the rest of the market follows.

Stocks appeared to be hard to buy in the last hour and there were indications in spots that the shorts were suffering a bit in filling their wants. At the close prices were up one to four points and in some issues considerably higher. Sales were 1,201,810 shares.

Pool in Radio.

After the first half hour of trading which indicated a pretty weak start signs of support in the leaders began to appear. United States Steel common perked up, Radio and General Electric appeared with renewed vigor. This inspired issues in other quarters and the recovery was general. The pool in Radio succeeded in adding 2 points to that stock's price before the day was done and in the case of United States Steel the gain amounted to 3 points.

Diamond Match was all ablaze and led the specialties with a net advance of 12¼ points. It is reported its capital stock will be split 4 for 1. General Motors forged steadily ahead. So did United States Industrial alco-

The Big Banks

The big banks are big—not alone in their capitalization, deposits and total assets—they are big in their vision of civic opportunity—in their perspective of the expanding requirements of the kind of customers they are organized to serve.

This bank is big—not alone in its invested capital, distinctly sizeable in relation to loans of $50 to $5,000 which it makes—this bank is big in its sympathetic understanding of the financial problems which confront the citizen of character—though of lesser fortune—and in its painstaking efforts to provide a scientific borrowing plan within his range of desire and means.

This bank has established new and higher standards in treating with a commonly misunderstood and often a privately abused phase of economic necessity.

The community is proud of its big banks—doing big things bigger—the community is proud of this bank—doing SMALL things BIG.

Drought Continues to Reduce Crop.

flected in corresponding decreases in yields."

Local crop observers who are now touring the corn belt are finding irreparable damage to the corn crop over a wide area. Le Counts' message from Falls City, Neb., which state has heretofore sent only minor claims of damage, said the crop was deteriorating rapidly. Pollinization was very poor; a large percentage of the stalks had no ears; tassels had dried up, and the leaves were falling from the trees in the intense heat and continued drought.

Stunted by Heat.

R. O. Cromwell, the Lamson Bros. & Co. observer, covered parts of northern Indiana and Ohio Saturday and Sunday and wired from Mt. Sterling, O., that corn was stunted by the heat and dorught, and damage was irreparable. Some corn seen in Ohio would only make very poor fodder, and farmers were being forced to sell their livestock and poultry in parts of that state due to a lack of feed.

A few scattered showers were reported from parts of the corn belt during the day, but they were generally too light to be of benefit, and the forecast indicated generally fair weather except for showers in Illinois and Indiana, although lower temperatures were promised. There was some selling on the shower reports, but the offerings were quickly absorbed, and toward the last sellers of offers were forced to protect themselves.

More Interest in Wheat.

Wheat traders ignored everything of a bearish character, and an increase of 15,500,000 bu in the visible supply, making a gain of 30,003,000 bu in the last two weeks failed to have any effect. Prices were on the upgrade from the start and the finish was about the top with net gains of 3⅝@3¾c. September closed at 88⅞@89c and December at 94⅝@94½c. Winnipeg, however, showed strength and was up 3⅛@3¼c, while Buenos Aires gained 2½@3⅛c for the day.

As some traders see it, the world's wheat market is getting out of the rut in which it has been for numerous weeks. One of the leading New York grain men said: "We cannot lose 500,000,000 bu corn without affecting everything else."

Total visible supply of wheat is now 155,194,000 bu, against 137,387,000 bu a year ago, but is still 40,000,000 bu below the extreme which was reached during the week ending Nov. 2, 1929. Export demand was restricted by the holiday in the United Kingdom.

The oats market was a much broader affair with commission houses persistent buyers, and the close was 1⅞@2¼c higher with September, 39¼c, and December, 43⅛@43¼c. Hedgers and longs were the main sellers.

There was no pressure on rye and buying by shorts and commission houses lifted prices sharply with the close 4¼@5⅛c higher, September being 59¾c and December, 65c at the last, showing 10¼@10¾c above the recent low.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(AP)—An opening advance on covering by near month shorts in coffee futures was not fully maintained today owing to the rather irregular showing of Brazil. PIT NOTES

Trade expectations are that Liverpool will come materially higher on wheat, reflecting the advance here. It is said trade sentiment has changed in favor of buying on all good breaks, and expectations are that with a little more encouragement wheat and all grains, particularly corn, are to move higher. It is not considered good logic to expect wheat prices to decline, as they did last week, while corn advances. The buying fever is becoming more prevalent in all grains, and the point was made by close observers that there were more follow-up orders on the advance, particularly in wheat.

Chicago grain men who have covered Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and parts of Illinois the last few days, are convinced that the corn crop has been badly hurt and much of the area is past revival. They back their opinions by good buying of corn futures. Traders who have been fighting the advance and are short, have turned to the bull side. There is not as much help coming from the outside as the bull leaders would like, but they were more convinced of the soundness of their position than at any time since the prices started up despite the advance of 21c from recent low point.

May delivery grains were put on the board yesterday for the first time. There was a fair trade in wheat at 98⅞ to $1.02⅛, the close being at the top. May oats sold at 46¼ to 46⅝c with the close at the outside.

GOOD UPTURN IN COTTON

Cotton had a stronger undertone yesterday especially in the last hour. Active covering by shorts, credited to a leading professional, started prices up with an advance of 20 points. Although no decided relief from drought throughout the belt, news from the southwest was unfavorable, and the crop is entering the critical period with no signs of general breaking from the drought. Deterioration is said to have been on a large scale. One cotton report made the condition 66.4, which is considered a low figure.

Closing prices were around the top, with gains in Chicago 25 to 31 points and in other markets 19 to 28 points. Spots in New York advanced 25 points to 13.10c, New Orleans moved up 30 points to 12.70c; Galveston was 12.70c and Houston 12.65c. Liverpool market has been closed for two days and is open today. BUTTER AND EGGS

Butter futures advanced sharply on the Chicago mercantile exchange in the heaviest trading session of the year. A reaction set in at the close, however, and final figures were steady to ¼c higher than Friday. Over 6,000,000 lbs November butter was sold. Egg futures advanced ¾c.

Continuance of the hot wave in the production area over the week-end brought a higher opening in butter. The November delivery advanced to 40¾c, up ¾c, for a new summer peak, but later trended downward as a result of heavy selling pressure. Buying in expectation of a future rise aided in steadying the tone at the lower levels, but the strength was not sufficient to offset the selling at the close. The four principal storage markets noted a decrease of 40,000 pounds in the excess. Egg futures worked toward higher ground as a result of the hot weather. Sales were: Butter, 314 cars; eggs, 60 cars. Receipts: Butter, 10,798 tubs; eggs, 14,285 cases. Prices follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Arrivals of wheat at Chicago Monday were about one-third of what they were a week ago, showing to what extent the movement, especially from Illinois, has decreased. Mills and elevators continue to absorb the offerings readily, with the basis steady to ¼c higher. No. 1 red or hard winter brought ¾@1c under and No. 2 red or hard 1@1¼c under September, while No. 1 northern was ¾@1c under and No. 2 northern 1¼@2c under the future. Outside markets reported cash wheat in brisk demand.

While the country took advantage of the sharply higher prices for corn and sold 68,000 bu to arrive, there was also a betterment in the eastern demand, with sales of 175,000 bu. With the new crop in a precarious condition farmers who have old corn are not disposed to sell freely, and the bulk of the purchases are in small lots.

Cash corn basis was steady to ¼c higher, with No. 2 mixed, 1⅜@2c over, yellow 2@2¼c over, white 3½@4c over, No. 3 white 1½@1¾c over, yellow 2@2¼c over, and white 3@3½c over September.

Official receipts of grain at Chicago Monday: Wheat, 466 cars; corn, 109 cars; oats, 425 cars; rye, 8 cars; barley, 34 cars.

Every Investor Should Consider Bonds

Debenture bond prices have not advanced appreciably above the levels of 1929—the year of lowest prices since 1925. Present market conditions and low interest rates indicate a strong bond market in the near future accompanied by rising bond prices.

For safety and a good return we recommend Associated Gas and Electric Company Gold Debenture Bonds, due 1968—priced to yield over 5¼%.

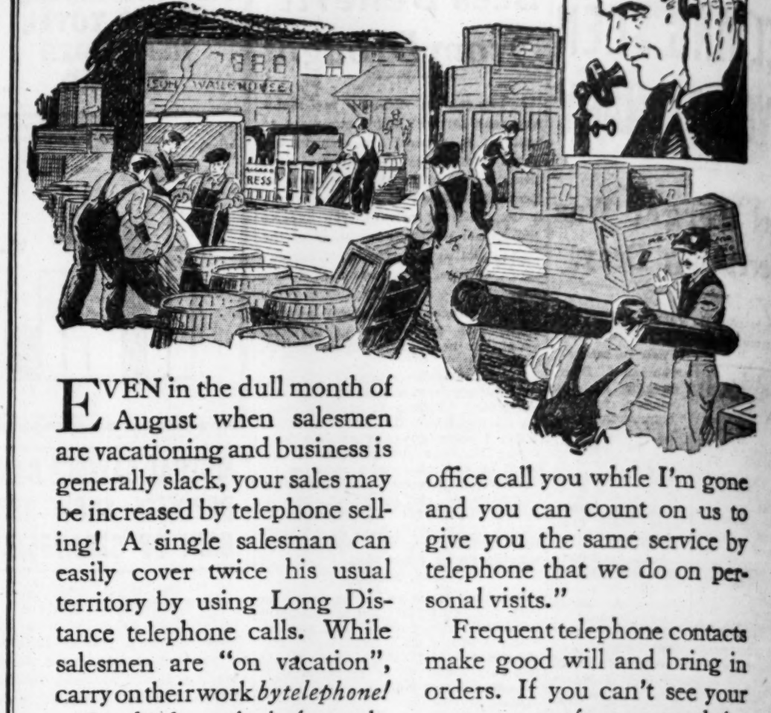
The pace of Business Quickens...



EVEN in the dull month of August when salesmen are vacationing and business is generally slack, your sales may be increased by telephone selling! A single salesman can easily cover twice his usual territory by using Long Distance telephone calls. While salesmen are "on vacation", carry on their work by telephone!

On the last trip before taking his vacation, have your salesman tell his customers, "I'm going on my vacation now, so I'll miss my regular visit next time. But I'll have my office call you while I'm gone and you can count on us to give you the same service by telephone that we do on personal visits."

Frequent telephone contacts make good will and bring in orders. If you can't see your customers often enough by traveling, use the Long Distance telephone to keep up your contacts between personal visits. Long Distance is Quick ... Clear ... Inexpensive.

STEVENS BUYS CORNER UNDER HOTEL LA SALLE

University of Chicago Is Seller.

BY AL CHASE.

JAMES W. STEVENS

James W. Stevens, chairman of the board of directors of the Hotel La Salle company yesterday purchased the corner parcel of the land under the Hotel La Salle from the University of Chicago for an undisclosed consideration. Mr. Stevens, who is chairman of the board of directors of the Stevens Hotel company and also of the Illinois Life Insurance company, then transferred title to the Chicago Title and Trust company, as trustee.

The purchase was made subject to a ninety-nine year lease made by the university to Mr. Stevens on May 1, 1903, calling for an annual rental of $24,000. In 1900 the rental was raised to $26,000 annually. The lease was assigned by Mr. Stevens some years to the Hotel La Salle company.

Bought for Investment.

The property just purchased by Mr. Stevens, which he states was secured as a personal investment, fronts eighty feet on Madison street and fifty-three feet on La Salle street. There are five other parcels under the hotel. The lot just north of yesterday's purchase, with forty-nine feet of La Salle street frontage, is owned by Mrs. Frances Bassett of California.

North of this parcel is a lot fronting seventy-six feet on La Salle and 121 feet on the alley just north of the hotel. This land is owned by the Hotel La Salle company.

Estates Own Three Parcels.

West of the corner parcel just purchased are three lots. The Jennings estate owns the 40½ feet of West Madison street frontage adjoining. Next is a twenty foot lot owned by the Lambert Tree estate and west of that is another twenty foot parcel owned by the John High Jr. estate.

Yesterday's purchase is an unusual one, owing to the fact that the University of Chicago is ordinarily not a seller of Chicago real estate. Neither the university officials nor Mr. Stevens would divulge what he paid for the La Salle-Madison corner.

Receipts at Chicago today: 5,000 cattle, 16,000 hogs, and 9,000 sheep.

Hog prices advanced 10@25c to the highest level since July 19, when receipts dropped below normal again yesterday. Arrivals at 30,000 were smallest of the year for Monday, and compared with 38,032 a week ago, which was also small for initial day of the week. A year ago Monday receipts totaled 44,856.

The extreme top advanced to $9.95, which compares with $9.50 the previous Monday. The general average price gained 15c at $8.85. Only two daily averages have been higher since July 11. In spite of meager supplies trading was not active and most buyers carried limited orders. Prevailing hog quotations are below any corresponding period since 1923, yesterday's average comparing with $10.90 in 1929 and with $10.90 in 1928. Three years ago hogs averaged $9.35 and four years ago $11.70.

Sales Volume Larger.

Continued small receipts of hogs on the cash trade has added zest to buying of hog futures. Volume of trade on the futures market yesterday equaled the largest since April 7. Only four days are credited with a larger number of sales since the futures market was established last March.

Thirteen carloads sold during the day. September light opened at $9.50, but finished at $9.60, four carloads going at the latter price. Quotations in all months were fully 15@25c above the close of last week, although buying centered on September contracts. Heavy grades for September opened at $9.20 on two loads and finished at $9.35 on three loads. Bidding for feeding lambs for August and September delivery held steady at $6.25@6.50.

A scattering of well finished beef steers held last week's gains on yesterday's trade, while others ruled weak to unevenly lower. Prime 1,421 lb steers topped the market at $11.00, while 965 lb yearlings sold up to $10.50, the bulk of beef steers going at $8.25@10.00. Some plain 1,000 lb steers sold downwards to $8.00 and a few common thin 800 pounders were bought as low as $5.50.

Cows and heifers were slow, but held mostly steady. Calves were scarce and unchanged. Stockers and feeders moved slowly again. Cattle receipts yesterday were larger than a week ago, but stood smaller than any corresponding day in several years.

Lambs Advance Again.

Additional advances in lamb prices carried good grades to the highest point since July 25 on yesterday's trade. Gains to 25c were general, with prices 50@75c above the middle of last week. Bulk of western range stock sold at $9.50@9.65, while ewe and wether natives brought $9.00@9.50, and buck lambs $8.00@8.50.

Aged sheep and yearlings were scarce and unchanged. The small supply of feeding lambs met only fair demand at steady prices.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 5,000 cattle, 16,000 hogs, and 9,000 sheep, against 4,061 cattle, 16,815 hogs, and 14,343 sheep, the previous Tuesday, and 6,787 cattle, 18,048 hogs, and 19,312 sheep a year ago.

A List of ATTRACTIVE VALUES

Doubtless you have decided, along with other shrewd investors, to take advantage of the present favorable situation to acquire good investments at prices considerably below their intrinsic worth. Now is a most excellent time to put available funds into well secured long term bonds and preferred stocks — with the purchasing power of the dollar higher than it has been at any time in the past fifteen years. Your request by mail or telephone will bring this carefully compiled list without obligation.

HEAT SMOTHERS STOCK TRADING, BUT AIDS PRICES

Market Firmer on News of Crop Damage.

hol, Bethlehem Steel, Case Threshing and New York Central.

Auto News Cheerful.

There were a lot of reasons for the cheerful sentiment noted in today's market. Over the week-end came news of the resumption of activities in the automobile trade at Detroit and the collapse of the proposed plan for the restriction of the sale of American cars in Europe. At the same time, national trade bureaus and statistical organizations issued optimistic reports.

The narrowness of the market was one of its features. Until noon approximately 50 per cent of the total trading was restricted to half a dozen issues. They were United States Steel, Warner Brothers, Radio, United Corporation, General Motors, and Vanadium.

Unlike most of the others, Warner Brothers had hard sledding most of the day. It sagged to a new low of 33¾ and finally ended the day with a recovery that left its net standing unchanged. Apparently, Warner Brothers stock is under liquidation. It was freely sold recently following rumors that the maintenance of its present dividend was in doubt. Certain of the directors were said to favor a cut.

Pressure Relaxes.

The pressure relaxed toward last week-end, but was renewed this afternoon. The dealing in Warner Brothers was large compared to most of the other issues.

A second advance in lead prices in less than a week was noted and indicated an improvement in the metal market. Nervousness over the rate situation appeared to have cleared away and the public utilities were stronger up and down the line. Attempts by professional traders to cripple the market's resistance in the early trading were about as feeble as any recent effort. It served only to demonstrate the strong technical position stocks now enjoy.

FINANCE COMPANY REPORTS GAIN IN SIX MO. PROFITS

That the business depression did not retard installment buying during the first six months of 1930 as was thought in some quarters is indicated in the semi-annual report of the Commercial Investment corporation, one of the large firms specializing in installment and other forms of industrial financing.

The company reports net profits for the first half of the year of $4,738,683, as compared with $4,042,116 for the corresponding period last year. The net income was the largest for any first half year period in the company's history. Bills and accounts purchased during the six months totaled $207,204,728, against $265,106,369 in the 1929 period and $129,865,493 during the first six months of 1928.

Commenting on the report President Henry Ittelson said: "The large part of the receivables which were outstanding at the beginning of the year have matured and have been paid, and most of those outstanding at June 30, 1930, were acquired during the preceding six months. While the ratio of charge offs for uncollectible receivables has been above normal, it has not been excessive."

JULY FAILURES ARE 3% MORE THAN IN JUNE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 4.—Although business failures were greater in number last month than in any previous July, according to reports to Bradstreet's today, the volume of liabilities was smaller than a year ago and the number was smaller than most previous months this year.

"Considering the fact that July was a record period for heat and weather," says Bradstreet's, "that industrial shutdowns were longer than in most previous years and that trade and industry were probably at their lowest ebb for the year past, the failure and liability totals contained some elements of promise of better things."

There were 1,930 failures for July, while liabilities were $72,212,746. July failures were 3 per cent more numerous than in June, but were below those in any one of the first five months of the year and the daily average was by a small fraction less than in any preceding month of 1930. Liabilities were 36.8 per cent less than in June and 31 per cent less than in July a year ago, but were 30.5 per cent above the ten year average.

For seven months failures numbered 14,482, 11 per cent above those of the like period a year ago, and averagainst 402 in 1929. Liabilities for seven months totaled $556,187,754, or 36.9 per cent above a year ago.

CHAIN STORE SALES

NEISNER BROS.

Reports July sales of $1,425,027 against $1,151,966 for the same month a year ago. For the first seven months of this year sales totaled $8,177,278, against $6,890,827 for the similar period last year.

EXCHANGE BUFFET.

Reports sales for July, new restaurants included, of $479,093, against $511,751 in the same 1929 month; for three months, $1,541,338, against $1,577,602 in the corresponding period last year.

EDISON BROS.

Reports sales for July of $271,863, compared with $251,586 for July, 1929, a gain of 8 per cent; for the first seven months of this year $2,538,804, against $2,003,149 for the corresponding period last year, an increase of 26.7 per cent.

Chicago Curb Exchange Stocks

Int. Salt Subscription.

Stockholders of the International Salt company subscribed for about 95 per cent of the 60,000 no-par capital shares to which they were offered rights at $36 a share, expiring July 21. The remaining 5 per cent of the new stock was taken by the underwriters, proceeds of the financing will be used to liquidate existing bank loans, thus effecting a saving in interest of about $100,000 a year.

Wayne Pump.

Rumors that Wayne Pump had made application for listing on the stock exchange have not helped to bring about any special activity in this issue. Wayne Pump at times is a favorite vehicle for pool operation, although these have not been overly successful of late. The company is the leading manufacturer of gasoline pump devices used by gasoline stations.

Aviation Pools Stand By.

A number of pools are standing by in aviation stocks which they are sponsoring. There is still a good deal of uncertainty regarding the industry, with the bearish element of the situation to be found in the fact that the majority of the manufacturing enterprises entered the current year with greatly inflated inventories. This condition has been slowly rectified in the last few months, however, judging by latest advice.

To 5% on Vacuum.

Recent selling of Vacuum Oil has resulted in sending that stock to a level where it is returning close to 5 per cent. This has had a tendency to attract investment buying. The corporation earned close to $7 a share for 1929, as compared with an annual dividend of $4. In a short time it is believed that the federal trade commission will make public its decision regarding the proposed consolidation of Vacuum and Standard of New York.

Survey Finds No Marked Increase in Building

A survey made by the Starrett Investing corporation, based on census figures and estimates, shows that, while Chicago's population has risen nearly 3 per cent annually since 1925, the volume of new building in the city has shown no marked increase over the 1925 figure. Arthur B. Walsh, vice president of the corporation, said that new construction here in 1925 approximated $450,000,000, while the value of building last year amounted to less than $350,000,000. The higher volumes attained in 1927 and 1928 were insufficient to offset the falling off in 1926 and 1929, he stated. The same trend is also apparent in the population and building figures of ten leading eastern cities, the survey showed.

LIKE DRAMA? TRY YOUR HAND ON THESE

Want Ads Can Supply Characters and the Plots for Stories

A little, one line want ad, appearing just once in print, may be, if the facts were known, worthy of a front page story. At least, a dramatist might uncover material enough for a powerful story of human joys and sorrows, hope and despair, tears and laughter.

You'll find it a fascinating pastime to read the want ads, column for column, every day in the week, for these odd bits of life which, coming to the surface of human feeling, find expression in cold type.

Look Over These

If you like to weave stories around bare circumstances, here are a few examples, taken from recent issues of the Tribune, which lend themselves easily to story making.

YOUNG MARRIED MAN, 2 years of college and 5 years as fireman and mechanic, desires position; will do anything. Call Bruns. 0000. Ask for Mr. Blank.

Just suppose you were this man! Prolonged unemployment has made him desperate. What did he do? Can you make over this want ad into a story?

Only Memories Remain

BARGAIN FOR CASH—TO settle estate; 8 flats and store, 0000 So. Racine; all rented; good income; no reasonable offer refused. Call Mansfield 0000. No brokers.

Gone! Feelings of loneliness and sorrow intensified by the disposal of his business. Memories! Those years of companionship, how pleasant they were! What would a lonely wife do to ease the pains of separation? What would you have her do?

I'm Sorry!

PEARL—I NEED YOU NOW more than ever. Please come. VINCENT.

This little notice plainly says: "I'm sorry!" And she may be looking in the Tribune daily, waiting to see that confession appear. Oh yes, she wants to come back home! Can you write a story about their troubles, and give them a happy ending?

A Prodigal Son?

NORM, PLEASE COME HOME or write. Worried. Everything will be O. K. Mother.

Can you write a story about the circumstances that drove this son away from his mother? Perhaps her boy is typical of other modern youths, determined to leave home because he feels no one appreciates him. He is going to make good in a big way, then they'll be sorry! Here is a nucleus for a real boy's story.

Short, Short Story

John's feet were tired and his temper frazzled. Three days of room hunting since he came to Chicago, and no luck. He had climbed miles of stairs and wasted hours of precious time, when he should have been getting a job. And then, a fellow in the restaurant suggested looking over the Tribune Want Ads. This was the easy way to hunt rooms!

While he drank his coffee and ate a roll, John checked over the rooms listed in that morning's Tribune. He found five rooms that sounded good, in just the section of the city he had decided upon. At the third place, John found the room he wanted, at a price he could afford.

Now he can spend his time running down the list of jobs he had made up from the Tribune Help Wanted Columns.

1880 WANT ADS THROW LIGHT ON DAYS OF OLD

Review Some Choice Specimens

The era of lavender and old lace, pug poodles and the family surrey, is vividly portrayed in the Tribune Want Ads of 1880. Grandfather's language was as stately as grandmother's ballroom bow, but human nature shines through to link the past with the present. Here are some choice want ad specimens of 1880:

Co-Educational!

This gentleman admits an "exception." Wonder what it was? INSTRUCTIONS—A COLLEgiate course for both sexes equal, and in one respect, superior to most others, is now open at 604 Madison Street, under Prof. Thos. Clark.

Bon Voyage!

A FAREWELL TO MY friends: Mrs. S. K. Schmidt and daughter are about to take a four months' tour in Europe. Friends who wish to see her before departure will call at the Brevoort House until the 9th inst.

Salaries—$2 to $4!

Viewed through modern eyes, wages in the good old days leave much to be asked for. What would you do with four dollars a week to spend?

WANTED—A YOUNG MAN LIVing with parents, who can come well recommended; salary, $4 per week. Also an errand boy, salary, $2. Apply in own handwriting to D-50, Tribune Office.

Quite possibly you could have had a few cents left at the end of each week to put in the bank if living costs were in proportion to the Windsor House rates.

CARE QUICKLY FORGOTTEN ON OPEN HIGHWAY

Many Ways to Enjoy Summer Now Within Easy Reach

Here's a sure cure for work-a-day worries and cares. Just hitch up the old gray mare, put on your old gray bonnet, and hit the pike to all out-doors!

There is something refreshing about broad, green fields, and a soothing coolness in breeze-swept trees. Tiny bubbling streams and wide, swift rivers simply carry away with them the last feelings of discomfort.

Take a Day in Open

Just try a day out in the open. Bring along your lunch, blanket roll, bathing suit and camera. Of course bring the children, too. Little bodies need much sunlight and fresh air. What a day! You'll want to go again and again, even when the frost first makes Nature drowsy. And you can go, as often as you like, if you own the means of travel to get you there!

What is your idea of comfortable, exhilarating travel? The feel of the wheel, and the speedometer mounting high? Or perhaps, the sway of a sloop, scudding before the wind? The gentle canter of a friendly horse? Or, do your spirits mount as the horizon drops away, and clouds play about the wings of your plane? Perhaps you prefer a swiftly moving motor-cycle or, if you value exercise and health, you may want to ride a modern bicycle.

A Few Samples

Simple, satisfying pleasures need not cost you more than you wish to pay for them. Good used cars, boats, motor-cycles, even airplanes, are available at prices everyone can afford. The Tribune Want Ad Section can help you find them quickly.

Here are a few examples, picked at random from recent issues of the Tribune:

AUTOMOBILES, FOR SALE

The Nine Hundred Block

BY KATHARINE HAVILAND TAYLOR

SYNOPSIS.

In the nine hundred block, with its deteriorated dwellings, moved gentle, lovely Theresa Ames and her mother, Mrs. Colt, under the watchful eye of Mrs. Baum, neighborhood gossip. Theresa makes friends with Katie Warner, who lives upstairs, and B. Jones, a reporter, also Johnny Deane, who left a home of wealth to make good for the girl to whom he regrets, since meeting Theresa, he is engaged. He has found employment washing automobiles. Theresa does typing at home to support herself and her mother, who has known better days. Mrs. Colt wants Theresa to marry Billy Treadway, a rich bachelor beau of her own girlhood.

Theresa's father, Arnold Ames, married again after Theresa's mother divorced him to marry Barrington Colt, who recently died. The father now has a belated desire to help his daughter, but his wife threatens to leave him if he does. He arranges with Harold Gale, a friend, to secretly give Theresa work. For Christmas he sends her a thousand dollar bond.

Johnny Deane had determined not to tell Theresa of his love for her until he had broken his engagement, but does not keep his vow. When he confesses Theresa felt he has deceived her and she will not forgive him. He breaks his engagement and the girl infuriated, sells his letters to a newspaper. Johnny returns to his father's home. Theresa tells her mother she will marry Billy Treadway and writes to her father, who asks Theresa to take a drive with him that evening.

INSTALLMENT XXVI.

INVESTING LOVE.

Elsie had assured Arnold Ames that she knew Theresa would be glad to . . . She saw another bond or another hundred dollar bill, the twin of that which had been pressed in Theresa's palm at the station.

"After all, dear," she reminded, as she leaned forward in her chair to reach toward a box of caramels, "he is your father and he wants a little time with you so much!"

"Of course I'll go," Theresa answered flatly. "Why not? He's been kind to me. What time did he say, mother?"

"He said eight and that, if that did not suit you, you could telephone him at his office to name the hour that did suit——"

"Eight will be all right——"

She lay down then to stare at a soiled moire ceiling. She heard Billy Treadway come in. "Mother!" she called, "give Mr. Treadway my answer. I don't feel well enough to get up——"

"It's yes, Billy," said Elsie Colt.

"My dear!" said Billy . . . (Agnes wouldn't like it) "I can hardly believe it. (Where would he put the willow platters?) "My dear!"

. . . . . .

Arnold Ames found Theresa tragically obdurate, riding with her that bleak, chill night, on the Lincoln highway, toward Gettysburg. "I have told Mr. Treadway I will marry him," she said in response to Arnold's fumbling inquiry into her affairs, "or rather I had mother tell him," she added honestly. And that told Arnold all he wished to know.

"It would be criminal!" he broke out harshly.

"Why?"

"Why—he's old—for you. He's a clacking male version of a hen who'd never stew tender. You'll spend your life listening to histories of his sinus attacks; you'll hear his old jokes—again and again. You'll never hold a child in your arms, Theresa . . . The Treadway blood has gone thin——"

He slipped an awkward arm around her shoulders——

He saw, turning, that that had hit her. He did not know that it was because the thought of marriage and married life now frightened her, who had told Johnny most simply one day that she wanted six children, three boys and three girls; a boy, a girl, a boy, a girl, a boy, a girl. Her ignorance, growing of reserve and of not wanting to talk about "such things" with other girls, had made her certain that sex was fixed by the buying of pink or blue-ribbon-decorated things in the "baby department."

Johnny, who had been deeply touched, but didn't want to show it, said he guessed they'd have to take the batch to the place where Eddie Foy had his family photographed; that studio, obviously making a specialty of extra large plates.

"When are you going to be married, Theresa?" Arnold Ames asked.

"O—not for quite a while," she answered with fluttering haste.

"Good," he thought. (More time for his work.)

"Do you love Mr. Treadway?" he probed on and now ironically.

"No," she answered violently, "and I thank God I don't."

"Um——" Arnold Ames murmured. He fumbled for her hand. He found it cold and tightly clasped. Holding it in one of his hands he patted it with his other hand. He felt her relax a little. "I'm beginning to love you," she whispered. He tried to cough away a tightening of throat.

"I want you to trust me," he said.

"Don't you always trust people you love?" she asked.

"No, not always," he answered slowly.

"I don't want children," she said, stepping back; "I don't want to be responsible for putting any one into this—dreadful world——"

"My dear child!" he remonstrated.

She moved until her cheek was against his stocky shoulder and here she cried in the weak way that tells of the shedding of many tears. Arnold Ames cried inside, which is a rather more uncomfortable method, but one favored by many adults.

"Why did you send young Deane packing?" Arnold asked and loudly. Sometimes much noise can be made to sound like courage.)

"I—I can't talk of it!" she stammered, sitting erect.

"Yes, you can and you will," he contested. (Cruelty is sometimes kind.) Theresa gulped and told the story. Her father listened without words. When she paused he said, "There's some catch in that—somewhere——"

"What do you mean?" she put in.

"I mean the story isn't quite as it sounds. I saw his face. He's a good boy. I know it. And I saw him look at you. He loves you."

She knew he didn't; she said so violently.

"Why are you marrying Treadway?" Arnold asked next.

"Mother wants it. I thought I might as well make some one happy."

"Child," said Arnold, "a woman who does not love him can give a man nothing but disappointment. You'll break his fussy old heart, marrying him, while, if you don't marry him, he can dream of you through all his life."

But she didn't believe that, and Arnold sat balked; gagged by the certainty of youth and the fact that second-hand experience is of no value.

"I am going to ask you one thing," he said slowly. "I have no right to ask—any favor of you, but I have never asked anything of you before, and perhaps that will help you to grant the favor I ask now. It is—that you will give me at least one week's notice of your marriage. I want to know of it at least a week before it happens."

"As soon as I decide—I'll let you know," she promised. And she heard, "Thank you——"

The air had grown keener from dampness and the clouds, which had been undecided about whether to donate snow or rain, decided that the soot-topped snow needed a new dress, to drop a flurry of white that touched the night with magic.

"Are you warm?" Arnold Ames asked.

"Quite, thank you."

But he tucked the robe closer around her. Riley, who had been told to drive to New Oxford, turned his head a little. "Go on," Arnold directed in a speaking tube.

"You can sleep late—tomorrow, can't you?" he asked. He longed to add "dear," but he didn't know how.

"Yes, and I love being out," she answered; "this is a lovely car——"

That hurt.

"I want to give you an allowance, Theresa; one that is quite adequate for your needs and for—your mother's."

"That's very kind of you," she murmured.

"You were a pretty baby," he said suddenly, "and—clever. You—you knew me. You'd sit in your crib and—bounce up and down—when I came—into—the room. Sometimes—when the nurse couldn't make you stop crying I could——"

"You can't now!" Theresa thought surely. Then for a little space she forgot that first person who, for the most part, dominates even unselfish youth.

"It's nice to be together again, isn't it?" she said—easily.

"Yes," he agreed, but harshly. He slipped an awkward arm around her shoulders. She leaned against him. "Comfortable?" he asked, voice breaking. Why couldn't Laura see that his love for her would be increased if he knew she couldn't Laura see that his love for her would be increased if he could love elsewhere too, normally, healthily, naturally? That love is increased by every decent investment in it? But Laura couldn't seem to see it. Couldn't. Poor Laura, growing more haggard every day . . . Sitting silent with the boy as he played; looking, with tragic eyes, her questions at her husband, suffering.

When they got in it was late and Arnold Ames followed Theresa into the hall. He stayed for some time and he didn't know what Laura would say and he couldn't care.

His daughter had kissed him good night.

GASOLINE ALLEY—NOW OR NEVER

$806,000 CASH TO BE PAID IN INHERITANCE AND ESTATE TAXES. WITH ONLY $300,000 IN CASH AVAILABLE THAT LEAVES A LARGE SUM TO BE REALIZED ON THE REAL ESTATE. DOES ANYBODY WANT TO TAKE A FLIER IN TROPICAL TIMBER? WALT IS WILLING TO SELL YOU A FEW SQUARE MILES.
WELL THINGS ARE NOT SO BAD OF COURSE WE'VE GOT TO RAISE $500,000 ON THE BRAZILIAN PROPERTY TO PAY THE INHERITANCE AND STATE TAXES. BUT MACROTH SAYS IT CAN BE DONE.
WELL THERE'S FIVE MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF IT IF YOU SELL ENOUGH FOR TAXES YOU MIGHT AS WELL SELL ENOUGH MORE TO LIVE ON FOR A WHILE TOO.
I WANT TO HAVE SOME MARGIN BECAUSE THERE WILL BE OTHER EXPENSES COMING UP. I THINK THAT WOULD BE ONLY FAIR.
I DON'T THINK IT'S RIGHT TO GIVE UP OUR TRAVEL AND THE COMFORTS AND MINOR LUXURIES WE HAD PLANNED ON JUST BECAUSE THE TAXES ARE SO HIGH.
YOU MUST SELL ENOUGH TO EDUCATE SKEEZIX AND CORKY AND GIVE THEM A BACKGROUND.
I SUPPOSE YOU ARE RIGHT. THERE IS A MAN ANXIOUS TO BUY— AND THAT'S THE TIME TO MAKE A DEAL.

Good morning!

Here's a wholesome number with considerable charm that should prove entertaining for both grownups and children. Especially, I think, will the latter enjoy it for the cast features a lot of youngsters who perform naturally and in a manner little folks should understand and like.

The story is about a poor young man who, dazed by the loveliness of a young orphanage asylum nurse, finds himself pledged to support one of the institution's wards for the sum of ten dollars a week.

What to do! Willie only makes twenty per, and he has a lot of places to use it. The only answer is that he must supplement his day work with night work. So he gets a job as waiter in a night club—never telling the girl he loves where he gets the money he is so generously giving to sweet charity. Mary believes him a rich and successful self-made man.

The plot is worked out neatly and sympathetically. You thoroughly approve of the cast and grow very fond of Eddie Quillan and Sally Starr before the picture ends.

"Night Work" is well directed, photographed, recorded, and staged. It provides quite a few chuckles, and is right there with the pathos in a couple of places. Just a good, clean family show.

KIND: Drama featuring secret service intrigues.

QUALITY: Good.

ACTING: Ditto.

DIRECTION: Able.

PHOTOGRAPHY: Oke.

SOUND: Good in spots. It's not always possible to distinguish what the players are saying.

STORY: A fairly interesting one. Most of the excitement occurs on Gibraltar, where a beautiful lady visiting the governor's wife is suspected of being a German spy. To tell more of the yarn might spoil the picture for you, so I won't.

REMARKS: Betty Compson never looked prettier and she has attained quite a grand manner. She plays the violin charmingly—once—during the picture's action. The piece has considerable suspense and will be regarded favorably by the average movie fan.

See you soon.

May Allison of the Movies Says She'll Be Housewife

May Allison is just a housewife now and will not return to the screen, she said yesterday. The former movie star arrived here with her husband, James Quirk, editor of Photoplay magazine, for a few days' visit. They are on the way to New York from California. Miss Allison, who has done no work for the movies in four years, said her husband and her home work were her principal interests, although she writes occasional magazine articles.

CHICAGO MOVIE MAN FINDS WAY TO GIVE DEPTH TO THE SCREEN

Los Angeles, Aug. 4.—(AP)—George J. Spoor, a pioneer in the motion picture industry, announced today he had perfected, after fourteen years of experimentation, a process by which the stereoscopic effect of natural vision is given to the screen.

The first public exhibition of the new film was announced for Sept. 15 at a theater here.

A camera with two lenses, both of which record impressions on film through a single aperture and new methods of development; projection and sound recording are features of the process.

The double exposure camera places its identical impressions on the film in "staggered" formation. This feature, Spoor said, gives the illusion of depth on the screen.

The new film will run through the projection machine at a speed at which the individual pictures will merge.

Sound registrations are made on the edge instead of the surface of the film. By Jan. 1, Spoor said, a process by which natural colors may be combined with depth by the new camera will be perfected.

Spoor was president of the old Essanay Film company in Chicago during pioneer motion picture days.

Vesuvian Village to Honor Pope as Mountain Climber

RESINA, Italy, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Pope Pius XI., when still Father Achille Ratti, made an arduous and somewhat hazardous ascent of Mount Vesuvius, starting from this mountainside township on New Year's eve of 1899 and returning to say mass in the village chapel here the following day.

Next September the proud citizens of Resina are going to unveil a plaque commemorating the event, and decree a public holiday for the commune to celebrate it.

Cardinal Ascalesi, archbishop of Naples, has agreed to preside at the unveiling ceremonies, which will be attended by most of the military, civil, and ecclesiastical authorities of the Vesuvian countryside. The pope himself has charged the prelate with imparting his apostolic benediction to all present.

Dean H. W. Mumford Back from Mexican Farm Study

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Dean H. W. Mumford of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, returned today from Mexico. There he had served during the last two weeks as a member of the commission appointed by the Mexican government to study agricultural schools and farm conditions of that country.

Little Duchess of York Soon to Be Mother

She's at Glamis, Home Town of Macbeth.

GLAMIS, Scotland, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The "little duchess" of York, daughter-in-law of King George, today spent her thirtieth birthday quietly at historic Glamis castle in the expectation that within 24 hours or a little longer she would present a new member to the British royal family.

It was in the heavy pile of stones, an oblong cluster of turrets grown into small towers guarding the noble tower in the center, that is, Glamis castle, where Shakespeare's Macbeth reputedly started on his bloody career. This indicates that Glamis was a feudal fortress as early as the eleventh century. This castle has been the lifelong home of the little duchess whom Queen Mary described as "not one of these modern girls, thank heaven."

The customary gay birthday celebration was absent. But down in the postoffice of the little gray village clustering at the castle gates the tide of joy ran high and messages of congratulation poured in from all over the world.

The duchess, "Oor Ain Leddy" as she is known locally, (our own lady) is greatly beloved in the district. There she spent her childhood. Though the folk around the castle realize that her popularity is national, they feel they have special rights where she is concerned.

Sir Henry Simson, one of the most famous obstetricians in England, is attending her. He will be joined tomorrow by Home Secretary J. R. Clynes, who must witness the royal birth according to English law.

The countess of Strathmore, mother of the duchess, received Sir Henry in the old Baronial hall. He has a room close to that of the patient.

King George V and Queen Mary today telephoned their greetings to the duchess over a special wire from the Isle of Wight where they had gone yachting.

Dorothy D. Goff of New Orleans Chosen Miss U. S.

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Miss New Orleans, Dorothy Dell Goff, a blonde, tonight was chosen Miss United States of America by judges at the Internationaf Pageant of Pulchritude. Tomorrow night she will contest with seven foreign contestants for the title of "Beauty Queen of the Universe."

Miss Goff, 17 years old, received the unanimous vote of the seven judges. She is five feet six inches tall and weighs 122 pounds. After winning the award from the other 32 United States entries she said she "felt wonderful."

Before the selection of "Miss United States" the young women paraded in evening gowns and bathing suits.

Previously they were luncheon guests at a seaside camp of Robert I. Cohen, Galveston capitalist. At the luncheon the beauties presented a colorful appearance in bright luncheon and afternoon frocks and beach pajamas.

Winona Bible Conference Set for Aug. 15 Through 24

During the conference at Winona Lake, Ind., Aug. 15 to 24, there will be three days with special features, Sunday, Aug. 17, the following Thursday, Aug. 21, and the last Sunday, Aug. 24. On the first day of those days Clinton N. Howard will speak on "The Glory of the American Constitution," with special reference to the 18th amendment. Thursday will be "Home Coming day," and Lionel Fletcher, an Australian evangelist, will tell "A True Detective Story." A lawn party will follow. On Sunday Dr. O. F. Bartholow will be the speaker of the Methodist church of Mount Vernon, New York, and will speak on "The Philosopher's Stone."

Beg Your Pardon

A Washington dispatch, printed in THE TRIBUNE on July 31 and dealing with census figures, did injustice to the growing cities in Iowa. The heading over the first column of figures in the table regarding population of various cities read, "Pop. 1930." It should have read "Pop. 1920." The error made it appear that the cities are much smaller than they really are. Adding the figures with the "gains" shown will give the present population.

In THE TRIBUNE yesterday it was stated that Arthur X. Elrod, former employé of Corporation Counsel Etelson's office, had been arrested in a raid on loop headquarters of the Moran-Aiello-Zuta syndicate. Elrod was not arrested. Checks seized in the raid, according to police reports, had been signed by Elrod.

STYLE PARADE GIVES LONG SKIRTS ANOTHER SEASON OF FASHION

It is practically all decided, as far as Chicago manufacturers of women's fall fashions are concerned, what will be the most proper and pleasing costume for milady to promenade along Boul Mich, to sport events, an afternoon tea, dinner, and the opera.

If the applause that greeted the mannequins of the Chicago Women's Apparel Manufacturers last night in the Gold room of the Congresa hotel is an indication, 1930 fall styles will be popular, for the buyers present were enthusiastic.

After 75 mannequins had paraded it was apparent that there are certain definite rules regarding women's styles. The skirts will be an inch or two longer for daytime wear, but for evening they will just clear the floor. Rarely are different materials combined unless with fur. Even hemlines predominate. Flares still are vogue, but so are pleats. There are ruffles and godets, but most gowns cling to the princess lines. There seems to be a passion for elbow sleeves in an afternoon dresa of a dark material, filled in to the wrist with a light georgette, sometimes beaded.

Belts still are popular near the natural waistline. There are suits galore, and black with white trim appears to be the outstanding color, with warm autumn brown, blue and green following in popularity.

Sport tweeds are colorful. One tweed jumper of a blue mixture was combined with a Holland blue guimpe. There were lavender and green tweeds, all with jackets and berets to match. Another material in street frocks was the travel tweed in silk or wool, a few with flared skirts and many with pleats.

One of the most outstanding new materials was wool lace used in an afternoon dress. The color was coffee brown with a touch of deep blue. The coats of tweed were in colors, rich brown, with a wide beaver collar, cuffs to the elbow, and beaver trim near the hem. Most coats were fitted at the waist. A lovely green tweed had a collar of fitch, and a blue tweed of badger. Invariably shoes and hat matched, or were the color of the contrasting fur.

One of the most attractive of the afternoon costumes was one of black velvet, with a tunic blouse reaching well below the knee, almost to the length of the velvet skirt. The jacket was lined with the same pale blue satin of the blouse. Black is especially predominant in the afternoon frocks.

For evening one passionate gown was of flamingo red in a Spanish lace material. The skirt was flared full, there was a bolero back and a ruby buckle. An embroidered chiffon of eggshell in a princess style had a ruffled skirt of plain eggshell chiffon. A robin's egg dinner gown studded with rhinestones was made with a bolero edged with a design of crystal beads. The skirt was shirred.

Mrs. Hoover to Use Spring Water for Ship's Christening

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A cooling splash of spring water, bestowed by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, will christen the Merchant Marine ship Excalibur tomorrow at Camden.

At exactly the turn of the tide, which chances to be at 11 a. m., Mrs. Hoover will break the bottle which will send Excalibur into the sea. She will leave Washington by train at 7 a. m.

The Excalibur is a passenger-cargo vessel of 8,000 gross tons and will ply between New York City and Alexandria, Egypt.

Its length is 450 feet, its width 61 feet 6 inches. It has a sea speed of 14 knots, enabling it to make the voyage to Egypt in 12 to 14 days. Its maximum passenger capacity is 150 persons.

As far as officials of the American Export line, owner of the Excalibur, have been able to ascertain, it is the first peace time merchant ship ever to have a President's wife as its sponsor. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, however, was said to have christened two merchant vessels used as transports for troops.

Mrs. Hoover's acceptance of the invitation to christen the Excalibur, namesake of King Arthur's mighty sword, was regarded as a gesture symbolizing the awakened national interest in American flag shipping.

Erin Awakens to New Life, Writer Says

Avers Greater Realism Marks Books, Stage.

BY HUGH CURRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Aug. 4.—The question has been asked whether the Irish Free States really is suffering intellectually from the stagnation which outside critics assume to be the necessary result of the rigid censorship of books and of films, both talkie and silent.

The fact is that something of a revoluton has occurred both in regard to literature, the drama and education in Ireland. The fullest development is still far off.

Two decades ago William Yeats, the famous Irish poet, held up his hands and wailed:

Romantic Ireland's dead and gone;
It's with O'Leary in the grave.

At the time Yeats probably had some cause for pessimism. Since then a new chapter of romance has been opened, but not romance of the Hollywood type. This country has done with the romance of Lever and Lover and Boucicault. Such romance was father and mother of the stage Irishman of thirty years ago.

The new Ireland definitely has said "Good-by to all that." There is a new realism that will not tolerate sloppiness and sentimentality, a realism that is essentially a return to the normal vision which characterized the older Irish literature and is shared by Bernard Shaw.

Thirty years of the best drama in Europe, and some of the best poetry in the world, are having their effect. New standards of taste are gradually coming into operation in the theaters and the bookshops. There is a growing appreciation of the literary values, an increasing tendency to object to anything which outrages objective fact or essential truth. For this the poets of the Irish Literary Renaissance, as it has been called, and the dramatists of the Abbey theater mainly are responsible. It is upon their work that the new standards are based. But behind the work of those poets and dramatists is the pioneering translations of those who went back to the old literature in the Irish language, those who made that literature available to a generation of English speakers in beautiful translations.

Such credit is due to Clarence Mangan, Samuel Ferguson, and Standish O'Grady of the middle 19th century, and then to Kuno Meyer, Eleanor Hull, George Sigerson, Douglas Hyde, and many another of our own day.

Of course, it were best to read the work of the many poets and novelists in their original volumes, but as it is not every one who has the interest who also has the time for such study there is to hand a magnificent series of anthologies.

Probably the most important of these are the volumes edited respectively by Padraic Colum and Lennox Robinson, "The Anthology of Irish Verse" and "The Golden Treasury of Irish Verse," but there also are available the comprehensive "Dublin Book of Irish Verses," edited by John Cooke, and "Irish Poetry," edited by Alfred Perceval Graves.

Dublin now has two theaters entirely given over to repertory work—the well known Abbey theater and the newer Gate theater studio. The Gate theater exists to give productions of the "best in the drama of the world," and it has staged plays by Tolstoy, Strindberg, Ibsen, Galsworthy, O'Neill, and many other master dramatists.

It was this theater that introduced Dublin a few months ago to the American melodrama, "Ten Nights in a Barroom," which was exceedingly popular, and the great production for the coming season is to be the first Irish production of Shaw's, "Back to Methuselah."

A STRAIN ON THE FAMILY TIE

To Praise Doesn't Mean to Gush or to Sentimentalize

You can have a well baby this summer if you know how to take care of it. Mrs. Bevans will send you the necessary information on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Here's a second after-thought on the praise and blame article of the Sunday just past. When we talk about praising the children we don't want to be misunderstood, especially by those people who belong to the "old school" of child rearing. So we'll explain.

By praising or approving we don't mean going around with a saccharine smile on our lips, saying, "Darling, how lovely!" and "What a good little girl mother has!" every time a child does something she should. By praising we don't mean sentimentalizing, or making a fuss over each "well-behaved" act of a child.

There is such a thing as discriminating praise, and that is what we mean. The little boy who helps willingly will not be praised by being told he's "good," but by being told what a great help he is. The little girl who clears up after her doll's party may be praised for the good job she's made and perhaps may be taken into a cosy discussion of what she'd like to have for her doll's birthday party.

Praise may take the form of encouraging and of appreciation—as "I like the even way those blocks are built up," or "You've washed your hands and wrists beautifully—and you even got the ink spot off—now be sure to go up above the elbows." Discriminating praise is not fussing or gushing—though sometimes you won't be able to resist tacking on a big hug and a "How nice you are!"

The main thing is that the feeling of approval shall be in the air of a child's home—not alone in the words of praise that are spoken but in the eyes, in the smile, and in the tones of the voice of those who hold a child's happiness and well being in the hollow of their hand.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Spilled Milk.

Recently, I was eating my lunch at a rather crowded table in a loop cafeteria. I was having some difficulty in removing the cap from my bottle of milk. Becoming somewhat impatient, I pressed vigorously on one side of the cap. The cap went in and out came a fountain of milk, showering two of my fellow diners. One of the men who couldn't see the humor in the accident, loudly poured abuse on the "bonehead and the asinine trick." I quickly fled to a table at the other end of the restaurant, amid snickers and tittering.

Mencken, Engaged, Recants Some Former Views About Marriage

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 4.—(AP)—H. L. Mencken, prospective benedict, after writing gibes at the tender passion for two decades, had but one comment today on the announcement of his engagement to Miss Sara Powell Haardt, writer for magazines.

"I formerly was not as wise as I am now," he said.

Mencken, editor and critic, said plans for the ceremony were "very indefinite."

On one point he is consistent. The man who wrote that "being married with all your friends about you is as private and discriminating as eating in the window of a restaurant," said his wedding will be very quiet.

"It will be very refined," he said with a laugh.

Papi's Arm Injured and Pelletier Conducts Opera

Even an indisposition of the regular conductor had no slackening effect upon the performance of "Andrea Chenier" at Ravinia last night. Gennaro Papi, who ordinarily presides over this work, reported himself out of the running with a temporarily crippled right arm, and Wilfrid Pelletier, whose directorial functions have been mostly back stage this season, stepped in and took the baton at short notice.

It is a pleasure to be able to state that the substitute conductor made good, carrying along the performance at an attractive pace and keeping the score vitalized and full of color.

The excellent singing cast was unchanged, and Elisabeth Rethberg, Ina Bourskaya, Giovanni Martinelli, Giuseppe Danise, and the rest of the long list of artists coöperated fully with Mr. Pelletier in making this performance fully as stirring as the former one.

2 Garden Clubs Planning for Yearly Displays

Members of the Lake Geneva and Barrington Garden clubs are meeting every morning and afternoon to complete plans for their respective flower shows this week. The Barrington show, which is always a perfect though comparatively small display of its kind, is to be held on Thursday and Friday at Oak Brae, Mrs. James MacMurray's residence on the Barrington turnpike.

The Lake Geneva club, one of the oldest in the vicinity, is to present its twenty-sixth annual midsummer show of flowers, fruits, vegetables, and dairy products on Friday and Saturday at Horticultural hall.

Mrs. Evan Evans is general chairman of the Barrington show, and the assisting committee includes Mrs. Edwin A. Seipp, Mrs. MacMurray, Mrs. Marvin E. Miner, Mrs. Robert Work, Mrs. George E. Van Hagen Jr., Mrs. Frank Johnson, treasurer of the club, and Mrs. R. R. Hammond, president.

The show is to have one new class this year—modernistic arrangements of flowers—and the amateur entries will be augmented by a commercial display of garden accessories, furniture, bird houses, plant containers, etc. There will be special classes for children including novelty arrangements and displays of flowers and plants grown by the youngsters in their own gardens.

Other interesting classes are mantel arrangements, hanging baskets, garden tea tables, and breakfast trays. The show will be open from 1 until 9 p. m. on Thursday and from 12 o'clock until 8 on Friday, daylight saving time. Luncheon will be served on both days.

As in former years, the proceeds of the Lake Geneva show will benefit Holiday home, where nearly 1,000 children are given a two weeks' outing each summer. The general committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edwin B. Frost, assisted by Mrs. Henry Bartholomay, includes Mrs. Walden W. Shaw, vegetables; Mrs. C. L. Hutchinson, wild flowers; Mrs. William F. Petersen, dairy products; Mrs. William N. Pelouze, cut flowers; Mrs. Simeon B. Chapin, flower arrangements; Mrs. A. K. Maxwell, table decoration; Mrs. Frank S. Porter, wall pockets; Mrs. Philip K. Wrigley, cakes; Mrs. Catharine Bartholomay Osborne, fruit.

The show will continue from 2 until 9 p. m. on Friday and from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. on Saturday.

The current issue of Vogue offers as its principal feature an article on "Problems in Decoration" by Mrs. John Alden Carpenter. An introductory note about the author says: "Mrs. Carpenter's flair for decorating has resulted in a distinct decorative style, which has aroused great interest all over the country. In addition to her own unique houses, she has done some very interesting clubs and shops. Her decorations for a New York beauty salon made a sensation last winter."

Illustrations accompanying the article include views of a bedroom, upstairs hall, and sitting room at the Carpenters' Vermont summer place, McNeils Ferry; the ballroom of the Casino, a corner of the Lewis shop here and a large photo of Mrs. Carpenter's drawing room in her Chicago residence. The latter is described as "a room built around a Rousseau, with pale, banana-yellow walls, lighter in tone than the yellow in the Rousseau painting that hangs against them. The curtains in this room are of cream antique taffeta, the carpet of old white velvet with a design of faded pink roses. Pale mustard-yellow satin covers the sofa under the painting, the small chairs placed near it have velvet seats in yet another tone of yellow, and the floor is very dark."

The Clarence Buckingham Mitchells, who have deserted Lake Forest for permanent residence in Santa Barbara, Cal., were in Chicago for a few days last week on their way west after a two months' sojourn abroad.

The new Sunset Saddle club, situated west of the Des Plaines river and north of North avenue, is to hold its first annual horse show on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, Sept. 13 and 14. The affair will be under the auspices of the American Legion, with Miss Mary C. Llewellyn as general chairman. The new tanbark ring will measure about 300 by 140 feet and 340 permanent boxes are being constructed around it. John R. Thompson's name has been added to the list of exhibitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Case of Hubbard Woods are to spend this month at Eagle River, Wis. They have purchased some property in that region, and are planning to have a camp built there for future summer use.

12,000 at Welsh Festival; Hundreds Are from U. S.

LLANELLY, Wales, Aug. 4.—(AP)—A crowd of 12,000 persons, including hundreds of Welsh-Americans, today attended the opening of the royal national Eisteddfod festival. Ald. Morgan Morgan, mayor of Llanelly, performed the opening ceremony.

To Wed Saturday

MISS CLARA L. PETERS.

The marriage of Miss Clara Louise Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Peters of 7544 Essex avenue, to Robert G. French of Oak Park will take place on Saturday, Aug. 16. The bride and groom will sail on the Bremen on Aug. 21 to spend a year studying abroad.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover returned today from a short stay in their camp on the Rapidan.

Secretary Mellon is back from a short stay with his son, Paul Mellon, in Pittsburgh.

Secretary Lamont spent the week-end in New York and returned this morning. He will join Mrs. Lamont in Lake Forest at the end of this week.

Mrs. William Fitch Kelley, who is remaining in her country home, the Knole, on the Rockville road, will have with her for a week her sister, Miss Martha McClure, national Republican committee woman from Iowa, who will arrive tomorrow to attend the meeting of the committee called by President Hoover.

Mrs. Charles Gillett, formerly of Chicago, was hostess to a small company at bridge this afternoon in her apartment in Wardman Park hotel where she is remaining through the summer.

Cool Waves Are Felt Less in Tenements

The heat wave may break today, but it is pretty certain that after a few days relief another torrid wave will come.

It is hot down in the tenement districts even on days when it is passably comfortable in other parts of Chicago. The stuffy rooms, much too small for families of eight or ten, can get no cool air and little cross-ventilation. What a boon it would be were those more fortunate to see that every tenement family had a vacation every summer.

It takes only $10 to send a mother or her child to Camp Algonquin, THE TRIBUNE'S camp up on the cool Fox river. The Chicago and North Western railway takes her free of charge to Algonquin, Ill. The camp trucks meet her, and drive her the two or three miles to the valley camp. And then a new world confronts her. Space and open and quiet. Places to read, or mend, or walk, or just think. Plenty of good food, a place for her baby in the nursery and for her older children in the boys' and girls' dormitories. Can you wonder that her face is brighter and her step lighter when she goes back to her back yard street?

Gifts that arrived yesterday for the camp follow:

G. H. Crandall	$10.00
Delta chapter, G. G. U. sorority	10.00

All gifts should be made payable to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE.

Buttons, Buttons, Paris Has the Buttons

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Paris has the button craze again. Buttons, armies of them, are attached to the mode for summer and for early fall. Some of the dressmakers prefer to maintain buttons purely for decorations and they arrange them is unusual formations on the dress and wrap. Others put their buttons to work, and make them attach something if it isn't anything more than the belt that marks the normal waistline.

Crystal buttons, and buttons made of the unbreakable prystal are preferred by Vionnet, who uses them to trim dark silk dresses and jackets for practical wear in town. Bone and leather buttons in bright and neutral colors are used by Schiaparelli to button up her sports skirts and jackets. Amber buttons are found on the clothes designed by many of the Paris couturiers, and cut steel and rhinestone ones are bringing together the jackets of satin and other dressy afternoon suits.

Jeanne Lanvin has a way with buttons that is most original and attractive. She is the lady who created the button embroidery that flourished several years ago and made the Paris mode famous. This summer she is using buttons in a new way, and combines the working button with the purely decorative one, as in the Lanvin ensemble shown in our sketch.

This ensemble has a one piece short sleeved dress of yellow linen with brown linen stripes encrusted around it from a high waistline to below the hipline. Over this is sewed a skirt that buttons for a short distance and then separates to show a bit of the stripes. The bolero jacket of this suit has its buttons divided on the right and left side. The two on the left side really button.

MARRIED AT U. OF CHICAGO

MRS. WILLIAM DAYTON MABIE.

Mrs. William Dayton Mabie is the former Miss Florence Buddig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Buddig of 700 East 82nd street. Her marriage took place last Wednesday in Bond chapel at the University of Chicago.

Sally Stirs Up Young Fans by Story About Cubs

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

The present champions of the National baseball league seemed to have slipped up a bit on Sunday. They permitted their opponents from Pittsburgh to pile up a score of 12 runs to their 8. The result is that our Cubs are now 2½ games removed from the lead and they'll have to use every trick in their bag to pass the Brooklyn Robins in this race for the 1930 pennant.

Won't it be exciting to watch them! I hope that by Aug. 14, when these leading teams meet on the diamond of Wrigley field, the north side boys will have accumulated a few more points and are ready again to give the Brooklyn players everything they have.

Our favorite, Hack Wilson, is certainly on the job, though, and is adding steadily to the number of home runs he has been responsible for. The disastrous game of Sunday was brighter for his having set a new record for himself in knocking his 35th. Blair, the second baseman, helped the cause along with a three bagger, and he also contributed a run.

Of course, there can't be a tremendous victory every day, but I have an idea that there will be one for our party on Thursday, Aug. 14, and perhaps we'll even witness a home run or two. Are you just as anxious for this game to arrive as I am? Well, prove it to me by writing a letter that will win you an invitation to this thrilling baseball party.

Remember, I want to take one hundred girls and boys to Wrigley field on Thursday afternoon, Aug. 14, and I shall take those who write the best letters. Have them reach me no later than Thursday morning and be sure that they include your name and address and age.

W.C.T.U. Leader Discusses Acting as Queen's Adviser

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Not only was the cable inquiry made by the Rockford, Ill., W. C. T. U. of Queen Mary of England as to whether the queen smoked cigarets "unnecessary, but it was impertinent," Mrs. Nelle G. Burger, president of the Missouri W. C. T. U., said today. "It was a silly thing to do," Mrs. Burger added. "The W. C. T. U. is not the guardian of Queen Mary or her conduct." Mrs. Burger, however, thinks the organization might rightfully be concerned if women in high political life in the United States were known to smoke cigarets, she said.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Philipp McKim Garrison and their daughter, Miss Lydia Garrison, are leaving today for a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson of Llewellyn Park, West Orange, at their summer home, Henderson house, near Cooperstown, N. Y.

The Princess Eric of Denmark, with her little daughter, Alexandria, the Countess of Rosemont, is at the Roosevelt hotel for a few days before going to Canada for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frederick Booth.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor of Santa Barbara, who had expected to sail for Europe last week, canceled their passage and are remaining at the Plaza for a few days longer.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Proctor Brady and Mrs. Walter W. Keith have left the Ambassador for their home in Baltimore.

Food Talk.

Salt improves the flavor of almost all foods. Some cooks think the addition of salt makes all food better. They even add a pinch of salt to their coffee and their apple sauce. "But how much shall I add?" is a question often asked.

Mrs. Betty H. S. writes: "Sometime won't you tell us about salting different foods? I never get enough. How much, for instance, for boiling potatoes, for breakfast food, etc? So often recipes say 'Salt to taste,' which means nothing!" The directions "Salt to taste" leave the amount entirely to the discretion of the cook. Not the experienced, but the inexperienced has difficulty in following such advice.

As a rule, there is an optimum amount of salt for each class of foods and this amount usually satisfies the average taste. To illustrate: All green vegetables such as string beans and cabbage require about the same amount of salt and the quantity used is based on the amount of cooking water. Naturally, the more water, the more salt. I find 1 to 1½ teaspoons salt to each quart of water give a flavor that is usually satisfactory. I would never use more.

For 1 quart of potatoes cooked in 3 cups of water use 1 teaspoon salt.

For ½ cup of rice cooked slowly in just enough cold water to cover use ¼ teaspoon salt.

For meats and fish from ½ to ¾ teaspoons to each pound.

For white sauce use ½ teaspoon salt to each cup of milk.

For cereals such as rolled oats or cream of wheat use ¼ teaspoon salt to 4 cups water and 1 cup uncooked cereal.

For cream pie fillings use ½ to ¾ teaspoon salt to each 1 1-3 cups milk.

In pie crust use ½ teaspoon salt to each cup of flour.

For biscuits use ¼ teaspoon salt to each cup of flour.

Of course, there are some individuals who crave salt and this amount would not satisfy. The only thing for them to do is to add salt at the table. If the craving is excessive I would advise a medical examination to find out the cause.

Nut Bread

2¼ cups family flour.
1 tablespoon baking powder.
1 cup chopped walnuts.
¾ teaspoon salt.
1 egg.

Sift flour, then measure. Mix flour with baking powder and resift twice. Add nuts and sugar and stir to mix well. Add milk to beaten egg and combine quickly with dry ingredients. Bake in a moderate oven [375° F.] one hour.

Too often the morning cup of coffee is a cause of worry rather than of pleasure.

That is often due to poor cooking, but much more often due to the fact that the coffee roaster saved you a few cents per pound by using coffees whose lack of flavor made them cheaper.

MESSMER TO BE BURIED AT FIRST HOME THURSDAY

Oldest Catholic Prelate in U. S. Dies Suddenly.

GOLDACH, Switzerland, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Monsignor Sebastian Messmer, Roman Catholic archbishop of Milwaukee, Wis., died early today in this little Swiss village where he was born nearly 84 years ago. Death was caused by a heart attack.

On Sunday morning he attended mass in the village church, and then lunched with his friends, with whom he has for many years spent the vacation season.

Soon after luncheon he retired, saying that he felt a digestive disturbance. At nightfall he was suddenly stricken and was dead when the village doctor arrived. Msgr. A. C. Breig of Milwaukee administered the last sacraments.

A solemn funeral will be held on Thursday morning. Representatives of the Swiss government, two Swiss bishops and many priests will be present, as well as a representative of the Vatican.

Oldest Prelate in U. S.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Archbishop Sebastian G. Messmer of Milwaukee, who died last night in Switzerland, was the oldest Roman Catholic prelate in America. For more than a year he had been ill. Twice doctors despaired of his life.

Archbishop Messmer, a picturesque figure in church circles because of his white beard and ruddy countenance, fell ill last fall of a bronchial ailment and finally went to Chincuba, La., for treatment at a convent. There his condition became so serious that extreme unction and the last rites were administered him. For weeks this archdiocese awaited news of his death, but finally he took a turn for the better and returned to Milwaukee this spring.

Once before that he had been seriously ill with heart trouble, a recurrent ailment. A native of Switzerland, he had become bishop of Green Bay, Wis., in 1892, and in 1903 became archbishop of Milwaukee, succeeding the Most Rev. E. C. Katzer.

Archbishop Messmer opposed prohibition as "an attempt to ram morality down the throats of the American people." He forbade priests in his archdiocese ever to speak on it, and refused the use of Catholic halls for prohibition speakers.

U. S. Radio Commission to Consider Bankruptcy Case

The federal radio commission announced at Washington yesterday that it would consider the matter of involuntary bankruptcy proceedings in Chicago against the Universal Wireless Communications company, Inc., in connection with its application for forty continental channels for a radio message service. Sam Howard, Chicago, has been named receiver for the company, a Buffalo, N. Y., concern which recently suspended operations when it became involved in patent suits brought by the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the Radio Corporation of America.

Julian N. Stupey, Pioneer Lake County Resident, Dies

Julian N. Stupey, pioneer resident of Lake county, died early yesterday at his home, 532 Grove avenue, Waukegan. He was 80 years old and was born in Port Clinton, now Highland Park. He lived in Lake county most of his life. Mr. Stupey is survived by his widow and two sons, Wayne T., and Maurice, both of Waukegan. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home in Waukegan.

WAGNER, SON OF NOTED MUSICIAN, DIES IN BAYREUTH

Devoted Life to His Father's Works.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BAYREUTH, Germany, Aug. 4.—Siegfried Wagner died at a hospital here this afternoon of heart failure at the age of 61, his last strength spent to make the Bayreuth festival an unforgettable tribute to the greatness of his father, Richard Wagner, the celebrated composer of operas.

Siegfried started life as an architect, but after his father's death in 1883 composed 12 operas of light vein. The fame of his father's work, however, made it hard for him to win recognition as a composer, and he consecrated his life to the rendition of his father's operas at Bayreuth.

Will Get Public Rites.

When the news of Siegfried's death became known in Bayreuth many buildings immediately exhibited signs of mourning for the passing of the last male descendant of the Wagner line. The municipality is to give Siegfried a public burial. No performances at the Festival theater will be canceled, however in respect to a dying wish of Siegfried's.

Siegfried inherited a passion for music not only from his celebrated father, but also from his mother, Cosima, who was the daughter of the Hungarian composer, Franz Liszt. Cosima, who before she married Richard Wagner in 1870 was the wife of Hans von Buelow, noted conductor, died a few months ago.

The success of the Bayreuth performances was largely due to Siegfried's efforts. He was a masterful conductor and also drew such masters of the baton as Toscanini and Muck to Bayreuth to act as guest conductors.

Visited America in 1925.

The war severely affected the finances of the Bayreuth performances, but due to Siegfried's tireless work to preserve his father's masterpieces, the performances have regained their fame. In 1925 Siegfried came to America and raised large amounts to secure continuance of the performances.

LINDBERGH BUYS NEW PLANE FOR HIS WIFE'S USE

New York, Aug. 4.—[Special.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has bought a Brunner-Winkle Bird biplane for Mrs. Lindbergh and expects to take delivery on the plane within a week.

A few days ago Col. Lindbergh tested the flying qualities of the Bird plane and expressed himself as pleased with its performance. For Mrs. Lindbergh the colonel sought a stable, conventional type airplane with qualities enabling it to land in and take off from small fields.

Mrs. Lindbergh started last year to take flying lessons, with her husband as instructor. With the delivery of her own plane, she will again start taking regular flying lessons and take her pilot's examination. It is probable that one of the first trips she will take with her husband in the new plane will be to the summer home of her parents at North Haven, Me. Charles A. Jr. is likely to have his first airplane ride on that trip.

UNVEIL 4 SHRINES TO 50,000 BRITISH "MISSING" IN WAR

PARIS, Aug. 4.—(AP)—On the 16th anniversary of Great Britain's declaration of war against Germany, four memorials were unveiled to the 50,000 men of the British forces whose fate was shrouded in the one word "missing."

With the dedication of these four new ones, there are eight shrines in France to the memory of those buried in the graves of the unknown.

Belgium "Remembers."

BRUSSELS, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Artillery salvoes and ringing of church bells throughout the country at 9:30 a. m. today marked the 16th anniversary of invasion of Belgian territory by the German armies. There was a nation-wide observance of one minute of silence, while many made pilgrimages to the Unknown Soldier's tomb.

BOY FALLS FROM BOAT; DROWNS.

Too Determined Chin Can Spoil a Gal's Pretty Face

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Every little face has a chin as well as a mouth to lipstick and cheeks to pat. Only chins, somehow, don't get much thought. In fact, we haven't thought so much about them, ourselves, but were reminded they had a place in the scheme of lovely woman by a remark dismissing a girl's elfin charm: "But for that chin she would be a knockout!"

It wasn't a double chin either, or even a second one in embryo that bothered. It was the stiff set of the jaw, which shot the chin forward in a highly aggressive manner. It was a fighting chin, and there may have been a great deal of character behind it, but the opinion was that the character could be clothed more agreeably with less chin force.

True, some chins you can't do anything about. Congenital defects are likely to cling a lifetime unless one's teeth of bony structure of the lower extremity of the face can be altered for the better by science. But there are acquired chin defects. The one to which attention is being called is the defect of squaring the jaws, tightening the mouth, and projecting the chin unnecessarily.

Certainly you do not change the bone structure—but a more symmetrical curving is had with the simple gesture of loosening the mouth and jaw tension. It is a tenseness altogether that precipitates the hard line and it is easy to remedy by a more relaxed state of nerves and a more relaxed philosophy about life in general.

Another beautiful chin destroyer is the careless habit of thrusting the chin when there is no tenseness of nerves left at all. This is just a manneism. The chin is thrust out and drawn back in again, somewhat like a turtle's head. This leads to a line formation in the soft tissue at the base of the chin.

There are long chins and short chins and broad chins and narrow, but since they usually fit the face quite well their shape does not matter so much. It's their "expression." It isn't necessary to emphasize one's speech with a down thrust, depressing the chin into the throat. It is not necessary to "set" it when you feel emphatic on a subject. The voice can carry all the conviction needed. Anyway, women fare better, pictorially and otherwise, if they don't make their strong convictions too apparent.

Doris Tells Wedlock Critic to Take a Look at Suburban Bliss

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am a young man, 29, and would not marry for the best of them. Several of my buddies married and are already regretting it.

"Just what does a man gain through marriage, today? I can't see that he gets a darned thing to make him better off than if he remains single. Nine out of ten men do not know what a home is, nor do they know what a good home cooked meal tastes like. If you don't believe me, believe the statistics on the increasing number of delicatessens.

"I have my own furnished room I can come home to, now. And furnished rooms, with none of the comforts of home as men dream 'em, are about what the average man draws with marriage.

GEORGE P."

You haven't been out in the suburbs lately, George P., or you might have seen that some men marry into homes, many of them with gardens where the gentleman of the house may putter around. You haven't tasted any of charming little Mrs. Suburbia's best cooking.

You want to get around more, George. You wouldn't talk that way about marriage if your observations were not confined to a few misfits, or unfortunates, or bad pickers, or whatever the fault of a union that sets it all up in furnished rooms and fares on neighborhood prepared foods.

Marriage goes on in spite of all the well known bomb throwing in its direction, and men go on raving about what fine wives they have, what swell cooks the latter are, and about Junior's latest racket. Even in town you'll find the bigger percentage living in pretty homey apartments where the cooking is done over the snappy white range in the colorfully chintzed kitchens, and the occupants put up a pretty convincing imitation of happiness, if you're not willing to admit it the real thing.

Here and there ans regrettably too often for the good name of marriage, you have your slackers and your disabled life planners, couples who have the furnished rooms and whose diet is anything but wholesome, and who "can't afford children," and all that! But if you take a view beyond your immediate acquaintanceship you can't help but believe that marriage is being practised on highly creditable lines in a good many blocks in a good many centers of this divorce ridden country of ours.

Finds Toltec Pyramids.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Eduardo Noguera, archaeologist arriving here from northern Vera Cruz, said traces of several ancient civilizations had been found in a newly discovered archaeological zone about 27 miles south of Tampico. The relics include several pyramids of Toltec and Mayan origins.

KEEP COOL With Kruschen

It's the acid and toxins in your blood that causes it to boil in hot weather.

You can keep free from acid and toxins and at the same time gain in vigor, ambition and keenness of mind by taking half a teaspoonful of Nature's Own Magic Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

Ask for Kruschen Salts—At any drug store in the World—Not just one salts, but a combination of six vitalizing and rejuvenating salts that Nature put into the Human body at the beginning of creation — And demands you keep there or good health will not be yours.

Kruschen Salts is what you need to keep your stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys in fine working order. A bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents and before the bottle is half gone you'll feel the spirit of youth within you—your bright eyes—your clear skin—your easy walk and great power of endurance will mean but one thing—Good Health—Life will be well worth living.

Patterns by Clotilde

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

Yellow and brown are effectively combined in a floral print in a sheer linen, while the collar repeats the brown shade in plain linen. A snugly fitted hip yoke emphasizes the soft, all around blousing of the bodice, and the skirt is circular. It is shaped to fit the hip yoke, gradually widening towards the hem.

The pattern, 2585, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4¼ yards of 39 inch material with ⅞ yard of 39 inch contrasting.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Asks for Suitcase.

"My children and I are going to camp for a ten day outing and I shall need a suitcase for the trip. Do you think you can get one for me through your column? I should like to get some ropers or overalls for my 3 year old girl and a sweater and low heeled shoes for myself. I wear size 20 and 8 AAA in shoes.

Mrs. A. W."

This will be a well earned holiday and I trust Mrs. A. W. will be able to take it in comfort. These things she asks for are to be found in many storerooms, I know. Won't you resurrect them for her?

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

Knowledge of poisonous plants harmful to stock is a handy asset to the farmer. In New York state alone there are at least 50 kinds of plants known to have poisonous properties, says W. C. Muenscher, professor in the New York state college of agriculture. Short pastures, late in summer often lead cattle to graze on these plants which ordinarily, he says, would be left alone by the animals.

The expert's findings are that the leaves of the wild black cherry, the pin cherry and the choke cherry under certain conditions are poisonous because the plants produce prussic acid in the wilted or stunted leaves and shoots. The poison is deadly and has such rapid action that animals are saved with difficulty even when the symptoms are recognized before the cattle die.

Brake fern or bracken, veterinarians have found, causes a disease among cows that formerly was a so-called undetermined sickness. The young uncoiled fronds of this fern often are cooked like asparagus and in that state are harmless. Pastures after a long drouth often contain nothing else green but these ferns, causing sick cows.

White snakeroot is sometimes planted as an ornamental and frequently is common in woodland pastures, says Prof. Muenscher. Suspicion was pointed at the plant for some time but only recently was it proven that the disease known as "trembles" was caused in cattle and a resultant milk sickness in human beings. The poisonous product in the snakeroot is trematol which is a kind of alcohol. It is soluble in fat and thus is transmitted through the milk from a diseased cow to human beings.

Field horsetail may poison horses fed hay containing large amounts of it. Field buttercups have been found to be poisonous when green but harmless in hay. Cockleburs often prove fatal to hogs on pasture. Cattle grazing early in the year may pull water parsnip roots from the ground when grazing on short pasture and these, if eaten, nearly always prove fatal, according to the professor. A small root can poison a cow and work so rapidly that treatment is useless after the effect is discovered. Ample pastures with a good stand of feed will prevent nearly all pasture poisoning, the expert has found in his studies.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Presents for Boy Friend.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have been going with a fellow for eleven months. His birthday comes ahead of mine which will be next month. He has given me several presents and, as I care for him, please tell me what is most proper for a gift on this occasion.

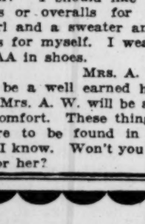
SWEETIE."

A wallet would be suitable. If he is fond of smoking let it be a pipe, cigarette case or lighter, or tobacco pouch.

this cereal TALKS!

It's so crisp it pops and crackles when you pour on milk or cream. And what a flavor! Crunchy rice grains—toasted golden brown.

Rice Krispies are fine for any meal. Give them to the children for supper. Easy to digest. Order a red-and-green package from your grocer. Try the recipes for macaroons, etc. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.



snap! crackle! pop!

ODORONO keeps the underarms dry and odorless

Odorono Regular (Ruby Colored)
Odorono Quick-Drying Mild (Colorless)

COUNT the cost—to yourself—of this social handicap... offensive underarm odor. It repels those you wish to attract!

The cost is high, too, in perspiration-spoiled gowns... in dry cleaning bills.

Save yourself embarrassment... and money, by using the ruby colored Odorono twice a week at night. It diverts perspiration... keeps the underarms always dry and odorless.

Or if in haste, use the colorless Quick-Drying Mild for one or two full days' protection. It's quick... use it any time—as you dress.
